WARM ROAST FOR SPEAKER CANNON

information: "You will get the Aldrich bill or nothing."

This is your record upon our financial and currency legislation. I challenge you to find a single living man with so rotten a record.

It was in contemplating the unmeasured losses and terrific consequences to my country, resulting from the crisis of 1897, because of your legislation, prejudice from absolutely unchallenged power as speaker of the house of representatives that I resolved, that so far as in me lay, never again should such a financial tragedy fall upon the American people because the speaker of the house of representatives absolutely controlled legislation.

Therefore I announced myself as a candidate for speaker at the beginning of the Sixty-first congress, but with only one thought, and that was to accentuate the platform upon which I stood.

Do you suppose, sir, that I did not appreciate fully the probable consequence of my act when I undertook to play my part in securing this reform? Do you suppose that I was not aware of your ignorance, prejudice, inordinate conceit, favoritism, petulance, and that like all such characters, possessing absolute power, malice is the mainspring of your every action under such circumstances?

To the membership of the house and to the whole country it is well known, notwithstanding your false pretenses to the contrary, that you were not acting from a sense of duty, nor because I could not secure committee assignments, but because you revel in a glut of brutal power like Nero to terrorize your subjects.

Now, it seems from all that can be learned with reference to the conference upon the Payne bill, that you, with every member's political head in your basket of favors, shuttle-cooked through the "halls" of congress, trying to secure the passage, generally speaking, of the Aldrich bill; and, disfiguring so far as you could the Payne bill, with the exception of a few schedules.

It is reported that one of the senate conferees said that you would not appoint a single conferee unless Mr. Aldrich or K O'K and approved him.

In other words, did you not enter into a conspiracy with Mr. Aldrich to pack the conferees on the part of the house for the express purpose of adopting the senate bill so far as possible instead of the house bill with a few exceptions, when you were honor bound to do everything in your power to secure the adoption of the house bill?

I have gone into these details to lay bare your miserable, contemptible false pretenses and to expose your duplicity, treachery and perfidy to that legislative body over which you preside, whose bill you were bound to defend and not destroy.

Taking all the facts as they appear in the case, from start to finish, a lawyer, an intelligent criminal lawyer, would say that it looked like a conspiracy. You seem to have measured the conditions with accuracy, and to have calculated the distances to the various points of agreement upon the point of consummating your undertaking when the great unknown factor became the determining force.

Both of you seemed to have forgotten that the president was a great lawyer, a judge of large experience, a man of extensive dealings in great affairs, intelligent, honorable, courageous and patriotic. The scheme failed because Mr. Payne and the president stood like honest and brave men for the redemption of the pledges of the republicans party.

Through the scheme failed, it exhibits "Cannottism" in its highest and most perfect development. I challenge you to cite in all our political history a more dishonorable and disreputable piece of business unless, perchance, you cite something in your own career of which the people are not yet advised. Just at this juncture it is most pertinent

FIERCE FEUD IN MISSISSIPPI

Newman and Pritchard Factions at Meadville Prepare to Fight.

MILITIA SENT TO THE SCENE

Trouble Breaks Out Again With Attempt to Assassinate Erector

Newman Sunday Night.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Aug. 23.—Companies B and C, third regiment state guard, left here at 8:15 p. m. Monday morning for Meadville, Miss., to assist Sheriff Jones of Franklin county called for the troops in anticipation of serious trouble tonight, arising from the attempted assassination of Chancery Clerk Ernest Newman last night.

Sheriff Jones notified Lieutenant Governor Mansfield, calling Governor Noel, late today that he did not believe he was able to cope with the situation at Meadville as friends of both factions had been coming into the town from the country all day and was threatening to leave the town.

Up to a late hour today there had been no further outbreaks since Sunday night, when Chancery Clerk Newman was fired on as he sat in his home and badly wounded in the arm, but it was feared that friends of the Newman's and the Pritchard's would clash before morning. The father of Newman was killed a few weeks ago at which time two or three other men were killed, and the present clerk, son of Dr. Newman, was badly wounded.

Young Newman was recently elected to the office of chancery clerk over five opponents. According to a dispatch received from Meadville tonight the man who fired on young Newman last night had been in hiding beneath the Newman home for some time. Newman declares that he heard the click of the gun as it was cocked and jumped to one side of the window as the gun was fired, several of the bullets entering his arm but the greater part of the charge finding lodgment in the ceiling of the room.

After the shooting friends of the Newman gathered by scores, and with the arrival of Sheriff Clarke and the blood hounds from this city the pursuit began. The trail led to a local river stable, but here it ended and so far efforts to fix the identity of the man has been without result.

Two companies of state troops, those from this city, arrived at Meadville early tonight.

CRABTREE TRIED FOR LIFE

crimes, other than in time of war, except that of Private Taylor, who killed Lieutenant Calvert in the Philippines and who was hung for the offense.

The accused was arraigned upon the following charges and specifications, to all of which he pleaded "not guilty": Shooting his superior officer, in violation of the First Article of War.

Specification: In that Private (then Corporal) Lisle B. Crabtree, Troop "B," Second Cavalry, United States Army, on duty at Fort Des Moines, Captain Voss testified that Captain Raymond had been brought to the post hospital Sunday, June 13, just before noon. He was then conscious, but unable to speak, and in severe shock. He dressed a wound in his arm and later in the day, he with Major Bratton, the post surgeon, located the bullet in the spinal column. Later Captain Raymond was taken to the Mercy hospital in Des Moines where Dr. McCarthy removed the bullet from the spinal column. The spinal cord had been cut through about three-quarters of the way and the fifth vertebra had been crushed.

Captain Raymond died about 2 o'clock the morning of July 1, and the post mortem, performed later that day by Captain Voss and Drs. George Culler and Wilton McCarthy of Des Moines, showed that he had died from the effects of the bullet wound. Captain Voss produced and offered in evidence the bullet. He also described the wounds of Sergeant Washburn and Corporal Such.

Private Faber was then called. He, with Private Baroff was with Crabtree the night before the trouble. He told of their trip to Des Moines about 7 o'clock Saturday night. He described their visit to several saloons and to a chop suey restaurant where Crabtree had some trouble with the proprietor and had to be restrained. They went to the Three Star hotel about 11:30 and Crabtree went to bed. Faber went out to the post. He next saw Crabtree the following day on the porch of his quarters and asked him how he felt. Crabtree said he felt fine. He saw Crabtree enter the quarters when he had been sent for by Captain Raymond and soon heard shots, he started for the troop office and heard Captain Raymond say: "Here, what are you trying to do?" and the shouting that ensued.

On cross-examination it was brought out by Faber that Crabtree had had from ten to fifteen glasses of beer Saturday night, but nothing stronger. That he appeared to be perfectly rational and natural Sunday morning at the barracks. That he had complained that he thought the first sergeant had it in for him while talking Saturday night, but that he had expressed the highest regard for Captain Raymond at the same time.

Private Baroff corroborated all the points of the story told by Faber. Private Russell testified that he had seen Crabtree come into his squad room about 11 o'clock Sunday morning and go to his wall locker and take out a small box from which he took something. Sergeant Omella testified that two or three days before the shooting occurred Crabtree had failed to place his revolver in the arm rack after coming off duty and had been leaving the revolver in his possession for some time, but had finally admitted this in the presence of the entire troop.

Two Women Killed in Grade Crossing Accident at Kankakee.

FIVE PERSONS BADLY INJURED

Party of Seven En Route to Cemetery in Run Down by Big Four Train—Cars Obstruct View.

KANKAKEE, Ill., Aug. 23.—Mrs. George Granger, wife of a retired Kankakee merchant, and Miss Genevieve Ratag, a teacher in St. Xavier academy, Chicago, were instantly killed and five other occupants of a touring car were seriously injured when the machine was run over late this afternoon at the Hobble avenue crossing of the Big Four in this city. The party were on their way to Mound Grove cemetery at the time of the accident. An engine and a caboose backing cars on a sidetrack obstructed the view of the automobile driver.

The injured: George Granger, husband of the dead woman, badly cut about the face and head. Miss Amelia Fortin, sister of Mrs. Granger, spine injured, probable internal injuries.

Paul Granger, young son of dead woman, badly injured.

Iris Doie, chauffeur, badly bruised.

were wrecked, many vehicles smashed, the streets littered with window glass, close to 100 doors of houses broken and half a dozen horses shot to death.

Following is a correct list of the known dead: HARRY EXLER, deputy sheriff. GEORGE MILLHAM, deputy sheriff. GEORGE WILLIAMS, trooper. ANTON GUBERNET, trooper. JOHN C. SMITH, trooper. MISS EXLER, strikers.

UNIDENTIFIED WHITE MAN, believed to be striker. During the rioting last night several first cars of the Pittsburg Railway company were damaged, with bricks from freight cars in a siding of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad were used as missiles by the rioters and scattered over a wide territory. Valuable property of other companies was destroyed, resulting in a demand being made of Sheriff Gumbert for more adequate protection.

During the night the sheriff swore in fifty extra deputies, and as many more will be added before tonight. Pooling System Causes Trouble. Six weeks ago today, 2,500 employees of the Pressed Steel Car company, mostly foreigners, walked out on strike. The men declared they would not return to work until a pooling system of wages in force at the car plant at that time was abolished.

By the pooling system the men declared the car company managed to get more work out of them for less money than under a straight day wage scale. The pooling system involved a plan for paying the men as each piece of work was completed, working on the piece receiving a percentage of the cost of the completed job.

At the inception of the strike President Frank Hoffstad of the Pressed Steel Car company made the formal statement that he would not treat with the men in any way except as individuals, and he has stood by his original declaration. When the 2,500 employees of the car shops walked out they had no organization nor were they prepared to stand a long strike siege. However, they got together and appointed committees and began the solicitation of a strike fund, from which has been disbursed from time to time during their six weeks' idleness more than $20,000.

The striking workmen, through their attorneys, have tried many unique ways to bring about either a peaceful settlement of the strike by court intervention, arbitration and by injunction. Laws long forgotten have been brought to the attention of jurists, but in each instance the strikers have lost before the courts.

The car company, in explanation of its stand against its striking men, declares that on account of the inability of the workmen for the greater part to either read or write English, it is impossible for the car company officials to convince them that a pooling system, whereby a man draws small wages one week and large wages the next, is reasonable.

UNCLE SAM FIGHTS REDUCTION

Government Tries to Prevent Lowering of Oil Price to Indians by Standard.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Interior department, which guards the interests of the Indians, does not intend to permit the Standard Oil company to reduce the price which the Indian oil producers in Oklahoma have been receiving for their crude petroleum if Acting Secretary Pierce can devise any plan to require the oil company to pay the 4 cents a barrel which the Indians have been getting. It is alleged the Standard Oil company contemplates a reduction of the price to 3 cents a barrel and the charge is also made that in reducing the price which it pays for the crude oil advantage is being taken of the new Payne tariff law.

Several conferences have been held by Mr. Pierce and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Valentine to consider the proposed action of the oil company and devise a plan for the protection of the Indians. BARTELSVILLE, Okla., Aug. 23.—The price of crude oil was cut to 3 cents a barrel on July 21 last by the Prairie Oil and Gas company, effective on the date A bulletin of the effect was posted at the company's office here and throughout the southwest at the time.

ing assured that he was told Crabtree that that ended the matter and they would drop it. Crabtree then started to leave the office, but he was called back by Captain Raymond if he would reduce him to the grade of a private, as he did not think he could do the duties of a corporal. Captain Raymond had said that he was a good corporal, but if he wanted to he might put in his application to be reduced and he would talk it over with him, but that he was not going to do so. Again Crabtree started to leave and turned again and asked when the captain would approve his application. The captain said he did not do those things offhand and to wait until they could talk the matter over and added, "That's all, corporal." Again Crabtree started for the door and turned and stood looking at the captain. The captain looked up, saw him and told him to go upstairs and he would send for him later, if he had time to see him that day, and again said, "That's all, corporal." Crabtree turned again and said, "No, by God, captain, that's not all," and began to shoot.

Crabtree started to shoot, but he was not allowed to. He was fired while Crabtree was holding his hand in the air and while Washburn and Captain Raymond were struggling with him, both trying to secure the gun. The fifth shot was fired while they were falling to the floor. After this Crabtree snapped the empty pistol against the head of Washburn, saying that he would kill him anyway.

Paul Ham also made a record in the endurance test today, but Lefebvre, Fombrache, Bouchard, Desgranges, Lambert, Cockburn, Buhau-Varille, Gobron, Latham, Tilsander and Farman qualified with flights varying from 200 meters to 2 1/2 kilometers, the majority contenting themselves with covering sufficient distance to get within the limit. During Paulham's long flight check lines took place between him and Bleriot and Lefebvre, the two latter outspeeding the high flying Paulham. Bleriot appeared while Paulham was completing his fourth round and with his 30 horse-power monoplane swiftly overhauled the biplane under the biplane, leaving it far behind.

Two monoplanes having been put out of commission by a slight accident in landing, Latham succeeded in making his best flight with an untried machine with an aluminum propeller.

Until Saturday when the international event will be decided the flying is likely to be less interesting during the first two days, but popular as well as scientific and expert enthusiasm over aviation shows no sign of abatement. This polemic of the course by French soldiers and mounted dragons is the subject of general satisfaction. Squadrons of dragons inside the field are often compelled to escape on the gallop from some flying machine.

Among the hundreds of Americans here are Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Nat Goodwin, William H. Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Killbridge of Cleveland.
