GETTING BACK TO BIG GUNS

Peace Promoter of Huge Type Nearing Completion. WEIGHS OVER SIXTY-THREE TONS

Fourteen-inch Breech-Loader for the American Navy Will Have a Range of Twenty-Five Miles.

Advice has been received at Washington to the effect that the giant 14-inch breech-loading gun being built at the works of the Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia for the Navy department, and which when completed will be the largest and most powerful naval weapon in the world, will be delivered toward the end of September.

reached anything like the excessive pressures and temperatures such as are used in the modern 12-inch weapons using cordite or smokeless powder. When the 12-inch gun came into fashion as a more powerful weapon than the old 10-inch gun of our own navy and the 10 1/2-inch gun of the old Royal Sovereign class of battle ships in the British navy, the construction of the larger sized bore ceased.

Comparative Sizes. The contract for the 14-inch gun was awarded to the Midvale company in January of this year, and the award requires its delivery within forty-two weeks, or by November 3, 1909.

Shell's Speed Half Mile a Second. This new 14-inch gun will have an extreme range of over twenty-five miles, although the range at which it would fire in actual battle would be about 3,000 yards, or five miles.

FLYING NOT SO DANGEROUS

Not a Single Bad Accident Recorded at the Late Aviation Meet at Rheims.

A remarkable feature of the international aviation meet at Rheims is the fact that the week closed without a single fatality or serious accident.

Real French Wines from France. The French government is considering a rotating motion, which will make the shell spin around rapidly on its flight through the air and prevent the huge projectile from turning on end and losing its force.

Process of Civilization. "Why do we send missionaries to the savages?" "To civilize them."

Did't Wear 'Em.

Jimmie giggled when the teacher read the story of the Roman who swam across the Tiber three times before breakfast.

Did't Wear 'Em. "No, sir," answered Jimmie, "but I wondered why he didn't make a fourth and get back to the side his clothes were on."
