

RAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat and Corn Prices Both Affected by Favorable Weather.

BEARS CONTINUE TO RULE RING

Firm to Steady Opening Gives Way Under Continued Good Showing for Crops and Heavy Movement of Grain.

OMAHA, July 27, 1909.—The wheat market had a firmer tone at the opening owing to the unsettled weather, which caused some scattered buying. Country selling has started up, but receipts are expected to increase with the movement from the northwest, which will tend to bring the condition and keep prices on the decline.

Corn was steady, but unchanged, with cash values low in taking the local offerings. Under present conditions there is nothing to advance prices. Country selling has started up, but receipts are expected to increase with the movement from the northwest, which will tend to bring the condition and keep prices on the decline.

Receipts of wheat were 1,320,000 bushels and shipments were 785,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,674,000 bushels and shipments of 1,000,000 bushels.

Receipts of corn were 528,000 bushels and shipments were 310,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 520,000 bushels and shipments of 320,000 bushels.

Clearances were 24,000 bushels of corn, none of oats and wheat and flour equal to 100 bushels.

Liverpool closed unchanged at 4d higher on wheat and 3d lower on corn.
