The first inning did it. Reeley lasted long enough to lose the third game of the series to Des Moines clean singles and Keeley was chased to both the ball and the sack. the stable, although but one run was

That was enough for Omaha could not score at all against the slab work of Biersdorfer and the splendid support which he received from his teammates. Dwyer was the first man up after Lower took the hill, and he punted toward short. Two wars on bases and Franck turned to throw to second, but Pendry was asleep at the switch, and falled to cover that sack. By the time Franck could make another whirl and throw to first Dwyer was sef. That seemed to rile the captain, so that he fell down in trying to get the next ball that came along.

The bases were full when Clyde Williams came to bat. He laid one down toward Schipke, but the Skipper foozled the bunt, and Mattick scored. Still three were on bases and only one out. McManus was next up and he lined a hot one toward King, on which Dwyer and Niehoff trotted home. Williams also kept on sprinting toward home and King threw to nail him toward finally settled down six runs had been

With six runs looking as big as six balloons staring them in the face, the Rourkes came to bat. Fisher opened with a single, but Pendry struck out. Welch singled Aitchison, but Schipke hit into a double play. Four times during the game when it looked as though some Rourke might have a chance to get across the play, another Rourke came to bat and hit into a double. In the third luning, with two out, Pendry singled and Welch hit a double. Schipke drew a pass and the bases were filled. but Kane grounded to second. In the fifth Lower opened out with a double, and although Pendry got another single the rest of the bunch could not help him around. After that first inning the fans were treated to quite a ball game, for both Biersdorfer and Lower pitched good ball, but Omaha could not score. Lincoln comes today for four games. The score:

SIOUX CITY, July 26.—Lincoln defeated Sioux City in the last game of the series, 4 to 2. McCafferty pitched good ball, the Champions making only four hits up to the ninth. After two were down in the ninth, Welch singled and Stovall doubled.
It looked like a tied score when Holmes, who batted for Freeman, hit to the right of first base. Sullivan made a fine stop and McCafferty beat Holmes to the bag and received his assist. There was much of rag chewing over the decision, the home players contending the big pitcher was not

Links won the game in the seventh.
Freeman passed Thomas, Gagnler doubled son's single. Both pitchers were in good form, though McCafferty was the steadier.
