FIRST FRAMER'S CRAFT SHOP OPENS IN OMAHA

A. Hospe Company Inaugurates the "Handwrought" Idea in Framing Pictures.

With "Irv" as master craftsman, the A. Hospe Co., of 1513 Douglas street, has instituted that which will be known as the "Framer's Craft Shop," wherein the slogan will be, "Handwork Only," no matter how inexpensive or expensive the picture to be framed may be.

The artisans who have to do with the production of all frames hereafter retailed by the A. Hospe Co., will know naught of the price—every piece of moulding, every bit of glass, every combination of ideas, will be under the direct supervision of the aforementioned master—selling figures have no influence whatever and all work will be of a grade previously denied Omahans.

Proud owners of rare water colors, valuable oil paintings, or treasured photos may now have something different than the cut and dried "factory work"—every frame emanating from this "shop" will be an individual frame—uncommon—valuable because of its exclusiveness and "craftsman touch."

Here "Irv" the foreman, will create harmony of design from oak, Circassian walnut and other rare woods—frames that cannot be identified with the precincts of the "Bargain counter."

Real gold leaf, hand burnished frames of original form, too, will be featured. Truly, the idea of maintaining a "Framer's Craft Shop" is unique with the Hospe firm and Omaha certainly includes enough lovers of "handwork" to maintain at least one shop of so high a grade.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Country Club Discusses Buying Ground It Now Occupies.

PROPOSITION TO ISSUE BONDS
Organization Has Option on Land at $300 an Acre—Body of Unidentified Men Found in Missouri River.

An important meeting of the membership of the South Omaha Country club was held Thursday night at the club pavilion. The object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of purchasing the club grounds and lifting the indebtedness. A committee was appointed at a meeting early in the summer to work out this problem. The committee recommended the issuance of bonds for the purchase of the property. This move appeared feasible to the general body and the report of the committee was approved and the committee continued for sixty days. A subcommittee was appointed to appraise the improvements on the club grounds, which will be taken in as part of the assets.

The meeting was attended by a fair turnout of members. As is well known by most of the members the club grounds are simply leased to the club for five years, with an optional purchase at the end of that period. The price stipulated in the terms of the option was $300 per acre. It is confidently affirmed by many that the land is already worth $500. The purchase of the land therefore would at any time be a paying investment even if the club should disband and the property was prorated to the holders of the bonds.

Body Found in River.
Anton Pavondra and Frank Novy, two Bohemian boys, discovered the body of a dead man floating in the Missouri river near Childs Point last evening. The body had evidently lain in the water for some time. It was the body of a man of 35 or more. He was about six feet tall, weighed about 190 and wore a beard. After the boys had secured the body at the bank of the river they notified Healey & Henney of South Omaha, who took charge of it.

The Presbyterian King's Daughters gave a social Thursday evening on the lawn of Dr. R. L. Wheeler's residence at Twenty-second and I streets. The women served ice cream and cakes to a large number of guests. While the people were enjoying this part of the entertainment the Pioneer quartet rendered many popular and sentimental selections. Shattuck's orchestra also furnished instrumental numbers, solos and duets.

Mrs. M. McIntire of Wisconsin, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Green, Twenty-seventh and C streets, has returned to her home.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood will hold a social at the residence of J. D. Courtney, 1016 North Twenty-fifth street, Thursday, July 29.

ELECTRIC COMPANY APPEALS

Corporation Goes to Higher Court to Prevent Dismissal of Injunction Obtained Against City.

The restraining order of Judge T. C. Munger of the United States circuit court directing the city of Omaha and City Electrician Michaelson to cease from cutting the wires of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company or otherwise interfering with the business of the company is to be continued in force until otherwise ordered by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Several days ago Judge W. H. Munger issued an order saying that the case would be dismissed for want of equity and the injunction dissolved on July 31, provided the electric company did not file its notice for appeal within that time.

With the filing of the appeal Thursday afternoon the injunction is continued in force until the case can be disposed of by the United States circuit court of appeals. The appeal bond was filed Thursday afternoon in the sum of $2,000 by the attorneys of the electric light company.

AUTOISTS AT FREMONT RACES

Good Roads and Good Sports Tempt Many Omaha Owners to the Trip.

The races at Fremont proved to be a sufficient magnet to draw a large number of automobiles from Omaha Friday afternoon. The roads were in splendid condition, as they had been dragged between the end of the Dodge street macadam and Elkhorn in preparation for the coming of the Golden State. Among those who drove out from Omaha were J. J. Delight, Herman Peters, Art Ahmann, Fred Metz, Sheriff Bradley and others.

Little Girls

Get Happy on Gasoline Fumes

Probation Officer Carver Discovers New Wrinkle in Line of Juvenile Delinquency.

The good book enjoins people of all ages from looking upon wine when it is red: the laws of the state of Nebraska prohibit big and little boys alike from smoking cigarettes, chewing tobacco and using deleterious articles prohibited by pure food laws, & o'clock laws, or otherwise.

But is there any provision against smelling gasoline? If there is such a law, W. B. Carver, acting chief probation officer, would like to know it. Officer Carver dropped into a downtown tailor establishment to have a suit of clothes pressed and was surprised to see two little girls in the rear of the shop bending over two open cans of gasoline inhaling the fumes to their heart's content. He sought to stop them and did succeed in doing so for the time, but now he is wondering if he has any right to keep the children from the gasoline cans.

"Oh, the gasoline smells so nice and makes us feel so funny," the little girls told the officer. "We see such funny things, and its lots of fun. Please let us smell it. We come here every day and the man doesn't care."

Mr. Carver declined to give the names of the little girls, whom he said are about 8 and 12 years of age.

No Money on Hand to Pay for Extra Police at the Street Railway Terminals.

Will it be necessary to post policemen at the terminals of street car lines at night to prevent bandits from holding up the car crews? There have been four street car holdups recently and none of the robbers have been caught.

Chief of Detectives Savage wants to do so, but says the police force is not large enough to allow him to detail any men from it for special duty. To employ additional men for that purpose would also be one of the questions, as the police force is already low and more regular policemen could not be hired sometime ago on account of lack of money.

Superintendent Nash of the street railway company says that the expense of such a plan has also prevented the company from taking it up.

In spite of the danger of holdups on the night runs of the car crews, none of the employees have resigned their positions on account of them.

Boy Burglar on Way to Recovery

Young McGuire Will Get Well from Wounds He Got from Householder.

With a policeman guarding him day and night, Walter McGuire, the youthful burglar shot Wednesday night, is recovering from the effects of the gunshot wounds he received. The police have three men alternately watching him, as they care to take no chances in allowing him to escape.

Three burglaries and two burglar scares make up the list of cases in which the police are busy. McGuire is implicated in the theft of three watches and other valuables from the home of Alfred Thomas, 1710 Cass street, on the night of July 11. It is the new case in which the police suspect McGuire. One of the watches taken from the Thomas home was found in McGuire's possession when he was arrested.

McGuire's father, who lives on Arbor street, visited his son at St. Joseph's hospital Thursday. The mother also resides here, but has not seen her son since he was arrested.

While driving an automobile, which his employer says he had no right to use, Walter Williams, a young colored man living at 2416 Patrick avenue, was in an accident which resulted in James Monick, 234 Cass street, falling from his motorcycle and sustaining a basal fracture of the skull.

Monick is lying unconscious at Wise hospital, while Williams and his companion in the automobile, Harry L. Payne, also colored, of 1920 North Thirty-sixth street, are locked up at the police station on charges of disorderly conduct.

Monick is said to have been riding his motorcycle north on Thirtieth street and Williams was driving the automobile east on Davenport. By some accident the motorcycle struck the rear hind wheel of the automobile and Monick was hurled from his machine.

The injured man was hurried to the hospital in the police automobile and Dr. Kalai attended him. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Monick, Monick's parents, were summoned to the hospital and remained there while an operation was performed. Monick has not yet regained consciousness.

He was an employee at the Union Pacific shops and was just going home at 12:30 o'clock, when the accident happened. His father is well known in the city as an old resident and a vendor of horse-drawn and hominy.

Williams was working for C. F. Louk at 1508 Farnam street, the Maxwell garage. Louk says he was hired for cleaning automobiles, sweeping floors and other work.

Several months ago I tried a plan for one day of not saying "Burlington" trains and so many people got by to our trains who wanted to go over the Union station lines that I never have since attempted to get along without calling the "Burlington."

MONEY COMES WITH GOOD WORDS FOR THE EAGLES

Donors to Fund Express Wishes for a Big Convention and a Fine Time.

In sending a check for $100 to the Eagles' convention committee for the Paxton Real Estate company Secretary H. J. Scannell wrote: "We inclose our check for $100 to the entertainment fund for the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and hope that every citizen will do his duty in this respect, and that with good weather and the large crowd assured Omaha may make its name as a convention city."

Dr. C. C. Allison has exhibited the same spirit toward the committee by a contribution of $200 "to boost Omaha." The canvassing committee put in some time in the wholesale district on Thursday afternoon and Chairman Bacon reports very encouraging results.

Grand Worthy President Monaghan, Grand Secretary Mann and the grand trustees, scattered all over the country, kept writing in to the local committee that their information is all of a most promising character for a large and enthusiastic procession of Eagles and their friends to Omaha in September.
