MANY YOUNG MEN find life in the navy attractive, with opportunity to save money and get practical training. The navy needs mechanics of all kinds; men experienced in clerical work, in hospital work as well as seamen. This nation is building a powerful and efficient navy, and an enlistment means a definite plan now and a definite future.
There is an incentive to get at the top in the naval service. Ambitious men have every encouragement to improve themselves. A man is assured of continuous employment at good pay, and advancement as he becomes more proficient.
The government prefers to train young men at its own expense, at naval training stations. The recruit is placed on the payroll the day he enters. Practical instruction, intended to fit the young man to go on board ship in a few months' time and do the work required of him.
The Navy department doesn't urge young men to enlist, but suggests that they investigate and decide for themselves whether the opportunities are worth considering.
Applicants accepted between 17 and 31, or, if possessing a trade, if under 35. Boys under 18 must furnish written consent of parent and guardian; and under 21, must furnish birth certificate, or statement of age signed by parents.
