Minnesota-Sioux City-

D. C. SCOTT, D.V.S. (Successor to Dr. H. L. Ramacciotti.)

ASSISTANT STATE VITURINABIAN,

The Spirit of Nebraska

Many writers have exhausted themselves in discussing the spirit of Nebraska. The hopefulness, the courage, the enthusiasm of the Nebraska citizens cannot be avoided. His pride is boundless, his faith is far reaching. His belief in the men, his admiration for the women, and his confidence in the institutions of his locality, makes him eloquent as he espouses them. It is a fine spirit and the right one. It will carry a man far, and it will carry a community farther if its men all join in it.

It is sufficient to state here that a tidal wave of progressiveness has struck the county seats and small cities of Nebraska. Opportunity has knocked at their door, and they hastened to undo the latch. If the city and country towns are to hold their own, in the present strenuous struggle for existence and advancement, they must adapt measures to remove every possible cause of friction in their machinery of trade.

Publicity is the key to the twentieth century business success. He who has a business must get it before the world, or the world will pass him by. The general laws of publicity, which apply to ordinary business institutions apply with additional force to municipalities, to communities and cities. To settle up a country you must attract emigration by exploiting its resources. To build up a town or city you must advertise to the world its industrial and commercial possibilities.

For this purpose there has sprung up in nearly every town and villiage in Nebraska some kind of public organization, working for the industrial development of the community. All these have one aim in view-the betterment of the town and the small city, that it may be a more pleasant place in which to live and therefore more prosperous. These associations are found in nearly every live community. To these bodies are intrusted the unscheduled and undefinable possessions of the public. It is for them to marshal and exploit the resources of their particular territory by advertising them as they would goods in their own personal business.

The woking capital, or more strictly speaking, the stock in trade of any municipality is the unoccupied territory. The industrial, raw material, and the business opportunities within its particular sphere of influence. Every home town is a center of industry, the throbbing, dominating heart of its surronding community.

It is quite plain that the time has arrived for a stirring up of the community conscience to a realization of the duty the individual owes to his town. Every good citizen owes allegiance first to his family; second to the community in which he rives; and third, to the nation. Selfishness, when home is an object, is almost a virtue. What is needed are more and more who will appreciate their obligation to organized communities. The country towns and small cities in Nebraska that from whatever cause fail to take advantage of every trade wind that blows to retain its legitimate local business, will lose out in the race. But the town that organizes its forces and makes an intelligent and systematic fight for its own will win out and prosper and wax strong.

The average Nebraska country town is up-to-date on everything except the highways that lead to it.

The common highways bear the same relation to the country town that the railroads bear to the great commercial center. They are gatherers of business. The introduction of the telephone, the rural free delivery, the trolley line and the automobile, instead of decreasing, has enlarged the trade territory of the country town. The Nebraska people are noted for their habit of getting together and talking things over. This custom of interchanging ideas among various classes of workers, as the farmer, the manufacturer, the artisan, the merchant, the banker and the professional man, is most strongly established in these prairie counties where civilization has made the greatest strides. It has come to be natural for him to accomplish by co-operation what he cannot do alone. The man who has pride in his home town and who, if it does not meet his ideas, works and strives to arouse enthusiasm in others to make it such, is the best citizen. Just as we are considered a nation practically, sufficient unto ourselves, so the citizens of Nebraska are loyal to home institutions.

It is for these reasons that "The Story of Nebraska" is being told in The Omaha Sunday Bee. The investigations are being made with care, and the stories of the counties are told conservatively. They are accomplishing great good for Nebraska.

to pay a judgment of $10,000.

Besides the sheriff's officers who arrested Voliva, he was accompanied by Captain A. A. Walker of Zion City, his personal bodyguard and attendant, and several of his closest friends. He brought along a full supply of stationery and papers and asserted that his editorial work for the Zion Herald and Leaves of Healing would be continued bepm hind the bars of the jail. The leader of the Dowletes must serve six months in jail because he refuses to pay a judgment of $10,000 awarded to Phillip Motherill, formerly a resident of am Zion City. Motherill, of the now triuph-ON ant faction in Zion City, alleged that Vollva had libeled him in his newspaper. Voliva retained three attorneys yesterday and it was reported last night that he intended to make an effort to regain his liberty through habeas corpus proceedings pm today. His counsel, A. K. Stearns, D. T. Smiley, and George W. Field, last evening refused to discuss the matter. They held long conferences with the religious leader. "I am in jail where I shall remain," am Voliva said. "I- am standing out for a am principle and I will never pay the $10,000 judgment. After my prosecution for alleged libel the jury returned a verdict for $29,000. The trial judge cut the findings in two. The excessive verdict shows conclusively that the jurors were ruled by passion and prejudice. 'After an execution was issued and a verbal demand made on me for the $10,600 and costs of the suit I filed a personal property schedule showing I was not able to pay the money. Then a capias was issued am and I was arrested today. I will continue to c 6:20 pm run the two Zion City papers and write editorials from the jail. I have no fear of iron bars when I know that I am
