NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market is Dull and Volume of Dealings Shrinks.

CALL LOAN RATE HIGHER

Halt in Speculation Due to Call for Money for October Settlements.

Union and Southern Pacific Issues Advance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Dealings in stocks underwent a decided shrinkage today.

The market was dull and sluggish at best.

The professional sentiment found difficulty in moving prices sufficiently to offer a profitable medium for trading operations.

The slackened activity of the trading was partly due to caution on account of the October settlements.

The amount called for by the October interests and dividend payments is estimated at $1,000,000,000.

There was some apprehension that funds accumulated to meet this requirement might be drawn from the banks.

Until needed, and that the recall of these funds then might dislodge stocks held on collateral.

The money market was tight and the call loan rate today, the highest touched in New York since early in 1908, was 4 1/2 per cent.

The highest rate in New York since early in 1908, was 4 1/2 per cent.
