Starts to Serve Time. SAN JOSE, Cal., July 13.—Christian C. Johnson, alias Anderson, alias Madison, who in the supreme court pleaded guilty to bigamy and was sentenced to serve seven years, left today in custody of a deputy sheriff for the prison.

Confession is Corroborated. PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—Investigation of the alleged confession of Christian C. Johnson seems to bear out the belief that he is the mysterious "John Madison." He is known to have been active here in 1906 and 1907, and to have made love to several women.

His alleged confession to marrying "Eliza Jones" in this city in 1908 is not corroborated by the facts, unless there were two women of the name of Jones. A marriage license was granted at Vancouver, Wash., on February 16, 1907, to one John Madison to marry Mary Jones, but in signing the license he signed his name John Madison. His age was given as 34 and hers as 31. Madison deserted his wife after securing a considerable sum of money from her.

DAVIS DIDN'T DO FORGERY BECAUSE IN JAIL AT TIME Was Now in Georgia Penitentiary for Crime He Could Not Possibly Have Committed.

Affidavits are being executed at the office of the United States marshal and the Douglas county jail to establish an alibi for J. H. Davis, now serving a sentence of seven years for passing or forging an express money order in Marietta, Ia. Davis was tried and sentenced for the crime, which is alleged to have been committed in Georgia in December, 1926, at a time when he was a prisoner in the Douglas county (Neb.) jail, serving a sentence on his plea of guilty to having used the United States mails for fraudulent purposes.

Davis' friends have filed a motion in extraordinary for a new trial for him, and they doubt but that they will establish a perfect alibi for him, may bring suit against the state of Georgia and others responsible for his arrest and imprisonment in that state. Davis was convicted of the Georgia crime in February last under the name of H. C. Gray in the Cobb superior court of that state.

LOVE MAKING AS FINE ART Champion Bigamist of World Makes Alleged Confession.

ONCE FIERCE WOMAN HATER "They Kept Me Broke," He Says, Claiming that His Vocation Was Not as Profitable as It Might Appear.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 13.—Christian C. Johnson is reported to have confessed that he is the mysterious John Madison, wanted in many parts of the country for irregular matrimonial ventures and systematic swindling of women under promise of marriage.

Johnson's alleged confession, however, which is printed today in a local newspaper, is so full of inconsistencies, and so at variance with statements he has made since his arrest in this city last week, that the police authorities are not inclined to give it full credence. In this confession Johnson declares that he has been married to so many women that he cannot count them offhand.

Love Making His Profession. "In 1907," he says, "I quit my business of buying horses and from that day to this I have been making my living by marrying and making love to women, getting their money and then deserting them."

One of his most amazing feats, according to his own confession was making love to ten women at one time in Oregon. While he admits that he got money from most of them, and that his marriages were part of a get-rich-quick system, Johnson declares that in every instance he spent the money he received upon the victim herself.

"They kept me broke all the time," is the way he expresses it.

Converted from Woman Hater. Johnson was born in Germany and coming to this country in the 70's secured a post with the United States government, buying horses for the army on commission. This took him all over the country. At first he says he was a woman hater, because he had been separated from a sweetheart in Germany, who died later.

He married the first of his many wives in Springfield, Mass., in 1906. She was Mrs. Mary Brown.

"I married only one woman under the name of John Madison," Johnson declared. "Her name was Jones—if I remember rightly—Edna Jones. I got $1,800 from her, because she said she loved me. I could have gotten $30,000."

List of His Victims. Eighteen of the women whom Johnson married and deserted within the last three years according to the confession were: Mrs. Catherine Hoene, San Diego, Cal.; Mrs. Josephine Thewaway, Stockton, Cal.; Mrs. Sylvia Pollard, De Bonnet, San Francisco; Mrs. Henrietta Leopold, San Francisco; Eliza Jones, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Mary Brown, Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. Frances Heppburn, Oakland, Cal.; Miss Minnie Henninger, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Hilda King, Hat Springs, Ark.; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Jackson, Iowa, Kan.; Mrs. Mary Frick, East St. Louis, Ill.; "Catherine," hospital nurse, St. Louis; Mrs. Alice Richardson, St. Louis; Mrs. Catalina Richardson, St. Louis; Mrs. Minnie Allen, St. Louis; Mrs. Bertha King, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. De Leon, wife of a sea captain, Portland, Ore.

From most of these women Johnson says he obtained money or jewelry.

The Best Type of Men in America are buying Apple Orchards in the Famous Bitter Root Valley! Why?

SOME BUY FOR AN INVESTMENT. Charles Heights Orchards in the Bitter Root Valley, Montana, are the safest kind of an investment. The greatest fruit land in the world, increasing in value every year. Estimating from the present prices of developed orchards, every acre will be worth more than twice its original cost in five years. As the original cost covers the development of the land and delivery of a bearing orchard in five years, the attractiveness of the investment is obvious. The profit or dividend on an investment in ten acres averages from $600 to $1,200 the fifth year, $3,600 to $5,800 the tenth year with a rapid increase up to the twentieth year.

SOME BUY FOR A SUMMER RESORT. What could be more desirable than a cottage on your own orchard in the delightful climate of the Bitter Root Valley in the Rocky Mountains, where the mountain torrents abound in the gamest and most palatable of fish—the "Red Trout" trout, and where all kinds of large game known to the Rockies make hunting the greatest sport?

SOME BUY TO SAFEGUARD THE FUTURE. Is there anyone who would not be happy in the thought that no matter what happens which he can retire and be prosperous and happy?

SOME BUY FOR A HOME. Wouldn't you be contented with a home in the mountains, among the best of neighbors, close to railroads, good schools, churches, excellent roads and on a profitable orchard where the work of pruning, irrigating and cultivating is light, pleasant and healthful, leaving plenty of time to live?

SOME MAKE IT A BUSINESS. That the growing of McIntosh Red Apples or Transcendent Crabs in the Bitter Root is most profitable is sustained by present growers in the Valley who have been there for ten to thirty years. The standard ten-acre orchard, five years old, yields the average 800 boxes of apples, six years old 600 boxes, with an increase up to the twentieth year. The sale price per box f. o. b. the Valley is $1.25 to $1.75 per box.

SURE CROPS—NO PESTS. There has not been a failure in the Valley during the thirty odd years fruit has been grown there. It is the only fruit-growing section in which there has never been a pest of any kind nor an injurious frost. No crop insurance is necessary in the Valley.

THIS COMPANY OFFERS a tract of "Bench Land" on the west side of Bitter Root River known as the Charles Heights Orchards, located on the Northern Pacific Railway—the best strip of land in the Valley. We will sell 10-acre orchards, clear the land, work it up, plant it to apples, irrigate and cultivate it during the next five years and turn it over to the purchaser a bearing orchard in September of the fifth year. We will then continue to care for the land and crop for ten per cent of the net yearly profits as long as desired. Or we will sell the undeveloped land cleared and ready for the plow in 100-acre tracts to one party or a company of individuals who wish to plant and develop their own property, under the direction of our expert horticulturist. Permanent water rights without cost.

A TRIP TO THE BITTER ROOT. Send at once for our beautifully illustrated literature giving and describe your own ideal of a pleasant home, a profitable investment and an independent life. In this literature we give facts and figures, verified by the best authorities and actual growers of the Valley. If you can take a trip with us to this beautiful country, you will find our statements and figures correct. Send for our proposition, which guarantees it or pays for a trip to the Valley.

Our Letter Box Contributions on Timely Subjects, Not Exceeding Two Hundred Words, Are Invited From Our Readers.

I am astonished at the character of the reports that have been made here tonight and amazed at their comprehensiveness, manifesting so clearly the growth of public sentiment in favor of an American built and American operated merchant marine. It shows that the country is alive to its best interests and that the day of misunderstandings and prejudice concerning my attitude, "I am glad to see such needed shipping legislation is rapidly going." There seems to have been a superstitious fear of the word "subsidy." I am not afraid of the word. Every nation in the world that can boast of a merchant marine worth having helps to sustain it by governmental aid. If the United States is to have a merchant marine—and every consideration of national security and progress demands its building—we must have the help of the government. The United States cannot order the maritime policies of other countries. We must do as they do or weakly surrender the ocean carrying business of the world to them. We are not offered a choice, but are confronted by a necessity.

Something must be done in the matter of merchant marine legislation and that quickly. I have taken occasion whenever I have been asked to express myself to express my opinion on the subject. I am glad to know that in this particular matter Speaker Cannon and I agree thoroughly. The great increase in the population of the country as well as the necessities of the navy and our own commerce make it essential that not only our representatives in congress, but their constituents as well should know the exact facts as to how our lack of a merchant fleet is working injury to national interests. I regret very much the failure of the last ocean mail act, which was lost by a margin of but four votes. I feel that with the increased growth of the country and the people of the country are obtaining on the subject, the cause will have a substantial majority in the next congress. I pledge my best efforts to bring this about.

You see from this that you are mistaken when you say that the president does not favor subsidy. I refer you to the sentences "There seems to have been a superstitious fear of the word 'subsidy.'" What the President Said.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Editor of The Bee: I have been sent an editorial in which you refer to the dinner recently given by the Merchant Marine League in this city, in which you say: "The President's Tariff was present at the banquet and made a speech in favor of re-habilitating the American merchant marine. He did not commit himself to the subsidy feature. The value or even the necessity of a strong merchant marine is not questioned and the republican national platform declared in favor of its encouragement, but neither this declaration nor Mr. Taft's endorsement is construed into endorsement of immediate subsidy legislation."

I was present at the dinner and President Taft, according to notes as published at that time, used the following language, which, after refreshing my memory, I am sure is correct: "The great fear of the word 'subsidy,' I am not afraid of the word. Every nation in the world that can boast of a merchant marine worth having helps to sustain it by governmental aid." If there was any doubt left after that statement that he is in favor of a subsidy, it is certainly removed by the following: "I regret very much the failure of the last ocean mail act, which was lost by a margin of but four votes." This was a subsidy bill exclusively and nothing else. The president will not hesitate to state to you, if you were to ask the question direct, that he is in favor of a direct subsidy being paid for mail lines. Whatever may be the merits of this system I know that you do not desire to misquote the president. W. E. HUMPHREY, M. C.

SOLDIER SAVES WOMAN FROM DEPORTING BY MARRYING HER At Least He Makes Her His Wife and Fights Order for Deportation.

A peculiar question has arisen in the Louis Elmer case, pending in the United States immigration department, which may result in the release of the woman from arrest and the abolition of the order for her deportation.

While it was proven that the woman had been brought into the United States for immoral purposes, she has since married a soldier of the Eighth United States Cavalry at Fort Robinson, and through such marriage becomes a citizen of the United States. The soldier husband is about to be discharged for expiration of his term of service, and it is through him that the order for the deportation of the woman is being fought.

The woman was brought into the country from Belgium over a year ago by a Mrs. Therese Kriebboom as an alleged nurse. Mrs. Kriebboom was indicted in the federal court at Omaha for importing the woman into the country, and entered a plea of guilty, and only recently paid a fine of $1,000 for the offense. Louise Elmer was taken to Chicago a few weeks ago to be turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation, but was subsequently ordered returned to Omaha. She was held in jail here for a short while, and is now at liberty on her own recognizance, and is awaiting the final decision in her case, remaining in Omaha in the meanwhile.

INDEPENDENTS ARE CRUSHED This is Purport of Testimony in Investigation of Illinois Coal Fields.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—That independent coal companies cannot compete with companies owned by railroads was the testimony of W. K. Kavanaugh, one South St. Coal and Mining company between Interstate Commerce Commissioner E. E. Clark today, in the probe into the Illinois coal situation. Several other witnesses corroborated this testimony.
