SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 10.—After adopting a declaration of principles, which included in endorsement of a federal income tax, and effecting a continuation of its efforts for the rehabilitation of the Democratic issue.

The adoption of the income tax was accomplished only after extended debate. The declaration of principles follows:

The democrats assembled in conference at Saratoga, September 9 and 10, 1909, announced the following as their understanding of certain essential democratic principles and policies.

A strict construction of constitutions, both state and federal that the rights of the state and people respectively may be preserved.

Loyal support of the federal government in the exercise of its constitutional powers, eternal vigilance in watching and detecting and vigorous and persistent opposition to any and all encroachments of federal power that trench upon those reserved to the states or to the people.

A tariff for revenue only, to be levied on imports and exports, and to be applied to special interests either directly or through protective tariff.

Reform in our registration and in our primary laws so that the selection of representatives shall be composed of representatives directly chosen by the members of the party.

Reform in our primary laws so as to give the voters a greater direct influence in naming candidates for office, and surrounding the primaries with such safeguards as will insure their honesty and providing the necessary time and legal machinery to insure the choice of a majority of the voters of the state.

Reform in our methods of nominating candidates for public office, so that nominating conventions shall be composed of representatives directly chosen by the members of the party.

Reform in our primary laws so as to give the voters a greater direct influence in naming candidates for office, and surrounding the primaries with such safeguards as will insure their honesty and providing the necessary time and legal machinery to insure the choice of a majority of the voters of the state.

No interference with the personal liberty of steady adherents to the principles and policies of the party.

Exemption of corporations by the state alone, where their creation and regulation should remain federal.

Enforcement of federal and state laws against trusts, combinations and combinations in restraint of trade.

FUNERAL OF E. H. HARRIMAN

member of the family," said the clergyman. "I do not know whether or not Dr. Strempel acquainted Mr. Harriman with his diagnosis of cancer."

Dr. McGuiness insisted that up to the day before Mr. Harriman died his most intimate friends believed that he might get well.

Judge Robert S. Lovett, considered Mr. Harriman's chief business and legal adviser, explained today the essence which baffled all seekers for information regarding Mr. Harriman's condition. He said: "Mr. Harriman's life was so interwoven with Wall street and financial affairs that any change in his condition would have affected the financial world."

To Finish Work on Estate. Partly from Judge Lovett and partly from Charles T. Ford, superintendent of the Harriman estate, it was learned today that the extensive work on the estate planned by Mr. Harriman during the last two years will be carried out according to his wishes.

That was the assumption yesterday, though no one in a position to know had discussed the matter. But Judge Lovett said today: "I understand that Miss Mary Harriman has been entering into her father's plans for the estate and will undoubtedly see that they are carried to completion."

Ford announced later that every one of the workmen who laid down his tools yesterday when the men first learned of their employer's death, will return to work Monday morning. This news relieved an anxiety that affected nearly every home in Arden and Turner.

Mr. Harriman will, the size of his estate, and his probable successor in control of his railroads, were subjects Judge Lovett declined to discuss. "All that will be known in due time," he said.

One report here has it that the millionaire bequeathed 25,000 acres of woodland in Orange county to the state for a park, which the state will assist in improving it.

Two or three relatives, whose names were not ascertained, were the only arrivals at Arden house today.

Messages of Condolence. Messages of condolence poured in on the family all day. Some of those who wired their sympathy were: Ogden Mills, J. Ogden Armour, Chauncey M. Tappan, who cabled from New York; Francis M. Blake, French-Vanderbilt, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mayor Tideman of Savannah, G. August Belmont, William Rockefeller, Robert Golet, Frank Munsey, Whitelaw Reid, Benjamin B. Odell, former governor of New York.

W. H. Averill, Mrs. Harriman's brother, wired that he was on his way here from Los Angeles.

Two more names were added to the list of active pallbearers this afternoon, making eight in all. The additions are J. B. Ford, assistant superintendent of the estate, and George W. Ruzey, assistant superintendent of the Arden farms. All selected are heads of departments in the estate.

J. S. Murray, who has charge of the stock farm at Goshen, and is one of the pallbearers, received orders today to withdraw all the Harriman entries from the coming trotting meeting at Syracuse. However, since Mary Harriman, who many believe will take her father's place in charge of the property in Orange county, is extremely fond of horses, it is not likely that the Harriman stables will be abandoned.

Reports that Mrs. Harriman was in a state of collapse today were denied by Superintendent Ford. He said that she and all other members of the family were bearing their grief well.

Bids Farewell to Family. Ex-Judge Robert S. Lovett, vice president of the Union Pacific and one of Mr. Harriman's closest associates, remained at the house all Wednesday night. Although the patient's vitality was at a low stage and he was suffering from a high fever, he received a trace yesterday morning and endeavored to cheer his despondent wife and children.

"Don't worry my dear," he said to his daughter, Miss Mary Harriman, "I am going to get well."

Some hours later it became apparent that the end of the brilliant career was approaching and the members of Mr. Harriman's family were summoned to the bedside. There, according to one of those present, the scene enacted was most affecting, as the husband and father bade his wife and children good-bye. With unflinching courage, but sabbic strength, he clasped hands with all for the last time, embraced them, spoke words of cheer to his wife and daughter and of advice to his sons, Roland and Averill. Roland, the youngest son who has been his father's constant companion during his illness, was shaking with sobs as his father clasped him in his arms and whispered the farewell words.

List of Active Pallbearers. The active pallbearers will be the six men in charge of the various departments of Mr. Harriman's estate at Arden and Turner. They are Charles T. Ford, his general superintendent; William Viner, manager of the farm at Arden; William Robbins, superintendent of Mr. Harriman's stock farm and in general charge of his trotting horses at Goshen; P. W. Mandigo, his master carpenter; E. F. Senzic, manager and William A. McClellan, superintendent of the Arden farms dairy company. The list of honorary pallbearers has not yet been announced.

The millionaire's body will rest in a grave blasted from the solid rock of the hillside. This method of burial was adopted when his oldest son, Edward H. Harriman, Jr., was buried, twenty-two years ago. The Harriman plot is in a far corner of the grave yard and the only spot in the enclosure where the blue stone of Tower Hill rises to the surface. Men began work today quarrying out the grave.

happy and confident, and with the cheers of a great crowd ringing in his ears. Formal farewells were exchanged between Dr. Cook and committees of the Geographical society and the University of Copenhagen. As he departed the explorer stood alone on the high bridge of the yacht Melchior, which is taking him to Christiansand, raising his hat in response to the shouts of the spectators.

The yacht will arrive at Christiansand tomorrow at noon, where the steamship Omorou will be waiting to take up anchor and steam for the United States as soon as Dr. Cook has been transferred to its deck.

Managing Director Cold of the Scandinavian-American Steamship company accompanied Dr. Cook. He said the Oscar II could reach New York Monday, September 13, but that he thought it better to keep the steamer to schedule time and arrive Tuesday, the 14th.

Ceremony in Cabin. Before the gangplank of the Melchior was drawn up, there was a pleasant ceremony in the cabin, which was attended by Maurice F. Egan, the American minister, and Miss Egan, the rector of the University of Copenhagen and a number of geographers. Admiral Deikshelien, in a speech, thanked Dr. Cook for returning to the United States under the Danish flag.

"Green-eyed envy and jealousy," said the admiral, "are their ever-present work, but we in Denmark believe in you absolutely."

"I want to thank you," said Dr. Cook in reply. "For the great honor that is mine in going home on a Danish steamer. Since I cannot reach home on an American steamer or an expedition vessel, it is fitting that I should go on a steamer of the land which has given me such happy days. You have made my return so happy that the tortures of the past are forgotten. You have been my friends; you have fought my battles. With a full heart I say farewell to the people of Denmark."

Speaking to the Associated Press, Dr. Cook said: "I am perfectly willing to put my records before the American coast and geologic survey, to be compared with those of Commander Peary, but I do not see why I should ask for such a comparison first."

Asked if he had any message for the public, Dr. Cook replied: "Don't you think that would be rather presumptuous? All I want is to get home to my wife and children and finish my work."

Water Front is Crowded. The water front was crowded for an hour before the Melchior sailed. Shortly before 4 o'clock, three motor cars appeared. Dr. Cook and Commander Sverdrup, between whom a close friendship has arisen since they met, were in the first car. Egan and Miss Egan and various officers were in the others. The people broke through the police barriers as the cars were passing and the women folk threw flowers at Dr. Cook. Shipping in the harbor made a brilliant display of flags in honor of the occasion.

Managing Director Cold insisted that Dr. Cook go on the bridge while the yacht was pulling out in order to give the people an opportunity to see him. Reid Amundsen, the explorer, and Clarence DeWitt, of the New York geologic survey, Dr. Cook to Christiansand. The applications for berths on the Oscar II were so numerous that it has been impossible to accommodate one-quarter of the would-be passengers.

Mrs. Peary at Sydney. SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 10.—A wireless message received here today declares that the steamer Roosevelt, with Commander Peary on board, is still at Battle Harbor, Labrador.

"This is my eighth visit to Sydney in connection with my husband's polar expeditions, and I am everjoyed at his success in reaching the Arctic center," said Mrs. Peary. "My husband, Commander Peary, as she and her two children stepped off the train here last night. Mrs. Peary has come to Sydney to await the arrival of her husband on the steamer Roosevelt."

Mrs. Peary said that she thought her husband now could be so satisfied and may at home again be acquainted with his family. "He used to say," she continued, "that a man should not go to the Arctic region after he was 40 years of age, but the discovery of the pole was the only thing he had not succeeded in and he would not discontinue his efforts at the limit he himself set. On May 1, last, Commander Peary was 53."

"His stay in Sydney will be brief. Being an officer of the United States army, he must report without delay at Washington and he will likely go there direct, with the possible exception of one day's rest at his summer home on Eagle Island, Casco bay, Maine."

Mrs. Peary's happy appearance bore witness to the pride and satisfaction she felt over her husband's triumph. On the sev-are former occasions when Mrs. Peary came to Sydney to meet her husband she was alone. Commander Peary's married life has been closely identified with his hazardous enterprises, which explains the emotion which prompted him in the hour of the triumph of his life's work to send the first announcement: "Have made good at last," to Mrs. Peary at their summer home in Maine. Later the commander wired his wife to come and meet him at Sydney, adding: "Bring the kids." The "kids" are Marie, aged 10, who was born in Greenland, and Robert E., Jr., aged 5. Next Sunday is Marie's birthday and she is hoping that the arrival of the Roosevelt with her father on board will not be delayed beyond that date.

ern Pacific boards of directors will probably be held next Monday, and it is believed that something more than the expressions of regret at the passing away of Mr. Harriman will then engage the attention of the directors.

A noteworthy event of the day in the stock market was a new high record for United States Steel common, which touched 80 1/4 above its best previous figure.

The more important gains of the day follow: Union Pacific, 1 3/4; Union Pacific preferred, 7; Southern Pacific, 5; St. Paul, 5 1/4; Reading, 5; New York Central, 3 3/4; Louisville & Nashville, Atchison, Missouri Pacific, United States Steel common, Western Union and International Pump, 3 or more, with numerous advances ranging from 1 to 2 1/2 points. The bond market was very strong.

Rally in London.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The death of E. H. Harriman was anticipated by the Stock exchange, and after a long period of uncertainty the effect of the passing away of the railroad magnate was not as pronounced as had been anticipated. Prices were marked down at the opening, but the market was quiet and it recovered quickly when the buyers came forward.

Before the market opened several prominent jobbers made wide prices at 1 to 2 points below parity. Repurchasing by the bears who had sold short on the chance of Mr. Harriman's dying, and buying on American account, however, soon brought the market to a much higher level. Union Pacific, after being 1 3/4 ex-dividend, rose to 1 3/4. United States Steel common changed hands between 7 3/4 and 7 7/8, ex-dividend, and then reached 7 3/4. Southern Pacific went from 14 to 15 1/4.

The belief is general that big Wall street interests are protecting the market. The operator reported last night to be in trouble is an outside broker.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Although the Paris bourse for several days has been hanging anxiously on news of the condition of the late E. H. Harriman, the announcement of the financier's death did not create a shock. Prices opened steady, in some cases showing improvement over yesterday's close. Among French financiers Mr. Harriman's immense power and capacity was widely recognized, but the general feeling is today that the United States are so rich in resources and the productive capacity is so great that the death of one man, no matter how far-reaching his interests, will not stop the onward march of the country's prosperity.

The view taken by Americans interested in the stock market, will not stop the onward march of the country's prosperity. American securities had a predominance of buying orders today.
