MIKES WANT MONEY BACK

Three Additional Petitions Filed in District Court.

BANKERS AMONG DEFENDANTS

Men from Ohio, Missouri and Colorado are Victims of Fake Horse Races and Wrestling Matches.

Attorneys Crawford and Wadsworth filed in the district court yesterday the petitions in three more of the suits brought by "Mike" in an effort to recover the money out of which they were fleeced by J. C. Mayberry and his associates, known as the "Big Store Gang."

The plaintiffs in the suits in which the petitions were filed yesterday are: C. Nelson Pratt of Toledo, O., who claims to have been bunked out of $1,000 on October 22, 1908, on a fake wrestling match.

R. L. King of Fowler, Colo., who claims to have been bunked out of $2,000 on a fake horse race on May 6, 1908. Z. Pierpont of Maryville, Mo., who claims to have been bunked out of $2,100 on a fake horse race on March 21, 1908.

The list of defendants named in these three suits is the same as in the petitions previously filed. They are Benjamin Marks, the First National bank of this city, Ernest E. Hart, president of the First National bank, J. J. Spindler, cashier of the First National bank, Ernest E. Hart (incorporated), Ames C. Mayberry, John R. Dobbin and Frank O. Scott.

Walter Parker is the "steerer" named in the suit of R. L. King and is made one of the defendants. In Z. Pierpont's case W. D. Ball is made one of the defendants. It is alleged that he acted as the "steerer."

There are no new features in the petitions filed yesterday, the allegations and charges being substantially the same as in the previous suits.

Messrs. Crawford and Wadsworth served original notices of twenty-two "Mike" suits on June 15 and, including those filed yesterday, the petitions in eighteen of these cases have now been made public.

C. E. Niewonger May Construct 125-000 Bushels Plant.

Council Bluffs is practically assured of another large grain elevator, which is to be erected by C. E. Niewonger on the block between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets, fronting on First avenue.

Mr. Niewonger, who has offices in the Braden building in Omaha, has been in communication for some time past with E. H. Doolittle, chairman of the executive committee of the Commercial club, relative to locating his elevator on this side of the river, and it is now practically assured.

All that now remains to assure the erection of the new elevator, it is stated, is the granting by the city council of the right-of-way for a switch track on First avenue so that cars can be run direct to the building. It was understood that there will be no opposition to granting this right-of-way.

The elevator which Mr. Niewonger contemplates erecting in Council Bluffs will have a capacity of 125,000 bushels.

HASKINS' BODY IDENTIFIED

Man Who Killed Himself in Colorado Belonged Here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Holder of South Eighth street arrived home yesterday from Greeley, Colo., where they fully identified the man who committed suicide there as their uncle, James Haskins, brother of Mrs. William Holder, sr.

When the first telegram was received last Saturday from Coroner Macy of Greeley, Mrs. Holder was under the belief that the suicide referred to was her brother.

When Mr. and Mrs. Holder reached Greeley the body of the suicide was exhumed and they at once identified it as that of James Haskins, formerly of this city.

Haskins had about $250 insurance and it is the intention of the family to bring the body back here for burial.

Haskins disappeared three months ago from Council Bluffs and his whereabouts was unknown until after the suicide. He killed himself at the ranch of a man named Campbell July 23. He had applied to Campbell for work and when told there was nothing to do he said he wanted protection, as soldiers were chasing him and would kill him and bury his body on the plains. He asked Campbell for a razor and when this was refused sharpened his pocketknife and slashed his throat with it. He then struck himself on the head with a heavy mallet. Young Campbell took a gun and with his mother started to flee, but Haskins got the gun and let them go. Before they returned with neighbors Haskins shot himself through the head. He told them his name was William Holden.

Lincoln's Mayor Pleased. "Business and amusement places have experienced a very great increase in the volume of their business as a result of prohibition in our city," said Mayor Don L. Love of Lincoln, Neb., this afternoon, shortly before going to the Chamberlain hotel to attend the banquet given in his honor by John M. Read.

"Especially in cash business is the beneficial result noticeable and I am sure that if the question of prohibition were submitted to the voters it would be carried by an even greater majority than before.

"Of course there are people in Lincoln who still get their liquor, Havelock, a little town five miles out, that is connected by car line, serves as a sort of an oasis, and thifty individuals go out there by the carloads. But there is a pretty good chance of that going dry next spring.

PHARMACY BOARD FRICTION

Commissioners Say Secretary Larson Would Have Been Asked to Quit. REFUSES TO ANSWER CHARGE

Difficulty Arises Over Collection of License Fees from Patent Medicine Peddlers—Baby Kidnaped.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Aug. 4.—(Special Telegram.)—Secretary Larsen of the State Pharmacy commission today refused to answer the charge of the commission concerning his resignation, that he had tried to be the whole board and that his resignation would have been asked for if he had not produced it. He claimed he would not engage in personalities and was only claiming that the board was dilatory in enforcing the law.

It is learned that the friction in the board started over the collection of the vendors' licenses amounting under the old board to about $30,000 a year. When word reached the office of a peddler of patent medicines having no license, it was formerly the custom for a member to take the train immediately, have the man arrested and collect the $100 license for the state. Collectors of the new board members merely write the peddler a letter and the peddler then has an opportunity to leave the state or delay action by claiming to be sick and denying that he is peddling. The peddler's harvest for patent medicine is in the spring and unless the license is collected within a short time it cannot be collected at all.

It is also charged by Larsen's friends that members of the commission wanted to take the book of blank licenses away from the office in the state house, which would have been contrary to law. Following the holding of the examinations in the state house yesterday, members of the commission left for their homes and could not be seen today.

Adopted Child Kidnaped. A 2-year-old adopted child was kidnaped from the home of Rev. John Horn in Highland Park today by a woman who left a note behind threatening to kill the child if followed. The note was signed Laura Pote, which is the name of the child's mother. The woman is believed to be headed for Oklahoma.

Iowa Society of Oklahoma. Foremen living in Oklahoma have organized the Iowa Society of Oklahoma, with William Mee as president and Frank W. Smith as secretary. Governor Carroll and the other state officers and both Iowa senators have been made honorary members and have been invited to attend a big gathering at the Oklahoma state fair October 5, at which time it is expected that fully 7,000 former Iowans will be in attendance. There are estimated to be 10,000 in the state.

More Druggists Made. Out of a class of eighteen who took the state pharmacy examination at Des Moines last evening at the convention met there, seven passed successfully and were given certificates by the state board. The fortunate seven are: Glen E. White of Des Moines, Arch McPhee of Des Moines, Charles L. Clappitt of Laurens, C. J. Cowman of Adair, Clifford J. Thomas of Fairfield, O. J. Hanson of Williamsburg and E. W. Hine of Red Oak.

Charges Hamery with Assault. John B. Hammond, who has been instrumental in stirring up much of the prosecution against liquor and cigarette selling, has filed charges of assault against Councilman J. J. Hamery, who is superintendent of the police department. Hammond was a caller at the office and he claims that Hamery unnecessarily elected him and assaulted him while doing so.

Boy Shoots Himself. Because he had been out of work since Christmas, Emil Peterson, formerly a press feeder at the Kenyon Printing company plant, shot himself last night in his home at 1506 Walker street, where he lived with his mother and sister. He was discovered an hour or more later nearly dead from loss of blood and was removed to the Methodist hospital.

Eloper Caught. Helen Haworth, the 15-year-old daughter of Dr. Haworth of Indianapolis, and Judd Stitt, her 23-year-old lover, who is already married, were captured in Des Moines by Sheriff Kimmer of Warren county. Stitt will be charged with wife desertion and the girl will be returned to her parents.

Masons Will Build. Scottish Rite Masons in Des Moines have purchased a site at the corner of Fourteenth and High and will shortly erect thereon a $150,000 Masonic Temple.

Candidate for Superintendent. Formal announcement has been made of the candidacy of D. E. Brainard of Logan, Harrison county, for the position of state superintendent of public instruction to succeed Mr. Riggs. This makes the second candidate to enter the race, the other being A. M. Deyoe of Hancock county. Both are county superintendents.
