TWO OF MABRAY MEN ARRESTED

Said to Have Been the Fake Wrestlers in One Game.

Tom S. Robinson of Farmington, Ia., and Ed Leech of Montrose, Ia., two of the defendants named in the indictment returned Thursday afternoon by the federal grand jury in the Mabray case, were taken into custody yesterday under bench warrants. They were brought to Council Bluffs last evening in custody of Deputy United States Marshal A. D. Dunlap of Ottumwa and lodged in the county jail. Their bonds under the indictment were placed by Judge McPherson at $10,000, but they hope to get this reduced, and in any event expect to furnish bail Monday.

Robinson was arrested July 14 last under a warrant issued from the court of Justice Gardner on the charge of conspiracy in the case of E. G. Allsbaugh of Terre Haute, Ind., who was freed out of $10,000 on August 5, 1908, in this city by the Mabray gang on a fake wrestling match. Robinson is said to have acted the dual role of "steerer" and one of the fake wrestlers. He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury and his bond placed at $2,500, which he later furnished.

O. O. Newberry, a farmer, of Lee county, Iowa, who was one of the witnesses at the preliminary hearing of Robinson in the justice court, charged Robinson with having "steered" him against the Mabray gang two years ago in Wilkesbarre, Pa., when Newberry dropped $15,000 on a fake wrestling match.

Ed Leech, arrested at Montrose, is said to have been one of the fake wrestlers employed by the Mabray gang, but it could not be learned last night if he was implicated in the fleeing of Allsbaugh, who is a haberdasher in Terre Haute.

PREMIUMS FOR FRUIT MEN

Valuable Additions Being Made Daily to the Prize List.

SOUTHERN STATES IN RIVALRY

Texas and Florida Striving to See Which Will Have the More Attractive Exhibit—Both Ask Large Space.

Superintendent Freeman L. Reed of the National Horticultural congress announced yesterday that additions to the premium list of the fruit show, to be held November 15 to 20, are being received almost daily and the list has now reached proportions that far exceed the most sanguine expectations of the directors.

The Omaha Bee Publishing company has contributed a valuable sterling silver trophy cup to be contested for by the students' judging teams of the various state universities. The cup must be won twice in succession by the same college to entitle the winners to its permanent custody. The conditions are that the college winning it shall keep it until next year, when it is to be returned and contested for under the same or similar terms. This will be one of the most valuable and interesting cups that will be offered and the contestants will represent the principal agricultural colleges of the United States.

Among the other additions to the premium list received Saturday are fifteen valuable articles having an aggregate value of $300, contributed by the Pioneer Impement company of Council Bluffs, and a gas engine donated by the International Harvester company of America. Dozens of smaller additions to the premium list and each of large and intrinsic value have also been received within the last few days.

Superintendent Freeman Reed has received official application for space for state exhibits from a number of additional states, including Virginia and Maryland. Application has also been received for a fine exhibit from Fresno, Cal., but at the present time the greatest interest is being aroused by the spirited contest and rivalry between Texas and Florida.

The superintendent has received a request from the Texas Citrus Growers' association asking for 1,000 square feet of space. In the letter making this reservation J. W. Canada, secretary of the association, says that he is "glad to see Florida being stirred up. I know Mr. McComb very well and he is a hustler." That Florida is "stirred up" is evidenced by the fact that it is being done there now. The entire state is aroused and large and small fruit growers are endeavoring to make the exhibit at the exposition one of the most remarkable and beautiful that lies within their splendid possibilities.

Mr. McComb, who is a special commissioner engaged in collecting Florida's exhibits, writes stating that they must have space enough to properly show two carloads of exhibits. A list of these exhibits shows that they will contain everything relative to horticulture produced in Florida, and that it will be one of the most important exhibits that will ever be made in any northern state. Such things as orange trees of gigantic size in full bloom, budding, ripening and ripe fruit will be the central features. Their exhibit has already cost several thousand dollars and it will cost a large amount to bring it here and install it.

Both of these states are flooding all parts of the United States with invitations to their friends to attend the congress and see the splendid exhibits that they are preparing. Neither of them are specifically after prizes, but are determined to have the best reward shall be in the example that they will give of their geniality of climate and desirability for closer relationship between the frigid north and the sunny south.

FIRST LEGAL MOVE IN STRIKE

Company Serves Notice on County and City Officials.

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company, through its local attorneys, George S. Wright, served the following notice on Mayor Maloney and Allen Folger, chairman of the board of supervisors of Pottawattamie county, last evening:

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company hereby gives notice to you and to each of you that within the city of Council Bluffs and within the county of Pottawattamie, in the state of Iowa, a street railway property, consisting of buildings, cars, tracks, switches, electrical wires and appliances is not receiving sufficient and adequate and proper protection against unlawful assaults, injury, damage and destruction by individuals, persons and mobs, and that the men operating its cars have not been receiving sufficient, adequate and proper protection against assaults by persons, individuals and mob violence; and that said company fears and believes, and has good reason to fear and believe, that unless more prompt, effective and decisive action is at once taken by the municipal and county authorities, that further injury to and destruction of its said property will be wrought and that its employees and passengers, individuals and mob violence, and that further assaults will be made upon its cars, all to the great damage and destruction of the property of the company, and to the interference of the operation of its cars and lines of street railway.

Demand is therefore made upon you and upon each of you within your respective municipalities and boundaries, you take prompt, sufficient, decisive and effective action to prevent unlawful assaults and to prevent assaults upon the employees of the company operating its cars, and to prevent all injury and damage of every kind and nature to the properties of the street railway company hereinafter more particularly described; so that the company shall be protected, permitted to operate its cars and railway without interruption and interference, and that its employees may operate its said cars without fear of assault or personal injury, and so that their persons wishing to engage in the operation of its cars may not be prevented from so doing by fear for their personal safety. You, and each of you, are hereby notified that said company will hold you, and each of you, liable to it for all damage or injury done to its property by individual persons, strikers, strike sympathizers, or as the result of mob violence, and the said company will look to you and each of you, and will hold you and each of you, liable to it for all damage and destruction committed upon any of its properties above described, and under the circumstances above described, and pay for any and all damages resulting from assaults upon its employees under circumstances above described.

The service of this notice came somewhat as a surprise to Mayor Maloney as the city had been furnishing officers for the protection of the cars and no acts of violence since the attack on one car last Sunday by hoodlums, who crossed the bridge from Omaha had been reported in Council Bluffs. He said, "I was surprised to have such a notice served upon me. Today Mr. Wattles and other officers of the street railway company assured me they were well satisfied with what the city of Council Bluffs had done and was doing to protect its cars and its employees."

Deputy United States Marshal Groneweg went to Graceland last evening to serve the notice on Chairman Bullis of the Board of Supervisors.

HEARING ON WATER BOARD CASE

City and C. B. Nash Company Agree to Take It Up Monday.

Judge Smith McPherson, after consultation with City Solicitor Kimball, yesterday set the case of the C. B. Nash company of Omaha against the city of Council Bluffs for hearing on Monday. This date was agreed to by counsel for the plaintiff firm. The case involves the validity of the proposed issue of $200,000 water works bonds.

In the suit of N. S. Sage against Catherine and William Koepke, tried to the court judgment was given the plaintiff for $2,167. The suit was to recover on notes given for the rent under a lease of a saloon building and the lessors refused to pay the notes which had been endorsed to parties in Idaho, who brought suit. The defendants also contended that the leasing of a building for saloon purposes was illegal under the Iowa statute law.

Furniture made to meet a price always has its limits in value and costs more than it is worth, even when offered at surprising discounts, which, too, is always evidence of its cheapness in quality. We believe in selling goods that we can honestly recommend and are standing behind their merit, and our judgment of the many years of past experience has proven to us that only first-class furniture is the cheapest in the long run and the most satisfactory furniture to sell.
