Tabor College Opens.
TABOR, Ia.—(Special.)—A new year for Tabor college opened this week under most auspicious circumstances. An extra large number of new students have already enrolled and others are coming. All are very enthusiastic over the new president, Rev. F. W. Long, who has associated with him a faculty of talented and earnest instructors. The two new field secretaries are Rev. V. B. Hill, recently of Alcester, S. D., and Rev. E. W. Martin of Park Ridge, Ill., are meeting with flattering success in raising the endowment fund to meet the conditions of Carnegie's office of $25,000.

Thursday evening the trustees gave an informal public reception at Adams hall, in honor of the president and faculty. It was largely attended and proved a most enjoyable affair.

The faculty has been strengthened by the addition of several new members and is now one of the strongest in the history of the college.

Girl's Narrow Escape.
IOWA CITY, Ia.—(Special.)—Miss Irma Westenhaver, two years ago a leading society girl in the University of Iowa narrowly escaped death yesterday in a runaway accident when a team of horses and a milk wagon collided with the phaeton in which Miss Westenhaver was riding. She was thrown to the pavement and the horses dashed over her. Physicians could find no broken bones and side from the fright she suffered no ill effects.

Clearing House for Teachers

State Superintendent Proposes to Bring Applicants and Jobs Into Touch.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—Temporarily a teachers' exchange is to be opened in the state superintendent's office.

The state superintendent, J. C. Barber, superintendent of schools, and if they have an over-supply of teachers, their names and addresses. The names of those teachers whose districts will be supplied to the superintendent with schools without teachers.

W. C. Barber, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Iowa, will send warnings Monday to all cafes and hotels in the state, if liquor is served at tables they will be prosecuted. A copy of the law prohibiting the same will be furnished them.

Anthrax has broken out again among the cattle in Plymouth county, and information received here by Dr. Paul C. Koto, state veterinarian, is that the man who skinned a cow that had died from the disease has been taken with it himself, and is in a Sioux city hospital. Dr. Koto especially warned the farmers of northwest Iowa against attempting to skin any animals dying from the disease for the reason that it would spread the disease if the hides were kept in their quarters.

A strict quarantine has been maintained for some weeks in Plymouth and Cherokee counties and it was believed the disease was under control till a herd of cattle near Leads was taken. It is feared that animals buried too shallow have been dug up by dogs.

Because of the high price of meats the State Board of control has let the contracts for the supply of meats for six months instead of six months as ordinarily.

The first effort to enforce the new liquor law against drinking liquor on trains failed, being ignored by the Polk county grand jury. During state fair week C. S. Stradley was arrested on a Burlington train at the Union depot for drinking liquor. Stradley was arrested in an intoxicated condition and taken to the police station with a basket full of bottles of beer, which he had on the train. He paid a fine for being intoxicated and was bound over to the grand jury for drinking on the train. Before the grand jury drinking was lacking that he had been riding on the train, as there. The indictment was ignored.

Seven years after the atrocious murder of Lena and Tommie Peterson, aged 13 and 11, respectively, the guilty person may be brought to trial.

Sufficient evidence is now in the hands of the Polk county grand jury to warrant an indictment.

The evidence was given to the grand jurors on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Mary Peterson and Mrs. Marian Daymond, mother and sister of the murdered children.

Do Not Want Ads are business boosters.
Congregational Meeting.
CEDAR FALLS, Ia., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—The fall meeting of the Congregational churches of this city, at the Dubuque and North-western Iowa associations will be held at this meeting held in Manchester, September 27, 28 and 29. Rev. M. A. Breed of Monticello, is the moderator. The women's program on Tuesday from 3 until 5 o'clock will be very interesting. Mrs. E. R. Towle of Grinnell, who last year took a tour of the globe, will give an address on "Two Hundred Miles Up the River Main." Miss Sule Orvis of Dubuque will speak of her seven years of service in Asia Minor.

No Five O'clock Drill.
IOWA CITY, Ia., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—College students in the University of Iowa will not be compelled to arise at 5 o'clock in the morning to take part in the drill. Lieutenant Morton C. Mumma the new commander will not carry the scheme into practice owing to the conflicting schedules of the engineering students.
