WAVERLY, Ia., Sept. 12-(Special.)-Her dog, which showed unusual bravery in the face of danger, saved the life of Delliah Failes, living five miles south of here, when an enraged bull attacked the woman while she was picking grapes in the woods where the bull was pastured. Miss Falles did not see the animal until he was dashing for her. She was hurled to the ground, the fall breaking her arm. As she fell she called to her dog, which appeared and began attacking the bull. While the dog engaged the bull's attention Miss Failes crawled through a nearby fence, then fainted.
