Colorado.

You Can Make More Money on Land in Colorado Near Denver and Greeley

Than any other part of the country, on both irrigated land, already under a ditch and reservoirs or on some that is coming under a ditch, or take it a little farther in the eastern part of the state, where they do farming without irrigation. We of course would recommend buying the land already under ditch, which is without any question the safest investment. The crops grown on this land are enormous. Anyone going out to look at the land and crops cannot help but want to invest at least a part of their savings.

The price on the irrigated land near Denver is from $100 to $150 an acre. The difference in price depends on the distance from town. The terms have been made so easy so anyone can buy if it is only 10, 20 or 40 acres. One-tenth cash, balance one-tenth each year. The price of land coming under ditch, range from $20 to $35 an acre.

Have some about 25 to 30 miles east of Denver, good level land, but not under a ditch, from $8.50 to $12.50 an acre.

We are sure to satisfy you and will make you money, if you will only go out to see what we have to offer. Very low rates of $17.50 for the round trip, good for stop over and return limit October 31st.

Send for advertising matter, regarding irrigated land.

SOLDIERS BEATEN BY ALL-STARS

Midweek Game is Taken by Hard Hitting of the Horsehide.

The All-Stars shut out the Signal Corps team on the Fort Omaha grounds Wednesday by the score of 8 to 0. The All-Stars team is composed largely of college youths, home on their summer vacation, and they expect to make a trip through Nebraska, reaching as far west as Cheyenne. Hamilton held the soldiers to four hits, while the Stars batted the two Signal Corps pitchers for fifteen safe ones.

The winner of the championship will receive a gold medal, and a silver medal will be given the runner-up. Bronze medals will be given to the other semi-finalists, while the player making the lowest score in the qualifying round of thirty-six holes will receive a special prize.

The tournament will open September 6 at eighteen holes medal play, sixty-four players to qualify. The thirty-two players having the best score for the thirty-six holes shall qualify for the championship.

"Billy" Sunday Umpires.

TECUMSEH, Neb., July 28.—(Special.)—The Tecumseh base ball team played the Falls City team a twelve-inning game at Falls City Tuesday. The evangelist, "Billy" Sunday, who was lecturing at the chautauqua there, umpired the game up to the close of the ninth inning, when he had to leave to catch a train. At the close of the ninth inning the score was 9 to 5, in favor of Tecumseh. A Falls City man was put in to umpire the game out, and at the close of the twelfth inning Falls City had reversed the tide and won by the score of 9 to 10.

Weeping Water Forfeits Game.

LOUISVILLE, Neb., July 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Louisville defeated Weeping Water today at Weeping Water by the score of 9 to 0. The score stood 4 to 2 in favor of Louisville in the eighth, when Karr of Weeping Water hit a foul twenty feet out of the line and refused to return to bat after being ordered to do so by both umpires. The game ended with the above result.

Batteries: Louisville, Connors and Pankonon; Weeping Water, Klepser and Karr.

RESULTS FROM AN AD IN THE BEE.

By Hazel Holder, 715 North Lexington Avenue, Hastings, Neb. Father, J. M. Holder. Ninth Grade, Hastings High School. Aged 16 Years. English Teacher, Minerva Brailh.

CHAUFFEUR wants position running car in city. Has first-class references. Address ——, care Bee.

"No, Jack, I will not marry you. One reason is, because you are so dependent on your father. Just because he is wealthy that's no reason why you should be so lazy. Why don't you do something? I should think you would be ashamed of yourself." So spoke a beautiful dark-eyed girl of about 19.

She was tall and slender and one could tell by her soft southern accent that she was a native of the south.

Her name was Julia Delmar and she was the only daughter of rich parents, her father being a banker.

Her companion was a handsome young man of about 20, whose name was Jack Belmont.

As Jack drove down to his club his mind was busy trying to think of some way to win Julia, whom he loved dearly.

At last a happy thought came to him. He would be a chauffeur for some one.

He knew all about an automobile, and that would be pleasant work, too. So, accordingly, the next morning the above ad appeared in The Bee, which he well knew was the best paper for advertising.

In the afternoon he went down to the office of The Bee to see if there were any answers to his ad, and as he was looking them over he suddenly gave an exclamation of joy, for there was a note from Miss Julia Delmar saying she was greatly in need of a chauffeur, and would he please call at — —— street.

So, disguised as a chauffeur, he appeared at her home the next morning. After looking at his references (which he had borrowed from his own chauffe
