STREET FUND IS CRIPPLED

Only Ten Thousand Dollars Left for Four Months.

OTHER FUNDS SIMILARLY LOW

Dahlman Administration Does Not Get a Very Clean Bill from the Report of City Comptroller Lobeck.

With only seven months gone there remains in the city street cleaning fund only $10,000 out of the original appropriation for the department for the year of $46,572.50—leaving for poorly kept streets.

This is according to the official statement of City Comptroller Lobeck as to the condition of the department funds up to August 1, with a few incidental expenses paid during the first two weeks of the current month.

Dividing the street cleaning fund into twelve equal parts for the twelve months of the year, only $3,883 could be spent a month. Therefore during the first seven months of the year $26,643 should have been spent, leaving $19,929 for the last five months of the year. Instead of this the department has spent $35,000 already this year and a balance of only $10,000 remains for the rest of the year, or only $2,000 a month.

It has generally been the custom to spend more during the month of September than during any other one month on account of the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival being held that month and the advisability of having the city clean when there are thousands of visitors within her gates. Business men have deemed it especially advisable to have the city clean the coming month because the Eagles will be here then as well as the Ak-Sar-Ben. But with only $10,000 to run the department through August, October, November and December, with the snows of the latter two months, the street commissioner's department acknowledges the fact that nothing extra can be done in September. If anything, the street cleaning force will have to be cut down.

Other departments have exceeded their appropriations so far during the year, the excess being based on the average per month. On this average the fire department is $2,000 short and the police department is $4,000 short. A balance of $20,975 remains in the fire department out of an original fund of $180,334, while out of an original fund of $147,435 in the police department a balance of $4,443 remains.

Indian Goes Into Bankruptcy

Charles Green Rainbow Has Assets of Nearly $10,000 and Liabilities $430.

With assets amounting to $9,800 and liabilities of only $432.55, Charles Green Rainbow, an Indian policeman upon the Winnebago reservation, has filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy in the United States district court.

His assets are all real estate, which was allotted to him or which he inherited, and therefore, by the act of congress of February 3, 1888, are exempt from all liens and encumbrances of every kind and nature. In his own name he has no money or ponies. His wife, though, has considerable cash and several horses.

Rainbow's mark, as placed on the petition in several places, is made by the print of his thumb. In most petitions the mark is made by a cross, but Rainbow in placing his mark in the petition pressed his thumb on a red ink pad and then made an impression on the paper.

GRAFF LAYS NO BAN ON PUPILS' BILL OF FARE

High School Principal Allows Anything Good Eaten or Drank at Building.

Prof. Ellis U. Graff, principal of the high school, likes pie and is of the opinion its consumption by the high school boys and girls will not hurt them or detract from their studies. In addition to this liking for pie, the principal is partial to ice cream and advises people to eat it.

As he believes in pie and ice cream he has given permission to Miss Cornelia Giddings, who is to have charge of the high school lunch room under the new regime, to make all the pie and ice cream she wants to. Also, she can make other pastries and goodies if she can find sale for them. Practically nothing will be barred in the new lunch room and the students will be allowed to drink black coffee or weak tea and eat about what they please.

The high school lunch room will be run under school supervision for the first time this year. Heretofore the Women's Christian Temperance union has had the concession. Miss Giddings, who will have charge of it, comes from the Central High school in St. Louis and is an experienced woman in the work. Prior to going to St. Louis she had charge of a lunch room in Boston for the Women's club, where 1,500 women were fed every noon.

School will open September 7 and the lunch room in the basement is now being refitted and refurbished.

SUGAR KING LIKES OMAHA

Henry T. Oxnard is impressed with the growth of Gate City of the West.

Henry T. Oxnard, the best sugar king, spent the day in Omaha, the guest of General Manderson, who was his attorney for years. He was taken over the city in the general's automobile and was much impressed with the growth and activity of Omaha, which he had not seen for some years.

"I have been up in Scott's Bluff county and am also impressed with the rising possibilities of that part of Nebraska," said Mr. Oxnard.

He is on his way east.

LICENSE FOR LOAN SHARKS

Fee of One Hundred Dollars Contemplated in Ordinance Prepared by Brucker. Loan sharks in Omaha are to be licensed and taxed. Councilman Brucker has ready for introduction an ordinance requiring all persons operating money loan agencies to take out a license to cost $100 a year, a heavy penalty being provided for failure to do so. In addition to this license the loan shark must put up a bond of $1,000.

Ralph O. Urban Wants $25,000 Damages for 85 Degrees White in Jail.

Another damage suit has been filed by Ralph O. Urban against the C. F. Adams company of Denver. He asks for $25,000 for alleged false imprisonment on a forged charge, declaring that he suffered that much by being confined in jail for fifteen days when the thermometer was at 85 degrees all the day round.

No Milk Famine and No Cause to Raise Price

So Assert City Health Commissioner and Veterinarian Young, Who Believe in Combine.

"There is no milk famine in Omaha. Further, there is no excuse for the price of milk being raised," said Dr. R. W. Connell, city commissioner of health, and Dr. G. R. Young, city veterinarian.

"There is plenty of milk, as much as there always is at this time of the year, and the only famine I know of is what I read about in some of the papers," said Dr. Connell. "There is no legitimate reason for boosting the price."

Both these men take the view that prices are raised arbitrarily by the creamery and dairy men, who are in a combine to squeeze the people.

Dr. Young said that always at this time of the year there is something of a shortage of milk, but not enough to call it a famine or to cause the dairymen to raise the price of their product.

"It is too early to put the cows in the barn and give them dry feed, and it is getting too late to get much green food for them in the pastures," said the veterinarian, "but I have not seen any famine, and, as far as I know, every man, woman and child in Omaha is getting all the milk he or she wants."

Both of the officials scoff at the idea that the new ordinance requiring all dairies to pasteurize their milk or to have their cows subjected to the tuberculin test has had anything to do with the boost in the price of milk.

Four Men Kill Horse While in a Heat Trance

Italians Imagine They Are Hunting Chamois in the Foothills of the Alps.

Tony Tobue, Joe Montefiore, Marino Ripaula and Joe Tierco are four Italian laborers who used to work on the Lane cut-off just across the fence from Herman Muenster's pasture lot.

Shoveling dirt is no pleasant occupation and not very long ago, after having moved from their old quarters, these four expatriates all went crazy from the heat. From their bunk house they dug up an old carbine that had seen service with Cavour and went gunning.

Once more they were hunting chamois in the foothills of the Alps. They marched through the fence and into Muenster's pasture. Across the horizon ambled Myrtle, Muenster's old gray mare. Marino, who was in the lead, signaled the enemy and the carbine opened fire. Myrtle sank upon the ground a corpse.

Jap Fights to Stay in Prison

Refusing to leave jail at the expiration of his ninety day term Wednesday morning, John Honk, a Japanese vagrant, had a lively tussle with Deputy Sheriff Gardipee and Collopy at the county jail and was finally was thrown out bodily by them.

The city and county jailers declare that the man is never happier than when eating Douglas county food, and that he has spent most of the last few years of his life in jail.

STREET PREACHER ATTRACTS ATTENTION BY LOW TONES

Commands Notice and Holds It by an Earnest, Emphatic Speech.

A street corner preacher has discovered a new method and an effective one. Evening pedestrians passing the corner of Sixteenth and Douglas have observed wonderfully a little group of men standing beside the sidewalk and many men have rushed up under the impression that a fight was about to begin.

When they got near they could hear a quiet voice saying: "Now, the wonderful thing about the prophecies of the Old Testament is that they are absolutely—"

Sometimes the men looking for the fight turned away in disgust and sometimes they stayed to see the new manner of street corner oratory this might be.

A block down the street Salvation Armyists and Volunteers were expostulating and expounding in no dulcet tones and a few independent wayfaring gospel shouters were also holding forth in sonorous tones.

The new man spoke in a low voice, but with a distinct enunciation that enabled all to hear him. He had a trick of emphasizing every word that made all he said sound terribly important, as perchance, it was. Anyhow, he is a veritable pioneer among open-air evangelists.

Illinois Central Puts Traveling Passenger Agents Back on the Road.

V. E. Labbe has been appointed traveling passenger agent out of Omaha for the Illinois Central route. John G. Linton, city ticket agent in Omaha, effective September 1.

The significance of this is that in the fall of 1907, when the financial stringency came along, Mr. Labbe, who was then traveling agent, was with many other agents of the Illinois Central, taken off the road. The Illinois Central, with other railroads of the west, curtailed its business seeking forces on the ground that it was necessary to retrench. The reappointment of Labbe and Linton to their original positions is taken as evidence that President Harahan considers times good enough to cease his retrenchment policy.

The Case of B. E. Wise

Wise was a big man on the "street."

His ideas were larger and involved more money and brains than most men dared to invest.

Wise's wisdom lacked in but one particular—he failed to consider Nature's laws of compensation. The result—Wise gave out. Some said "Old Wise is all in." They were wrong.

Wise's physician said "DIGESTO for those wasted tissues and jaded brain cells."

Wise was soon back in the game—he now has snap and energy to spare.

FLORENCE IS UNDER SIEGE

City is Occupied by Douglas County Veterans' Association.

BIVOUACED IN PUBLIC PARK

Forces Under General Lochner Will Not Evacuate the Captured Territory Until Late Saturday Night.

The city of Florence has been besieged. It was captured early yesterday by a detachment from the Douglas County Veterans' association, under command of August Lochner, president. The siege will not be lifted until Saturday night, when the troops will evacuate the city and march on back to their various quarters.

The veterans are bivouaced in the beautiful little city park and are holding their annual encampment. Their camp takes the name of Major Thomas A. Creigh, after the late veteran who had so much to do with the affairs of this association. The first day is to be devoted to business and the veterans will scarcely get down to unrestrained pleasure till tonight.

Mayor Tucker of Florence formerly gave the park and city over to the veterans and President Lochner assumed command. Tents have been erected on the grounds for the veterans and their families, and every convenience is provided. All the accoutrements of camp life are there. The main tent will seat 1,000 persons, and here the formal exercises will be held. There are thirty or forty smaller tents. Old Glory waves from the lofty top of a flag pole erected specially for this occasion in the middle of the park. Fifes and drums will pipe and beat their plaintive tunes to recall the days spent on other tenting grounds and in a warfare more real. And the old boys in blue will vie with each other in relating the struggles, privations, hardships and adventures of those eventful days.

But all will not be solemn. Levity will play its part. Dancing every night will be a feature. The drill team of the Modern Woodmen of America has erected a large dance pavilion, and other forms of amusement for the young and old have been arranged.

MRS. ELLISON NO. 3 DENIES SHE IS SEEKING DIVORCE

She and the Captain Were Married in Chicago Five Weeks Ago.

"Some knocker started that story," declared Mrs. Francis Ellison when asked if rumor were true that she and Captain Ellison had separated.

It will be some time before people that there is a Mrs. Ellison. It is, in fact, however, that the captain made his third matrimonial adventure in Chicago five weeks ago.

The divorce secured by Mrs. Ellison No. 2, was granted last spring.

Mrs. Ellison No. 1, whom a decree of divorce also cleaved from Captain Ellison, lives in Colorado.

The present Mrs. Ellison denied emphatically a report which has arisen that she and her husband were not getting along, and that she contemplated a divorce.

CHARGED WITH NEW CRIME DAY HE GETS OUT OF JAIL

Man with Several Names is Not Yet Through Answering to Uncle Sam.

With only a few hours left of a six months' sentence that he was serving for using the mails to defraud, M. Bloom, alias Z. E. Lipka, alias J. E. Converse, was arraigned before the United States commissioner at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning on another charge for which he was indicted at Topeka. This second indictment was for fraudulent use of the United States mails.

Bloom pleaded guilty to the charge placed against him here and was sentenced to serve six months in jail. This sentence expired at noon Thursday. Just two hours before that time was up he was taken before the commissioner and arraigned. His trial was postponed to 8 a. m. September 2. His bond was fixed at $1,000, which he was not able to furnish, and he was committed to jail.

Reading Novels is Dissipation, Says Dr. Bell

As Disastrous to Soul and Home as the Dissipation of Drink.

"The gobbling down whole of the popular novels of the day is as injurious as drinking, and it is a dissipation just as disastrous to the home and to the individual soul as is the dissipation of drink."

So declared Dr. Sanford Bell of Denver in an address before the teachers in attendance at the Douglas county institute.

"People nowadays seek and demand exciting novels, stories that bring new thrills, just as they demand new amusements at the summer resorts and new drinks at the bar. The danger is that genuine motives and ideals are not given. Every motive that has a tendency to begot good in you or your neighbor is good, but motives that injure are bad. The poet who perverts your soul is already damned and is damning you."

Superintendent Graham of the South Omaha schools in his talk to the teachers, said he wished he could talk to the parents for a brief period, just long enough to tell them that the child is not sent to the school to be corrected, but to be educated. "Too many parents, he said, unable to control the child at home send him to school and put it up to the teacher to straighten him out."

"The teacher is not a corrective force, neither is she simply an educative force, she is primarily a creative force," said Superintendent Graham. "The grand work of the teacher, primarily the primary teacher, is to instill in the mind of the child some motive."

WARNING NOTE TO AUTOISTS

Arrest Will Follow Every Accident Where Driver is Caught.

POLICE ON WATCH FOR SPEEDERS

Determined to Stop Reckless Disregard of Life—Mania for Speed Charge Ready to Be Filed Against Liggett.

County Attorney English has prepared the complaint formally charging Guy Liggett with manslaughter and will file the complaint Thursday morning. Mr. Liggett's automobile killed John M. Campbell and Mr. Liggett was running the machine. "Every auto driver who causes an accident or injury by running into a person, will be arrested," says Chief of Police Donahue and Captain Mostyn, the latter in charge at the police station in the day time. "We will go the limit in seeing that careless or negligent automobilists are punished and whenever we can catch them, they will be arrested pending an investigation."

"It is hard to do so, though," says Captain Mostyn, "for the average policeman is unable to judge speed and, as autoists who run down people are sometimes too cowardly to do anything but run away afterward, we are handicapped."

"Children and irresponsible persons must stop operating machines. Joy riding must also stop, and we will do our best to stop it, too."

Detectives on the Trail. Detectives are active in investigating several of the recent reports of accidents where the automobilists have escaped without being identified.

Harold Cooper, 1813 North Thirty-sixth street, is the latest auto victim whose case has been reported to the police. They learned from Cooper's brother-in-law, a Mr. Blue, that Cooper was run down Tuesday evening by an auto which is said to have been driven at a furious pace, at Twenty-sixth and Hamilton streets, where Cooper was hurt. He was riding a bicycle and is now confined to his bed from his injuries, which are reported as being serious. Blue asked the police to investigate and officers are now working on the case.

"Deaf and Dumb" Crook Flies Into a Rage and Discloses His Craft.

A "deaf and dumb" man who can hear and talk is the latest character to be noted by the police.

James A. Woodman, who has an office in the McCauley building, was approached by the man, who solicited money by means of a small printed card. When Mr. Woodman suspected the fellow and referred him to the county commissioners for aid the man, whose card declared him to be an "unfortunate deaf and dumb trying to get together enough money to start an honest business," suddenly was endowed with the powers of hearing and speech and flew into a rage at Mr. Woodman. The door was shown to the fellow instead of any aims and the police are now on his track.

He is described as being about 30 years of age, 135 pounds in weight, five feet nine inches in height, of chunky build, with dark gray clothes, black soft hat and dirty hands and face.
