BELIEVES BRYAN WILL RUN
 Governor Thinks Peerless Will Be a Candidate for Senator.
 RETURNS MOTOR COMPANY CASH
 Secretary Refuses to Accept McKee's Corporation Tax on Conditions Under Which It Was Sent to Him.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Governor Ashton C. Shallenberger, who may be a candidate for United States senator himself next year, believes William J. Bryan will be a candidate and he says Mr. Bryan has a chance of being elected. In discussing the campaign next year, Governor Shallenberger said:

"The tariff will be the big issue in the next campaign and the man who is elected will be the candidate who stands for a decided reduction. It is my judgment that in Nebraska the majority of the people are not in favor of the tariff bill that passed and that reason it will be a very live issue in this state.

"I am very much in favor of our law which provides that the senator shall be elected by a popular vote, for it is very seldom that the people err in such matters. I am of the opinion Mr. Bryan will be a candidate for United States senator, and if he consents to make the race I believe he will be elected.

Governor Shallenberger has taken a deep interest in the differences between Forester Pinchot and Secretary Ballinger since he has had an opportunity to read up on the matter and he expressed the hope that the fight would not go so far that either would be forced to retire from the service.

In discussing these two and Director Newell of the reclamation service, the governor said: "Both Pinchot and Newell have won their places, and they should be retained in the service to complete the great work they have commenced. I do not criticize Secretary Ballinger, for he is an able man and has done much good work, but I hope the differences between the two departments will not become so acute that either Pinchot or Newell will be forced to resign. They should be solicited to remain in office."

Split Up Prohibition Debate.
 The committee in charge of the Woman's Christian Temperance union program at the state fair has concluded to have Senator Patrick speak on Tuesday and Mayor Dahlman and W. H. Price speak the following day. Dahlman and Patrick in one day was concluded to be too hot a program for this weather, so Mr. Price, who always manages to keep cool, was substituted for the joint discussion.

Motor Company Money Returned.
 Because the McKee Motor company made such a vigorous demand for the return of its $100 paid under the occupation tax law, Secretary of State Junkin returned the money to the company with the announcement that when the company produced a receipt from the state treasurer showing the fee had been paid to the state, then he would issue a permit for the company to do business.

In his letter, which accompanied the check, Mr. McKee said he paid the fee not because he wanted to, but because he had to and it was paid under duress and protest and he served notice on the secretary of state not to permit any part of a money to get out of his possession and that he would upon the letter by demanding that the money be returned to him at once.

Mr. Junkin, under the law, is authorized to take the money, but he is protesting from taking it under the constitution. So as an accommodation to the public he has been accepting the money and paying it to the treasurer himself, who object, however, he simply notice on them to pay the money to the treasurer and bring the receipt to him, else no permit will be issued.

No Street Restaurants.
 Persons who attend the state fair with the expectation of buying a real ham on the street corner will be disappointed. Upon the promise of the local health men, Mayor Love has decided no permits for the construction of feeding places. The restaurant men object to the churches serving hungry multitude during the fair, and, however, visitors to Lincoln found it pretty hard to get their time when there is a crowd with the churches and restaurants over time.

Denies Interview.
 Mayor Love's friends are having a hard time at his expense because of a published from him over in the Lincoln. The mayor was quoted as stating the liquor interests in the state for a commission plan of the state and that the fact those who charter secured a petition for a referendum, which was signed by a number of business men and Mayor Love led all the rest, the mayor denied giving any such information.

Must Be Tested.
 A man who has sent a number of thoroughbred cattle to the fair, and who has been given a certificate of quarantine, must be tested.

 laws, together with a statement that all cattle sold at the fair must be examined and given the tuberculosis test.
 Governor Invited to Speak.
 Governor Shallenberger received an invitation this morning to speak to the Jefferson club of Los Angeles. The president of the club wrote the governor that he understood he intended to visit Los Angeles this summer and if such were the case the club desired the governor to make a speech on any Saturday afternoon.

Band Concert Sunday.
 The protest of the ministers of Lincoln against a band concert at the state fair Sunday, the opening day, failed. The board decided to go ahead with the arrangement, the band has received the free advertising and everything is lovely once more. Rev. Mr. Batten called upon the secretary of the board this morning and said the newspapers here had been a little too radical in their report of the doings of the preachers. What the ministers objected to, he said, was anything that would break into the observance of the Sabbath day. He did not know when the discussion first came up it had been customary in the past to charge admission to the fair on Sundays. He left well satisfied with the arrangements of the fair board. The concert will be held at 2:30 o'clock. After the hour of 2:30 the admission of 25 cents will be charged and before that hour 50 cents will be charged to get into the grounds.

Aurora Man Gets Place.
 Fritz Hofer of Aurora has been appointed a member of the Board of Optometry in place of Max Edge of Grand Island. The term is for three years and dates from August 15.

Governor Denies Story.
 Of the charge that he had demanded a 15 per cent reduction on purchases made by him of local merchants, Governor Shallenberger said it was absolutely untrue. He said when Mrs. Shallenberger went to settle some bills against the state for supplies for the mansion, she was told to deduct 15 per cent and also deduct 15 per cent for the private bills and this was done. When a second firm presented a bill Mrs. Shallenberger asked if there was to be any reduction and she was told a reduction of 15 per cent would be made for goods bought for the state, but no reduction for goods bought for private use.

By the firm from which she accepted a reduction Mrs. Shallenberger said she had been told it had been customary to make a reduction on goods bought by the governor and the governor has since been instructed that all officers behind the fore legs, the colt was pulled out, none the worse, for its experience except a little soreness.

JUDGE ESTELLE BOOSTS OMAHA.
 Tells Chautauquans of the Work of the Juvenile Court.
 MONTGOMERY, Mo., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Judge L. S. Estelle of Omaha spoke to a large crowd at the chautauque in this city this afternoon on the subject of "The Juvenile Court." It was somewhat amusing and yet refreshing to hear the judge stand up and advertise his home town and state. One would have thought that he was sent out for the special purpose of advertising Nebraska and boosting Omaha.

He said Omaha was the best, the most progressive and most city of the United States and Nebraska the most prosperous state in the union.

NEBRASKAN KILLED IN NEW YORK.
 Daniel Bartlett of St. Paul Struck by Train.
 UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Daniel Bartlett of St. Paul, Neb., was killed by a train at Sidney this afternoon. No one at that place had ever seen the man before, but a traveling bag he carried contained documents that revealed his name and disclosed the fact that he was enroute to Franklin to visit his brother. He was walking along the track toward the tunnel, and was struck by the New York milk train just as he reached the entrance. He died as he was being carried to the railroad physician's office, a short distance away. He was 32 years old.

ALBION FARMER IS KILLED.
 Struck by an Elevator While Working Hay and Neck Broken.
 ALBION, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Barney Cassen, a prosperous farmer, met with a fatal accident at his farm, about four miles west of here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cassen was stacking hay, when he was struck by a large hay elevator propelled by horse power, knocking him to the ground and breaking his neck. Mr. Cassen had lived in this county for several years, and had purchased the farm upon which he met his death about a year ago.

Boys Shot at from Ambush.
 HUMBOLDT, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Ernest Keiser and Charlie Davis, two young farmer boys from west of town, report a narrow escape from what appears to have been an ambush a few nights ago when they were on their way to town. While passing the farm of Gus Boeck, the German farmer ordered to the asylum for the insane last week, someone took several shots at them, some of the missiles coming uncomfortably close, striking the buggy and passing through their clothing. Fortunately no damage was done, but they are at a loss to know who is responsible for the attack. Both of the young men were active in searching for the lost Boeck child last week and were among those who gave evidence against Boeck at the insanity hearing. However, the man Boeck is still in custody, and who else would have a grievance against them is a mystery.

 Bridge Carpenter Drops Off Train When Headgear Blows Off and is Killed.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Cornelius J. Wiggelenkhuysen, aged 24 years, a carpenter belonging to Daulton's bridge gang of the Burlington, was frightfully mangled last night by fast freight No. 43, about sixteen miles out of here.

While returning from work on a hand car, Wiggelenkhuysen's hat blew off, and, instead of stopping for it, he went on to the side of the car. When he reached the spot where the hat was, it is presumed he dropped off and fell under the wheels, where he met death in a most horrible manner.

Papers found in his valise indicate Wiggelenkhuysen was a Hollander, but he told his associates that he was born in Cologne, and was a deserter from the German army. He was highly educated and an expert telegrapher. Coroner Cole empaneled a jury, which returned a verdict of accidental death.

Goes Into Well
to Rescue Colt
 Girl Lowered Seventy-Five Feet and Places Strap Around Animal's Body.
 CALLAWAY, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—On the farm of John Beechler, residing north of this city, is an old dug well, some seventy-five feet deep. This well is kept covered up, but the rains have caused the side to cave in, and a sucking colt got too close to the edge yesterday, the bank caving off, precipitating the colt to the bottom, seventy-five feet below. It so happened that one of the Beechler boys was close by and saw the accident. Calling for help, a windlass was brought into service, and one of the boys was lowered, but had gone to a short distance when he saw a large bull snake, and yelled to be pulled up. He would not venture down again, and his sister volunteered to go down. She was lowered, found the colt alive, and, placing a strap around the little animal's breast and behind the fore legs, the colt was pulled out, none the worse, for its experience except a little soreness.

Two-Thirds Crop in Buffalo.
 KEARNEY, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The condition of the corn crop in this section of the country has been a subject of considerable comment and various opinions of late and Wednesday afternoon a number of Kearney business men made a journey of forty-five miles for the purpose of verifying one of the various statements made on the outlook. Many farmers and others have had merchants half frightened by continually growing about corn crop failure. The rest was either classed as medium or good and more good corn was reported than medium.

Attempt to Rob Store.
 FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—An attempt at burglary at the Uhley & Diller clothing store was frustrated early last evening. About 9:30 a light was noticed in the store by the Independent telephone girls across the alley from the place. They investigated and saw two men busily piling up clothing, apparently preparing to make a haul. The matter was reported to the officials and Officer Hurless summoned help and went to the rear of the store. When he reached the scene the men had two large piles of clothes ready to carry away. A man was stationed at the back door and the other broke a large plate glass in the front of the building and ran down E street. The officer saw the fleeing man and emptied his revolver after him, but failed to cripple the man.
