CLOSE OF INVESTIGATION

State Board Completes All Except Visit to Hospital.

GRAFT CHARGES FALL FLAT

Apparent, However, There Has Never Been Harmony Between Commandant Barnes and Adjutant McGraw.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Excepting for its final finding and a visit by the State Board of Public lands and buildings, to the hospitals at the home this evening, the investigation of the charges filed by Adjutant McGraw against Commandant Barnes came to an end this evening at 8 o'clock after two solid days of session and the hearing of any and all witnesses of the home who wished to come before the board. At the end of the second day the board evidenced a weariness and a desire to get through, but yet patiently listened to the defense and decided further to look into what are now evidently the more serious charges, the treatment of the patients of the hospital.

With the testimony of this morning it was apparent that every charge against the various contractors whose dealing are said to have been irregular, had fallen entirely flat. The Donald Porter company, completely cleared up to the satisfaction of the board, so far as the examination indicated, any of the shortages alleged by Commissary Jones, as to the latter he went into the office February 1 and may not personally have received the sugar that was sworn by Soldiers Home employees to have been delivered there under a bill of February 1, but the department certainly did. On canned goods a checking up by Secretary Junkin and Mr. Jones found Mr. Jones' books and the sums actually paid the firm by the state, to agree. As to O. Rosner, Mr. Jones acknowledged when the former went on the stand and examination by Mr. Jones was invited that every reported error had been rectified. Mr. Rosner challenged, in addition, to prove, if the commissary would show on what date a case of eggs was alleged to be short, that the said case had been delivered and had never been paid for by the state. Credits have been given to avoid controversy. Wolbach & Son made a similarly complete showing as to clothing and shoes.

It was shown on the question of rules that Mr. Barnes set aside the rules recognized by the state when convenient and declared them obsolete. The rules were the recognized ones in the pension suit of last year. A conference between the board and Governor Shallenbarger indicated that some action would be taken to establish something definite in this respect.

Hospital Investigation.

Many witnesses testified that the hospital service was not what it should be, that the patients often were not well enough or properly fed. That the physician was gruff and sometimes neglected to issue medicine. Some of this testimony was as severe an arraignment of the administration of Commandant Hoyt and Commandant Askwith as of the administration of Commandant Barnes. The attorneys for McGraw brought out that thirty-five gallons of whiskey and wine had been bought in the last quarter. Dr. Swigart testifying that the department did not deny by Dr. Swigart or the steward that upon a few occasions they had drunk wine, which had been paid for by the state. As to the "stuffed olives" Commandant Barnes stated that former commandants had kept a few luxuries on hand in case of visitors and he did the same thing. There was no evidence of the substitution of vinegar for this item in the bills.

The evidence clearly showed that there had been during their entire incumbency severe friction between Barnes and McGraw and Mr. Barnes admitted that he had wanted George F. Ryan of this city as adjutant. A copy of a letter and a communication refused published by a local paper was submitted in evidence, it showing a desire to make political capital. Denial was made by the farm boss of having played cards while he should have been busy. It was contended that the garden products were not so plentiful on account of the lack of rain.

to baffie the medical skill of the city. Several more children are suffering with the symptoms, which no doubt will prove fatal as every case developing so far has proven.

World's Crops Are Much Better Than Anticipated

Commercial Figures Indicate Yield Than Last Year in Producing Countries.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Condition of the crops in foreign countries, as reported to the Department of Agriculture, indicates that the harvest has generally surpassed expectations. In Roumania alone have the reverse been severe in July, falling below the pre-harvest estimate. The wheat crop of Hungary has also failed to give even the medium results looked for a month ago, but the other crops in that country have exceeded estimates.

This year has been unusually favorable for barley and oats. In nearly all European countries these crops promise above average yields, and in Hungary indications point to the largest crop on record for both these cereals, as well as for corn. The drought in Russia and Roumania has caused a considerable decline in the prospects for corn.

Estimates of the world's probable wheat crop have been published during the month by two English trade papers and by the Hungarian ministry of agriculture. These estimates, although they can only approximate actual facts, serve as a good indication of the results looked for by well informed European and official commercial observers. As compared with last year, these estimates show a gain of from 185,000,000 to 270,000,000 bushels in wheat, for corn an increase of 255,000,000 bushels, and for barley a gain of 334,000,000 bushels.

Oats shows the enormous increase of 387,000,000 bushels, while rye is placed at only 24,000,000 bushels above last year's production. From Argentina comes the official announcement that the reduction of the wheat acreage on account of the long drought was less than anticipated. Reports from India continue quite encouraging, while from all parts of Australia glowing statements of crop progress are received.

department of public speaking, is still in the university hospital critically ill from three weeks ravages of typhoid.

Babies Strangled by croup, coughs or colds are instantly relieved and quickly cured with Dr. King's New Discovery. 50c and $1.00. Sold by Beston Drug Co.

After Alleged Bank Robbers. PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Sheriff Anderson of Kitson county, Minnesota, today secured requisition papers to take back to that county two men giving the names of Dad Williams and Joe Barnes, who are charged with being the men who robbed the bank of Kaslet and some time ago. They are both locked up at Webster, being held for the Minnesota officers.
