EVELYN THAW AIDS HUSBAND

Cause of White Tragedy Goes on Witness Stand.

ALLEGED THREAT RULED OUT

Court Eliminates Evidence of Conversation Between Husband and Wife, Tending to Show Present Insanity of Thaw.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 13.—Evelyn Thaw, pretty as ever, petulant and school-girlish, and dressed in the familiar blue which she affected so much during the trial of her husband, Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, was on the stand for more than an hour before Justice Mills in the supreme court here today, subpoenaed by the state in its fight to keep Thaw in the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan.

But for the absence of the dainty ston collar which Mrs. Thaw wore so much during both of the murder trials, she appeared today much the same as she did when District Attorney Jerome was trying to send Harry Thaw to the electric chair. She is a little more mature, perhaps, but she showed the same girliness that won sympathy for her while testifying heretofore, and at times she was petulant to the extent of tears.

Her Story Helps Thaw. Though called by the state in an endeavor to prove Harry Thaw irrational, what Roger Clarke, the deputy attorney general, drew from her lips created rather a favorable impression for her husband. She was excused from the stand shortly after 4 o'clock, but was subpoenaed by the state and will probably appear again tomorrow.

Upon the ultimate outcome of Evelyn Thaw's testimony the state's fight largely rests. Mr. Clarke tried hard today to get her to admit that Thaw had threatened her life when she visited him on one occasion after his commitment to Matteawan.

But turning appealingly to the court she repeatedly refused to answer his questions after a clash between counsel Justice Mills ruled that he would hold the conversation in which the threat was supposed to have been made a confidential one between husband and wife, and therefore privileged until the state presented proof to show that Daniel O'Reilly, the New York lawyer, who was present at the time, was not then acting as counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Thaw. This Deputy Attorney General Clarke promised to do, and Mrs. Thaw was excused after identifying a number of papers in her husband's handwriting.

Many Witnesses Favor Thaw. Aside from Evelyn Thaw's appearance, which was the sensation of the day, the testimony was much like that of yesterday—accounts of witnesses called by Thaw's counsel, all of whom attested to his apparent soundness of mind. It was eagerly to see Mrs. Thaw was just as intense as when she appeared daily at the criminal court building.

A throng of curious spectators crowded into every available foot of space in the court room, the rumor having gone out earlier in the day that she would testify. When she left the stand such a crowd followed her that she had to take refuge in the district attorney's office.

When she first entered the court room and made her way to the stand there was a buzz of excitement and a ripple of comment; but she showed little concern. On the stand she was reluctant to answer Mr. Clarke's questions and had to be instructed to do so a number of times by the court.

Evelyn Is Petulant. The tears came to her eyes when Justice Mills ruled against her and she turned to him and sobbed petulantly. "I guess I will have to obey for I cannot afford contempt proceedings or go to jail. My husband is not paying me anything now and I haven't enough money to pay counsel."

She told little, if anything, to show that Harry Thaw is insane, while a score or more of lay witnesses, who had observed Thaw at various times since his commitment to Matteawan asylum, spoke in his favor. The first entered the court room from Peekskill and Poughkeepsie, where Thaw was incarcerated for several weeks in the jail pending further habeas corpus proceedings, attendants from the asylum and various friends of the Thaw family who had visited the prisoner. They all testified that his conversation and actions appeared to them to be entirely rational.

Keeper Is Help to Thaw. Perhaps the most favorable bit of testimony for Thaw today was that of Frank Poomey, his bodyguard for five or six months at Matteawan. He said that Thaw had exhibited no irrational tendency during that time.

The state's representatives announced that they had retained Dr. Austin Flint, new Dr. Charles McDonald, who, with Dr. Amos B. Baker of Matteawan, will make up the state's trio of alienists along lines agreed upon by counsel yesterday. Dr. Flint was in court. Thaw's counsel had not decided what alienist to call.

It was agreed, however, that the state's alienists are to be permitted to make a physical examination of Thaw in the White Plains jail. The mental examination to test his sanity is to be conducted in open court, by the lawyers, prompted by the experts.

Boy Who Shot Playmate to Be Held for Deed

County Attorney at Broken Bow Issues Warrant for Eleven-Year-Old George Crist.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., July 12.—(Special.)—Coroner Cole is much dissatisfied with the verdict his jury rendered, finding the killing of Johnnie Gill by George Crist last Sunday to be accidental. The coroner is convinced from disjointed accounts given of the shooting of George and his cousin, Lester, that many important facts are being held back and has acted accordingly.

County Attorney Gadd late yesterday afternoon issued a warrant for the arrest of George Crist and if served today he will be brought to Broken Bow for the preliminary hearing.

Lester Crist will probably be held as a witness. Both boys are 11 years old.

WILL ASK FOR REMOVAL

Nonpartisan Judiciary Act to Come Before Court Again.

MULLEN WILL FILE PETITION

Tom Allen is Considering Matter of Calling State Democratic Convention—Smooth Scheme of Ex-Convict.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 12.—(Special.)—Arthur Mullen, state oil inspector, who defended the nonpartisan judiciary act before the supreme court, will file a motion tomorrow for a rehearing in the case. At least he expects to file the motion. Mr. Mullen is not satisfied with the decision of the court and is anxiously looking for the opinion in the case.

In the meantime Tom Allen, chairman of the democratic state committee, has sent out letters to the members of the executive committee asking for opinions regarding the calling of a state convention. While the law passed by the late democratic legislature provides for a state convention, Mr. Allen is not sure the democratic party will obey the law.

Should the democrats hold a convention, there is no question but what a big fight would occur over a platform, so the leaders are of the opinion this fight may be avoided by simply failing to call the convention.

Ex-Convict Has Smooth Scheme.

Reports have reached the penitentiary that convict whose terms have expired are working a clever game to get money out of relatives of convicts still confined. One woman living in South Omaha, the mother of a convict, was called upon the other day by an ex-convict, who introduced himself as a penitentiary guard. He informed the mother that her son was in a bad way and was not receiving decent treatment at the hands of the penitentiary officials, and he desired $10 with which to buy some needed delicacies. The mother dug up the money and the ex-convict then started for the street car line. It began to rain and the ex-convict was invited back to the house and remained all night. After he left the next day the woman discovered that a boarder at the house was out a gold watch and a $75 diamond pin, which it is supposed the ex-convict took.

The mother then wrote to the warden asking about her son and was informed that he was doing well. She was also instructed hereafter to investigate before she gave up any more money to supposed guards. This was the second time this woman had given over to supposed guards. The authorities are now after the ex-convict.

Pardoned Convict a Guard.

Jacob Frahm, who was pardoned by Governor Shallenberger July 4 after having served fourteen years of the ex-convict, then started for the street car line. It began to rain and the ex-convict was invited back to the house and remained all night. After he left the next day the woman discovered that a boarder at the house was out a gold watch and a $75 diamond pin, which it is supposed the ex-convict took.

The mother then wrote to the warden asking about her son and was informed that he was doing well. She was also instructed hereafter to investigate before she gave up any more money to supposed guards. This was the second time this woman had given over to supposed guards. The authorities are now after the ex-convict.

Gov. Shallenberger's Delay.

Gov. Shallenberger's delay in signing the act, which was passed by the legislature, has caused a number of serious inconveniences to the organization of the new printing board created by the late legislature. The governor was made a member of the new board to take the place of the state treasurer. Yesterday was the date set for the organization of the new printing board and the auditor being the other members, but the governor was not on hand and some bids for supplies were not opened on that account. The governor was also out of the city when the board of purchase and supplies met. Lieutenant Governor Hoopes is now acting governor but he is not in Lincoln.

Major's Attorney Files Demurrer.

Clark and Allen and W. D. Oldham attorneys for Thomas J. Majors in the case wherein the attorney general has sought to oust him from the new normal because when appointed he was a member of the legislature, which passed the act, has filed a demurrer to the petition of the legal department. Judge Oldham is a lawyer in the case.

Bullard Takes Vacation.

S. Bullard, head janitor at the state house for a number of years, left today for a vacation trip of two weeks. He will visit a son in Boulder, Colo., and friends and relatives at Beaver City. He was accompanied by Topsy Bullard, the little dog which has become a fixture around the state house. The dog will be in Colorado, a present to Mr. Bullard's grandchild.

Hospital Needs New Engine.

Attorney General Thompson, Land Commissioner Cowles and Secretary of State Lincoln visited the Hospital for the Insane at Lincoln today and decided that the immediate purchase of an engine and the construction of a standpipe is imperative. The present emergency engine is twenty-six years old and therefore of little value, while the present reservoir would be little help in case of fire. The farmer at the hospital has started cutting wheat, the institution having about seventy-five acres.

Judge Dean to Speak.

Judge Dean of the supreme court left for Meria this afternoon, where tomorrow afternoon he will speak at a meeting of the old settlers. Custer county is the home of Judge Dean and he anticipates a glorious picnic among his old neighbors.

Dope Treatment Successful.

Warden Smith of the state penitentiary is still treating his dope patients and he has had such success that one batch which he has confined, taking the treatment, has quit asking for the poison. Every prisoner taking the treatment, the warden said, seemed anxious to quit the habit. The dope fiends were separated from the other convicts and gradually they are losing their desire for the morphine. When he started the treatment the warden found one prisoner was using a crum of morphine a day.

Pop Convention Called.

C. B. Manuel, chairman and E. A. Wallrat, secretary of the populist state committee has called a delegate convention of the members of that party to meet in Lincoln July 27, at 2 p. m. The call suggests that mass meetings of populist voters be held in those counties in which regular conventions cannot be called. In case no delegate is present from any county any populist voter from that county will be allowed to participate in the convention.

Search for Dr. Walsworth. A woman claiming to be Mrs. F. V. Walsworth, wife of a Lincoln physician, is here from Kansas City trying to locate the doctor who left his office upon the day of her arrival. She is now in charge of Mrs. Muller's police station, and is badly wrought up over the disappearance of the man she claims is her husband. Dr. Walsworth came to Lincoln from South Omaha some months ago. None of his acquaintances here know where he is.

Widow Sues for Relief Money.

The Burlington railroad is defendant in a suit which has been filed in the district court by Mrs. Ada L. Crutekshank, the widow of Conductor William Crutekshank, who was killed on the Alliance and Edgmont line March 23, last.

The suit is to recover $2,400 which she alleges that Crutekshank had in the insurance department of the railroad. She says the officials promised to pay her the relief money, but that they had in consideration of this required that she sign an agreement relinquishing all right to recover any claim from the railroad which might have occurred on account of the death of the defendant.

Crutekshank was a freight conductor who was killed by being struck by a box car while on the cupola of the caboose in the Alliance yards. The plaintiff alleges that when her husband was killed his insurance was fully paid and that he is entitled to recover the full amount.

Free Water Denied Camp.

By a vote of eight to four the council, Monday afternoon, denied the petition of the State Holiness association for free water for camp meetings at the state fair grounds during the latter part of the current month. When the request from Secretary W. H. Prestcott was read asking that the camp meeting be supplied with free water during ten days Alderman Schroeder of the water department promptly moved that the petition be rejected.

"Imported" Doesn't Mean "Best" Ginger Ale

Don't think that there is no ginger ale better than imported brands. There are many imported not so good as Hydrox. If you pay twice what Hydrox costs for imported, it's simply because you don't know the facts.

Even the best imported ginger ales do not surpass sparkling Hydrox when it comes to an actual comparison.

Make This Test

Simply compare Hydrox Ginger Ale with the "imported" that you think is better. Fill several small glasses with each kind. Serve one of each to several persons. Don't tell them which is imported. Ask each person which he likes best.

Sip the two kinds yourself. Look for advantages in the "imported." Examine sparkling Hydrox for ginger ale faults. Let all the doubt be in favor of "imported." Simply buy in the future, the one that wins.

What You Get in Hydrox

Our ginger root comes from Jamaica. We make the extract from this root in our own plant.

We could use pepper or cheap ready made extracts and increase our profits immensely.

We make the fruit extracts, used in the flavoring, from the fruits themselves. We buy no ready-made extracts of any kind. We buy the most luscious fruits instead. We even make our own carbonic acid gas. We make it from bicarbonate of soda, so we know that the gas is pure. The gas stimulates the bowel action naturally—just as natural exercise does. It is the gas that gives to Hydrox the superior sparkle.

We use the best table sugar for sweetening.

We use 25 pounds of sugar to do what we could do with one ounce of saccharine. But sugar is 97% nutriment. It produces more energy than wheat.

Saccharine has no food value. It's only value is to manufacturers on account of its cheapness.

Purity Carried to Extremes

We use double distilled aerated water. It is a wonderful solvent.

Each bottle is twice inspected before and after filling.

The transporting pipes in our factory are made of a special metal without solder—every joint is a lock joint.

Aged for Six Months

Imported is good because it is aged. Our ginger ale is aged for six months. The ingredients become perfectly blended; the flavor as smooth and as rich as rare wine.

Those who haven't tried Hydrox simply don't know what they're missing. Please learn the facts—make the comparison. Don't think of price—simply see which is best.

Remember—it is the duty on "imported" that makes the higher price.

Get your first bottle of Hydrox today from one of the dealers named below. Then order a case for the home.

Sold only in quart and pint bottles.

SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED FOR YEARS

Child of Four Would Scratch Her Head for Hours—When Fifteen It Got Worse—Hair Came Off in Spots—Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain—Cuticura Soothed Like Cold Water on a Burn and

CUTICURA REMEDIES CURED HER AT LAST

"When I was four years old a humor came out on my scalp, it would make thick scab in one night, itching and burning terribly. My father spent many hundreds of dollars trying to find a doctor who could cure this humor, but none of them could ever help it even a little bit. At the age of fifteen years I had the measles, and after that my hair became matted and I had to soak my hair out before I could comb it. My hair came off in spots and my head was in a bad shape.

"About this time a friend of my father suggested he try Cuticura for me. My father took this advice and bought the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them faithfully and to my surprise they stopped the itching at once, like cold water to a burn. In a week my hair was clean from the scab but was very red and inflamed, but I had experienced more relief from the terrible itching and burning than ever before. I did not expect to be cured, as I thought that nothing could do that, but I had to use something all the time and Cuticura was cheaper than doctors.

"After some time to my surprise, I awoke to the fact that my head was cured. It was as free from the disease as though I had never suffered. I am now forty-two and have never had any sign of my old trouble since I was cured. I owe health, happiness and life to Cuticura. Every one thought it was incurable. I used to dream sometimes that I was cured but thought it never could be, but Cuticura made the dream come true. Fancy a child sitting up in bed until ten or eleven o'clock scratching her head! I couldn't help it either day. It is a wonder I lived through it, but I can prove all I have written by my old neighbors. Mrs. Florence E. Ames Getchell, Box 503, Hallowell, Me., Feb. 9 and 13, 1909."
