GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Picks Up on Better Demand from Foreign Centers.

NEW CROP PRICES LOOK BULLISH

Corn Dull at Opening, but Grows Firmer with Advance in Wheat—Demand Slow, However, and Receipts Liberal.

OMAHA, June 29, 1909.

Foreign demand is picking up again and wheat values gained strength on better cables and renewed buying by longs.

With stocks much depleted and with millers buying all the new wheat offered, it looks as if the new crop prices were to continue high. New wheat is being contracted for at fancy prices.

Corn was dull and weakened slightly at first, but grew firmer with the advance in wheat. The demand is slow and receipts fairly liberal.

Wheat was strong on higher cables and good export sales. Buying easily advanced prices, causing shorts to cover. Demand is much improved and new wheat is bringing better prices than was expected.

Corn was inactive and held steady with the firmness in wheat. Offerings were fairly liberal early in the session. Weather conditions are of the best and reports show the growing crop making fast progress.

Primary wheat receipts were 236,000 bu. and shipments were 270,000 bu., against receipts last year of 265,000 bu. and shipments of 225,000 bu.

Corn receipts were 534,000 bu. and shipments were 641,000 bu., against receipts last year of 578,000 bu. and shipments of 351,000 bu.

Clearances were 3,000 bu. of corn, none of oats and wheat and flour equal to 31,000 bu.

Liverpool closed ¼@1¼d higher on wheat and unchanged on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Considerable Strength is Shown in Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 29.—An unexpectedly liberal decrease in the world's visible supply of wheat and bullish foreign news inspired considerable strength in the wheat market here today, final quotations showing net gains of 1@1⅛c to 1⅛@1⅝c. Corn and provisions also closed firm, but oats were easy.

The wheat market opened firm with prices up ⅛c to ¼c compared with yesterday's final figures, the initial strength being largely due to an unexpected advance of ¼ to ⅝ pence at Liverpool. The failure of the Liverpool market to respond to the slump of a cent or more here on the previous session was said to have been the result of unfavorable crop conditions in France, Germany and Hungary.

Crop conditions in this country, however, were again extremely favorable, the weather throughout the greater part of the winter wheat belt having become settled and the official forecast was for continued fair weather. During the first half hour there was quite general selling based on the favorable outlook for the new crop, which caused considerable weakness, particularly in the July delivery. For a time September was also weak, but toward midday a strong tone developed and prices started upward. A decrease of nearly 7,000,000 bushels in the world's available stocks was one of the chief reasons for the change in sentiment. Other factors that contributed to the upturn were lighter country acceptances, large sales of cash wheat to millers and an unconfirmed rumor of black rust in the wheat fields of Minnesota. The market closed strong with prices almost at the top.

Corn was weak early in the day, but became firm during the final hour of the session and closed at net gains of a shade to half cent compared with yesterday's final quotations.

Oats were weak all day. At the close prices were unchanged to ⅜c lower.

Provisions closed strong, with prices a shade lower to 22½c higher than yesterday's close.

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Fair Probably Wednesday, with Continuation of Warm.

OMAHA, June 29, 1909.

Light and scattered showers occurred within the last twenty-four hours in the extreme northwest, the central valleys, southern states and along the upper Atlantic coast. Generally fair weather prevails in all portions this morning, except light rains are falling in North Dakota and on the south Atlantic coast. The weather continues warm in all sections and temperatures are somewhat higher everywhere except in the lower lake region and western Canadian provinces, where they are slightly lower than on Monday morning. While the weather will continue somewhat unsettled in this vicinity this afternoon, the outlook is favorable for generally fair tonight and Wednesday and continued warm.

Record of temperature and precipitation compared with the corresponding day of the last three years:

	1909.	1908.	1907.	1906.
Minimum temperature	73	57	66	68
Precipitation	.00	.00	.06	T

Normal temperature for today, 76 degrees.

Deficiency in precipitation since March 1, .79 inch.

Excess corresponding period 1908, 2.08 inches.

Deficiency corresponding period in 1907, 6.48 inches.

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Fair Probably Wednesday, with Continuation of Warm.

OMAHA, June 29, 1909.

Light and scattered showers occurred within the last twenty-four hours in the extreme northwest, the central valleys, southern states and along the upper Atlantic coast. Generally fair weather prevails in all portions this morning, except light rains are falling in North Dakota and on the south Atlantic coast. The weather continues warm in all sections and temperatures are somewhat higher everywhere except in the lower lake region and western Canadian provinces, where they are slightly lower than on Monday morning. While the weather will continue somewhat unsettled in this vicinity this afternoon, the outlook is favorable for generally fair tonight and Wednesday and continued warm.

Record of temperature and precipitation compared with the corresponding day of the last three years:

	1909.	1908.	1907.	1906.
Minimum temperature	73	57	66	68
Precipitation	.00	.00	.06	T

Normal temperature for today, 76 degrees.

Deficiency in precipitation since March 1, .79 inch.

Excess corresponding period 1908, 2.08 inches.

Deficiency corresponding period in 1907, 6.48 inches.
