GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 10.—Three trainmen killed and one fatally injured and traffic tied up for more than twelve hours are the results of a head-on collision that occurred about 3 o'clock this morning near Cheek, Utah, between section No. 6 of westbound Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 3 and an east-bound sheep train. Cricketer Named in Divorce Case

Charles A. Newhall, Prominent Philadelphia Man, Accused by Dawson Hoopes.

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—Dawson Hoopes, a member of a well known Philadelphia family, today began divorce proceedings against his wife, Katie Eleanor Hoopes, naming as co-respondent Charles A. Newhall, also a member of a prominent local family and a cricketer of international reputation. The Hoopes, who have a beautiful home adjoining the Newhall estate in Chestnut Hill, a suburb, have been separated for several years. Mrs. Hoopes is abroad on a visit to her daughter, the wife of a London editor. Mr. Hoopes in his suit makes many sensational allegations against his wife. Mr. Hoopes also filed a bill in equity asking the court to declare fraudulent an agreement entered into in 1904 between himself, his wife and Mr. Hoopes' two brothers whereby Dawson Hoopes' interest in the Hoopes' large manufacturing concern here was placed in trust for him. In the bill Dawson Hoopes declares that he was induced to sign this agreement in consequence of proceedings brought by his wife to have him declared a habitual drunkard.

DAY'S WORK OF ENDEAVORERS

Many Meetings Held and Many Topics Discussed at St. Paul Convention.

ST. PAUL, July 10.—The delegates to the Twenty-fourth International Christian Endeavor convention crowded a full day's work in this forenoon in order that the afternoon might be free for outings and excursions to pleasure resorts in and about St. Paul. Following the quiet hour service in the Central Presbyterian church there were sessions of the school of methods in several of the downtown churches. Labor problems were discussed in the guild hall of Christ church under the leadership of Rev. Charles Sledge. Beginning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium the business side of "The Kingdom Come" was discussed. The missionary committee conference at the same time in the armory had a number of speakers from all parts of the world.

White House is Center of Interest for Statesmen

Many Insurgents, Including Burket and Norris, Call on the President.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Taft put in a busy morning at the White House and this afternoon went out to the Chevy Chase links for a game of golf with Vice President Sherman, General Clarence Edwards and Senator Bourne of Oregon. The president received a host of callers and went through several large stacks of correspondence which had accumulated during his absence. He had engagements which kept him busy up to 1:30 o'clock, when he went from the executive offices to the White House for luncheon. Among the senators who called on the president were Warm of Missouri and Burket of Nebraska. Among the representatives who called were Smith of Iowa, Norris of Nebraska and Scott of Kansas. Now that the tariff bill has reached conference and the president is expected to exert what influence he considers proper in getting the measure into acceptable shape the White House again has become a center of interest. Senators Taylor and Frasier of Tennessee saw the president regarding the appointment of census supervisors through the southern states. The president announced some time ago that he would try to get the most available men for these places regardless of whether they were republicans or democrats. The president said today he would not permit the building up of political machines through the medium of these appointments and therefore he would not appoint partisan men.

Dentistry Without Pain

The colleges, strangely enough, teach little or nothing about Painlessness in Dentistry. Consequently very few dentists are able to work painlessly. It's no fault of their own that their patients suffer keenly under their apparently heartless buzzing around a sensitive cavity. I claim to be able to fill and crown teeth Painlessly. I do it scientifically and practically with no sleep nor danger to the patient. I will prove it any day you call at the office. Dr. J. B. Fikes, 16th and Farnam S. W. 216-217 Board of Trade. the house inheritance provision restored to the bill, but no confirmation of this story could be had, nor could its origin be traced. Cannon Favors Middle West. The explanation was made today on behalf of Speaker Cannon that his controlling motive in selecting the house conferees on the tariff bill had been the question of location. His chief desire was that all sections, especially interested in the tariff should have representation on the committee. Finding that the middle west had half the population, half the wealth, half the volume of production and especially that half of the republican representation of the house hailed from that section, he decided it should have larger representation on the conference than it possibly could have if the conference committee had been composed according to the rule of precedence among members of the house ways and means committee. If the conference had been selected according to that system, the Mississippi valley country would have had four representatives, including two from New England. This the speaker considered would be an inequitable distribution. He therefore passed over Mr. Hill of Connecticut and placed Mr. Calderhead of Kansas and Fordney of Michigan on the committee. Mr. Needham of California was left off, according to the explanation, because the Pacific coast has very few interests which are involved in the pending bill. According to Mr. Cannon's theory, the North Atlantic and the Mississippi valley sections were the principal divisions that are concerned about the tariff at this time. His selection gave three republicans to the eastern states, three republicans to the middle west and three democrats to the south. The speaker's friends declare that in this distribution his concern was not with reference to the character of the bill so much as it was to the geographical location of the conferees. Barney Schreyber Weds. ST. LOUIS, July 10.—Barney Schreyber, the turfman, was married here today to Miss Elizabeth M. Howe, daughter of the late James H. Howe of Erie, N. Y. The honeymoon will be spent at Woodlands, Mr. Schreyber's farm in St. Louis county.
