WU TING-FANG RECALLED

New Chinese Minister to United States Will Be Chang Tin Tang.

UNIQUE FIGURE IN PUBLIC LIFE

Protest from Washington Probably Saved His Head Just After the Boxer Rebellion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—For the second time in his diplomatic career, Dr. Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese minister to the United States, has been recalled from the Washington mission and has been directed to proceed home, where it is expected he will be assigned to other work.

Dr. Wu's successor, whose selection was announced recently at the Chinese legation, will be Chang Yin Tang, known as a "progressive" in Chinese political affairs and a man who has seen diplomatic service in India, England, Tibet and in the United States. He is regarded generally as a man of wide experience.

Minister Wu is now in Peru, to which place he also is accredited. He has been there for several months and the latest advice from him indicated his intention of remaining for a month longer. Dr. Wu's retirement from Washington removes a picturesque figure from the diplomatic life in the capital. Probably no foreigner is better known in this country than he, for he is a good talker and his pungent wit and bright sallies have been heard and read with interest at many places.

During his second term in Washington, which dates from March, 1908, the minister has attracted attention by his advocacy of vegetarianism, which he exploited both publicly and privately. Dr. Wu believes an adherence to a vegetable diet would prolong life and during his present ministry he said he intended to live to be 100 years old.

During the Boxer troubles in China in the summer of 1900 Minister Wu, in conjunction with Yuan Shai Kai, then viceroy of Shanghai, was successful in getting through a message to the American minister, Mr. Conger, who, with his colleagues, were in the legation compound in Peking and whose fate was a matter of great concern to the State department. An answer from Mr. Conger demonstrated that he had received the message sent by the State department and all was well with the legation officials. It is pointed out as a peculiar coincidence that Wu should be recalled at this time so soon after the downfall of Yuan Shai Kai, his friend.

United States Saves His Head. Wu's sympathies were with the United States during the Boxer troubles and this led to his recall. Only an intimation from this government that his beholding would be offensive to the United States, it is believed, prevented his summary death at the hands of the Chinese authorities. Since Dr. Wu has been in Washington, serving his second term, there have been repeated reports that he was to be recalled, and his answer to these with a shrug of the shoulder, usually was "Perhaps it may be true. The government may have something else for me to do."

There is considerable speculation as to the reasons which have animated the Chinese government in directing his return, but further than the announcement that he is to have another assignment at Peking, nothing seems to be known. It is expected that the minister will return to Washington before going to China, as his family is in this country. The new minister, Chan Yin Tang, from April, 1888, to February, 1899, was consul general at San Francisco and was for a long time attached to the Chinese legation some years ago. The State department has not yet been advised of the appointment of Dr. Wu's successor.

Omaha Men Said to Be Implicated in Gigantic Fraud

Two Hundred Thousand Acres of Rich Coal Lands in Alaska Grabbed Through Dummies.

DENVER, Aug. 13.—Within a month a hearing will begin in Seattle, Wash., that government officials here assert will disclose the proof of gigantic frauds in connection with coal lands in Alaska. The facts pointing to the alleged frauds are known to Secretary Ballinger and Fred Dennett, commissioner of the general land office. That more than 200,000 acres of rich coal lands in Alaska, some of them having veins sixty-five feet in thickness, have been filed upon by dummy entries procured through agents of six large corporations, the land office has ample evidence to prove, according to information made public tonight. The view of Commissioner Dennett. It is given out, is that all entries found to be fraudulent should be cancelled at once.

The government's interest lies in the wish to have the great Alaska coal fields opened to supply coal for the ships of the navy stationed in the Pacific. It is said the opening of the Alaskan deposits will give the United States control of the commerce of the Pacific ocean by reason of its ability to supply fuel from a land almost inexhaustible. One of the coal companies involved in the alleged fraud is located in Seattle, Omaha and Chicago. The so-called dummy entries were recruited principally from the docks of Seattle, the mines of Butte, Mont., and from the laboring classes of Chicago. In many instances, according to government inspectors, these men never saw or heard of each other, although they were described in the filing papers as members of a corporation organized for developing sections of the Alaskan fields.

Notice. A reward of $50 will be paid for the conviction of any person who removes the shoe faces from our street car cards now in the care of the mutilation of the cards in any way.

His Little Joke.

Under the sweltering summer sun he stood in the middle of the blistered street. "Gone!" he shouted, wildly. "Gone! Gone! Gone!" Then strong men emerged from under a sheltering awning and offered their sympathy. "Did your cashier skip with all your funds?" queried one. "No." "Did he run away?" "No." "What's your watch and pocketbook?" "Gone! Gone!" "Then what is thundering in your ears?" "Why, yesterday, my friends, yesterday, before today is gone you should take out a life insurance!" But he got no further. Ten strong and perceptive men took him and dropped him into a horse trough.—Philadelphia Ledger.

LYNCHING-BEE KNOCKED OUT

Features of an Attack on Jail and the Means of Beating Same.

At Newport, Ark., on Sunday night, two men, the sheriff of the county and one of his deputies, stood before the jail and faced a mob of 1,100 negroes. Behind them in the jail was Gus Currie, a desperate black, who a few hours before, had literally cut the heart out of the body of a rival in the affections of a woman of his race. The mob desired his blood. With Currie in the jail were sixteen men accused of murder, sent to Newport because of the massiveness and strength of the jail there, and twenty prisoners accused of minor offenses.

Second Man Arrested in New York Stock Swindle

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—There was a new arrest today in the circle of complexities surrounding young Donald Persch, the note broker, who is charged with the larceny of $10,000 worth of copper stocks put up as collateral with the Windsor Trust company to secure a loan of $50,000 made by M. M. Joyce, a broker for F. Augustus Helms, W. L. Clark, another note broker, but representing Joyce, who is the complainant against Persch, was arrested in the district attorney's office charged with the larceny of $10,000, said to be part of the profits from the curb sales of the stock, which Joyce supposed safe in the vaults of the Windsor Trust company, until he was astonished to buy part of the shares back in the open market. Clark was later released on $10,000 bail. His arrest is based on two checks drawn in his favor by Persch, one for $48.75 and the other for $10,000. The checks were given a few days after the loan had been closed.

Nebraska's Municipal Problems

The Commercial Clubs and similar organizations scattered over Nebraska must be not only the directing force but the business custodian of the municipality.

Organization is the chief impulse of this century; the achievement of any given purpose with the least loss of time and energy.

Our cities are too young to have yet measured the chief real obstacles to be overcome in their development. We have not yet evolved a coherent public opinion through which the state—as a state—can "find voice." We are depending largely upon economic accident, and personal initiative, for our progress along these channels in which we have all a common interest.

The quickest and the cheapest way to build a state is to build it by associated effort. When that is realized it will be acknowledged that the first step is the federation—in some form—of the commercial clubs of Nebraska.

Such a commercial federation would have to be developed as expediency suggested. It could start with no cut and dried program. But it would begin, and labor, and be guided by a mastering idea.

Such an affirmation would foster a watchful spirit of state pride, an active conception of civic honor, a respect for the state, and the cities of the state, equal to the respect we each feel for our family and our home.

Civic pride lies at the bottom of the city beautiful. Every promoter is a booster. Few boosters are promoters. "The Story of Nebraska," is being continued each week in The Sunday Bee and from time to time will speak of the different commercial clubs of the smaller cities, what they have accomplished and what they hope to accomplish.
