Pleased Crowds The Rule Here

Benson & Thorne Co.'s Clearance Successful Because of Unusual Lines Offered.

The "small woman," who finds it hard enough to secure properly modeled garments at any time, hails a "Benson & Thorne Co. Sale event," with double gusto.

The same holds good with those who have to do with the supplying of misses', girls', boys' and young mens' attire needfuls and shoes—all of which are now being thoroughly "bargained" at this popular establishment, the occasion being the "semi-Annual Clearance Sale."

The crowds participating in the present special selling are creating a new sales record for the house—pleased patrons are the rule—liberal buying is apparent in every department. Were the store twice larger the multitudes of shoppers would be just as apparent.

Truly, the "Semi-Annual Clearance Sale" offered by this concern is well worth ones while—it's an honest clearance—offered by a house that guards its reputation jealously.

Isn't there some attire need that YOU could use at a formidable reduction?

If so you will find yourself pleasantly waited upon, despite the rush.

TAFT NOW SUMMER BACHELOR

How President Spends Day with Family in Far Off Beverly.

AUTO ENLIVENS LONG EVENINGS

Ride Usually Begins at 9:30 O'clock with Some Member of the Cabinet or Congress as a Companion.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—President Taft, the summer "Bachelor" of the White House is sharing the fate of many other government officials and Washington residents whose families have gone away to mountains and seashore. The president is taking the situation philosophically, does not seem greatly to mind the hot weather and is reading daily letters from Beverly which tell of the rapid improvement in Mrs. Taft's health.

Living bachelor fashion at the White House is not fraught with the same discomforts that beset the mere man who has his home "closed up on him" when his wife goes away and is compelled to seek food and lodgings as best he may.

The president and Mrs. Taft divided the White House "help" when the occupancy of the Beverly cottage was begun, so the president is well taken care of and domestic affairs at the White House run on much the same.

The president, however, allowed Mrs. Taft to take the "first cook" to Beverly, while he makes himself content with the "second cook." The second cook is a legacy from the Roosevelt administration, a negro girl named Mary who hails from Virginia and whose sway over the White House kitchens now is complete. Mary has few peers as a cook in any matter gastronomic, but as is to be supposed, she is at her best when frying chickens and making hoe cakes. The president is entertaining many luncheon and dinner guests during his bachelor days and the second cook is providing menus which few imported chefs could hope to equal.

Auto Ride in Evening.

The president has happily solved the problem of disposing of the long evening by takings automobile rides about the city and suburbs. He usually starts out on these trips about 9:30 o'clock returning to the house at 11 or later. Captain Archibald Butts, the president's aid, is always his companion on these journeys and usually the president telephones an invitation to some cabinet officer, senator or representative and stops at the latter's house or club to pick him up. The evening rides often extend out into the beautiful Rock Creek park, which stretches for miles along the little waterway whose name it bears. At other times Mr. Taft has his chauffeur drive about the city or on the Potomac park driveways which skirt the river back of the White House and the Monument grounds.

Arising at about 7 o'clock, the president devotes nearly an hour to dumb bells, pulley weights and other forms of exercises prescribed for him. He breakfasts and usually alone, although for the last day or two he has had a guest from among the tariff conferees. During the morning meal and for half an hour or so afterward the president reads the newspapers. Between 9:30 and 10 he begins his busy day in the executive offices. At 1:30 comes luncheon at the White House always with some invited guest for company. The afternoon is devoted to golf for the president hopes to play every afternoon that he remains in Washington. Dinner always finds guests assembled and usually it is an informal and delightful meal, which begins a little after 7 o'clock and continues for and hour and a half.

Luncheon for Miss Taft.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 13.—Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago was the first of the summer residents of the Massachusetts north shore to act as hostess to any member of the president's family since the arrival of Mrs. Taft at Woodbury Point.

Mrs. Leiter today gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Helen Taft, the president's daughter, at the Dudley L. Hickman cottage, on Neptune street, where the Leiters are spending the summer. Tennis preceded the luncheon. Among the guests was Miss Caroline Nabuco, daughter of the Brazilian ambassador.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

SAW P. T. BARNUM'S CIRCUS JUST SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Justice Cockrell Remembers When Original Tom Thumb Traveled with Greatest Show on Earth.

"It was just sixty-five years ago this summer that I saw P. T. Barnum with his original show in Jerseyville, Ill." remarked Judge G. C. Cockrell, yesterday afternoon, as he was watching a large crowd trailing toward the circus grounds to witness the Barnum & Bailey performance.

"With Barnum at that time was the original Tom Thumb. The circus traveled in a few covered wagons then and was thought to be a great affair.

"From our town a few years later a young fellow by the name of Hutchinson joined the Barnum shows and traveled around with them for several years. Finally he was taken in as a partner when the firm became Barnum, Bailey & Hutchinson circus. A few years later Hutchinson retired from the circus business and now is a prominent banker in New York City. He quit the circus business, a millionaire."

MANDAMUS READY TO FILE

English Has Drawn Up Petition in Behalf of Caldwell & Drake, Court House Contractors.

The petition of the county attorney for an injunction compelling County Comptroller Solomon to pay the warrants of Caldwell & Drake, the new court house contractors, has been prepared and is ready to be filed.

The controversy arises from the fact that under the law of claims the county comptroller is forced to hold all claims allowed by the county commissioners for ten days before delivering them. Last Saturday, when the board issued a warrant for $6,700 to the contractors, they expected to get their money immediately, but were delayed by Mr. Solomon's holding that their claim would have to wait as do all other claims. The county attorney gave as his opinion that the payments to Caldwell & Drake on their contract are not properly claims, but liquidated debts, and for that reason should not be held. In the petition all these facts are set forth, as well as the reasons of the comptroller for holding up the warrants, and the court will be expected to ask the comptroller to show cause for his delay. If the construction of the county attorney is accepted, the court will issue a writ of mandamus, permitting Caldwell & Drake to get their money each month, as soon as it is allowed by the commissioners.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar, as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." Sold by all druggists.

Son Pays Father's Debts.

CRESTON, Ia., July 13.—(Special.)—Fulfilling the promse made to his dying father thirty years ago, Judge Thomas Harris of Lincoln, Ill., last week liquidated debts amounting to between $2,000 and $3,000 among creditors at Bedford, this state. The elder Harris was a farmer, and fortune, the fickle jade came not his way. He lived for a time at Pottsville, and later moved to a farm near Bedford. On his dying bed the memory of the debts haunted him and the son promised his father that as soon as he was able he would meet all of the obligations. He kept a memoranda of them all, and twenty-four years ago he went to Illinois, where he studied law, and gradually worked himself up to his present position, of judge of the circuit court of Illinois, to which he was recently elected. Some of the creditors at Bedford had moved away, and some were dead, but the money was paid to the heirs of those who were dead, and the drafts placed in the hands of the proper authorities to reach those who had moved away, and thus the son kept sacred the promise made to a dying parent.

WHOLESALE FORGER CAUGHT

Man Who Passed Many Spurious Certificates of Deposit on Iowa Banks Taken.

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 13.—(Special.)—John Bauer, the man who cleverly passed a forged certificate of deposit for $1,500 upon the Iowa City State bank six weeks ago, is in the hands of the Rock Island police and will be brought to this county for a trial. The case has been in the hands of the leading detective agencies of the country for the last month and the prisoner was apprehended by J. A. Grant of Chicago, a Pinkerton detective, at Rock Island, Ill.

When confronted with the Iowa City men after his arrest Saturday at Rock Island Bauer denied all knowledge of the Iowa City crime, but later practically confessed and will undoubtedly plead guilty when brought here for trial.

Bauer has been working his scheme all over the United States and with great success. His plan was to present a certificate of deposit and borrow a portion of its face value, taking a certificate of deposit from the bank for the remainder. The original certificates he obtained from an engraving house in Cincinnati, by posing as the representative of a bank which was a customer of the engraving house.

Although he touched the Iowa City bank for $500 it was considerably less than some other institutions visited by Bauer. A Grand Rapids, Mich., bank paid him over $2,500 and many others were stung to the extent of $1,500 and over.

Bauer will be charged with forgery and his trial may result in a fifteen-year sentence.

An Invitation to Women.

The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine company of Lynn, Mass., cordially invite any woman interested to call at their laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and see for herself the care which is taken with the vast correspondence received from the women of this country. No letter or testimonial has ever been made public without the written wish or consent of the writer. No confidence has ever been violated, and never in their history have they sold or disposed of any of their letters from women. It is for these reasons that thousands of suffering American women every year feel free to write Mrs. Pinkham for her valuable advice, which is always given free of charge.

Manual Training Given Impetus

E. E. Brown, United States Commissioner of Education, Talks of Convention While in Omaha.

Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown of Washington, D. C., United States commissioner of education, was in Omaha for a few hours Tuesday, the guest of Dr. William M. Davidson. Dr. Brown arrived at 3:45 p. m. from Denver, where he attended the National Education association meeting, and was met at the train by Dr. Davidson.

"The Denver convention, while not the largest we have had, was one of the most important as to results, and particularly with regard to the stimulus it has given industrial education," said Dr. Brown. "The three great features of the convention were those bearing upon industrialism, hygiene and morals in education. These have become permanent factors in the educational system of the United States and will continue to occupy the highest rank. The day of prejudices against industrial training in the public schools has long since passed."

Dr. Brown was given a drive about the city during the early evening in company with Dr. Davidson and General Manderson.

"The old course of study must give way to the new course," said Dr. Davidson, "and give emphasis to the practical side of education as well as the theoretical side," he added. "Education today should be one-half liberal and one-half industrial. The liberal is the education that largely prevails. The industrial has been so far developed as to demand that a new unit must be created, this unit to be known as the vocational unit. This may be segregated or not, but it must be a unit and worked out as such. This vocational unit should begin with the seventh grade and continue through four years, two years in the grades and two years in the high school. This vocational training should be begun in the lower grade, giving the child basic work in the vocation he or she expects to follow through life."

Dr. Davidson said it seemed good to get back to Omaha where it is cooler, as all the time he was in Denver the weather was stifling, and what was worse, the air did not cool off at night. He made a side trip to Pike's peak, and there secured a breath of cool air.

Prof. Ellis U Graff, principal of the Omaha High school, and Dr. Lorenzo D. Harvey of Menominee, Wis., retiring president of the National Education association, and President Hiller of the North Dakota state normal school at Maysville, accompanied Dr. Davidson on the return trip. Dr. Harvey and President Hiller did not stop in the city.

NEW CHANCELLOR IS NAMED

Von Buelow to Be Succeeded by Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

IS MAN OF HIS OWN CHOICE

Reichstag is Adjourned by Emperor Until Autumn—Socialists Show Their Disapproval of Monarchical Institution.

BERLIN, July 13.—Prince Von Buelow, the retiring imperial chancellor, will formally propose, in his audience with Emperor William tomorrow, that he be succeeded by Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg, secretary of the interior and vice chancellor. There is reason to believe his majesty will accept this proposal and that the appointment will be gazetted at once. Prince Von Buelow will thus be permitted to name his own successor at Emperor William's request.

Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg is a college friend of the emperor and during the latter's entire reign has often advised his majesty.

He has, however, shown a disinclination to accept high offices. He is a man of reserved and thoughful habits and some times has been called the "philosopher statesman."

Even at his own receptions he sometimes wears an air of pre-occupation.

Dr. Bethmann-Holweg is of Jewish origin. He is now 53 years old. In his youth he studied law and was appointed assistant judge. Before he was 30 years old he had been made district governor of Ober-Barnim, and later he became provincial president of Potsdam, where the suburban palace of Emperor William is located. During his three years at Potsdam he saw much of the emperor, and the two took long walks and rides in the environs.

Following his sojourn at Potsdam, Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg's promotion was rapid. He became president of the government of Bromberg and later president of the province of Brandenburg, from which post he took up the portfolio of Prussian minister of the interior. He then followed Posadowsky as imperial minister.

After the clerk of the Reichstag had announced today the passage of the bill providing increases in the salaries of civil servants, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg rose and said that as the representative of Prince von Buelow, he had a message from the emperor to read. His communication was a decree closing the present session of the house, which will not reassemble until next autumn.

As had been expected, the socialists, to show their disregard for monarchical institutions, remained seated while the message was being read. The socialists then left the chamber, while the other delegates gave three cheers for Emperor William.
