CAR CREW IS THREATENED

Man with Revolver Compels Motorist to Turn Back.

Late Saturday night an unidentified man riding a horse and carrying what was said to be a revolver of heavy caliber rode up alongside one of the large cars on the Omaha line just as it was about to make the turn from Pierce street onto Oak avenue, and leveling his gun at the motorist ordered him to turn back and not come there again.

"We don't want any of your scab cars in this end of the line," he yelled as he pointed the motorist with his artillery. The car was without a special officer, as it was not thought that protection was needed on that part of the line, and the motorist decided that discretion was the best part of valor. He obeyed the order and backed the car to Pearl street. The fellow on the horse rode alongside the car for two or three blocks, alternately pointing his gun at the motorist and the conductor and telling them not to dare to come back there again.

When the car reached Pearl street, Trainmaster Barnett at once notified the police, and taking a special officer with him at once started the car back to Pierce street. Police officers were hurried to the scene, but the man on horseback had made himself scarce. No further trouble was reported on that line and none, outside of the attack on the conductor at Manawa, was reported yesterday.

Several of the old men, it was stated by officials of the company, had returned to work in Council Bluffs, and that was reported yesterday on the regular schedule up to 11 o'clock last night.

Tom Phillips and Dick and Ted Stevenson were arrested at Manawa yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Woolman and Humphrey and will have a hearing this morning before Justice Rief on the charge of attempting to assault the crew of a street car. The three young men, it is said, boarded a car on which the conductor was a striker who had returned to work and after abusing him, attempted, it is alleged, to throw him out of the car. The three furnished bond for their appearance in court this morning.

TEACHERS IN CONVENTION

Council Bluffs Schools May Close During Annual Session.

MEETING IS IN DES MOINES

Several Local Pedagogues Are on Program and Vacation May Be Granted at Request of Superintendent.

If a sufficient number of teachers of the public schools of the city signify their desire to attend the annual meeting of the Iowa State Teachers' association in Des Moines on November 4, 5 and 6, Superintendent Beveridge will at the next session of the Board of Education ask that the schools be closed Thursday and Friday of that week. Several of the Council Bluffs teachers are on the program for the state meeting and will have to attend. Mr. Beveridge is anxious to have Council Bluffs well represented at the meeting and is sending out notices to the teachers to ascertain how many wish to attend. If the number warrants it Mr. Beveridge will recommend that they be permitted to attend and that the schools be closed Thursday and Friday of convention week.

"Only in the event of a sufficient number of teachers signifying their intention to attend the meeting to warrant closing the schools here for the two days, shall I recommend that be done," said Superintendent Beveridge yesterday. "Those teachers who are on the program for the state meeting will of a necessity have to attend, but I do not deem it advisable to have the schools closed for the two days and then have the teachers go off somewhere on a picnic instead of attending the meeting at Des Moines. Heretofore the state meeting has been held during the vacation period in December and consequently the teachers were at liberty to attend the meeting without interfering with the school work."

In his notice of the meeting sent to the county and city superintendents, John F. Riggs, superintendent of public instruction, urges that opportunity be afforded teachers to attend. He says:

"The meeting may be of the greatest benefit to the schools, it is important that it be very largely attended by teachers and superintendents. The usual fall vacation be made to occur during the week the state meeting is held, thus affording teachers the opportunity to attend the meeting without disturbing the work of the schools. Where this cannot be done, school boards are urged to make arrangements whereby the teachers who wish to attend the state meeting may have the opportunity of doing so without disturbing their co-operation along the lines suggested."

The sessions of the association will be held in the Des Moines auditorium and the following program has been announced for the general meetings, which open Thursday evening, November 4:

THURSDAY EVENING.

President's address. E. J. H. Beard, Newton, Ia. "The Education of the Designer." Dr. Frank Crane, Chicago.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Address—"The State Association and School Relations." H. H. Rogers, Des Moines. Address—"Subject not yet chosen." President A. Ross Hill, University of Missouri; address—"Theories of the Origin of the Earth." Prof. Rollin D. Salisbury, University of Chicago.

FRIDAY EVENING.

Address—"Friday Training Through Handiwork and Headwork." Jean James E. Russell, Teachers' College, Columbia university.

SATURDAY MORNING.

Address—"Scientific Study of Education." Dean Charles H. Judd, School of Education, University of Chicago. Address—"Subject not yet chosen." Jane Brownlee, New York; address—"Public Morals and Public Schools." H. H. Rogers, Des Moines.

The meeting will close with a business session Saturday afternoon at which officers for the ensuing year will be elected. In addition to the general sessions there will be department and section meetings, round tables and college reunions.

Prof. J. H. Beveridge, superintendent of the Council Bluffs schools is a member of the executive committee.

The officers of the state association are: President, E. J. H. Beard, Newton; first vice president, A. T. Hukill, Waterloo; second vice president, Jesse Field, Clarion; third vice president, H. H. Rogers, Des Moines; secretary, O. E. Smith, Indianola; treasurer, George W. Salmon, Des Moines. Executive committee: Frank L. Smart, chairman, Davenport; Frank F. Almy, Grinnell; Maurice Kicker, Des Moines.

Guaranteed carpet sweepers, 11-49. If you own a carpet sweeper, besides the usual opportunity to get one, as the sweepers are worth a great deal more than we ask for them. Peterson & Schoening Co.

AGED MAN SEEKS PAROLE

Application to Be Made on Behalf of James Snyder.

JUDGE RECOMMENDS LENIENCY

Des Moines, Fort Dodge & Southern Railroad to Extend Its Line to Sioux City—State Shoot.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Application for parole before commitment will be made to the State Board of Parole tomorrow on behalf of James Snyder, a pioneer resident of Warren county, who was caught mutilating the records in the office of the county clerk at Indianola. It is Snyder's first transgression of the law and as he is a man about 75 years old, it is believed he is not likely to "do it again."

Judge Nichols, before whom he was tried, recommended the parole.

The whole trouble arose over family difficulties. Snyder is now living with his second wife with whom he has not been on the most friendly terms at times. As a sort of revenge in the ill-fort game they have been playing Snyder tried to arrange his affairs that his second wife would get none of his property. So he went to the court house and scratched out his own name in the record of the deed for his property and wrote the name of his first wife. This course company is pushing its sale of stock and securing right-of-way with the intention and hope of beginning construction of the line next spring. The company has seventy miles of right-of-way donated and options on sixty additional miles of line and a terming contract in this city, the total assets of the proposed road being at this time $340,000.

Builds to Sioux City.

Information here from officials of the road is to the effect that the Des Moines, Fort Dodge & Southern will next spring begin the extension of its lines from Fort Dodge to Sioux City. Ex-Alderman Ed Higgins took a young man to board with him without asking him his name. Saturday morning he found his grip cut open and his bank book removed. He was notified that a street car had drawn his money from the bank. Higgins met the young man on the street and gave chase and captured him. Then he turned him over to the first bluecoat he met, with instructions to take him to the police station. After checking up the goods, the instructor and paid no attention and the young man again escaped. Now the police are hunting for him.

May Retain Carper Yet.

Major Carper was not allowed to work in the archives, department in the historical building. Attorney General Byers advised the members of the council that the law was plain that if Carper was allowed to work he would have to be paid. Today when the major reported for work there was no work for him. It is understood that Attorney General Byers advised the council that unless they can prove Carper efficient they have to let him in his position and furthermore that they cannot under the law close the archives department and avoid employing him in that way.

Opinion from Byers Expected.

Attorney General W. H. Byers will in the near future announce his opinion as to the right of insurance companies to insure automobiles against fire and theft for personal injuries. Predictions have been made that he will hold such insurance is valid. It has been ruled by the state legal department that insurance of doctors against judgment of malpractice is illegal. The difference is, it is argued, that doctors would be insured against errors in judgment, whereas an automobile owner could be insured against pure accident.

Restraints Mechanics Lien.

Judge Smith McPherson of the United States district court issued a sweeping restraining order to prevent mechanics' liens against the old Des Moines Department Store company, which some time ago entered bankruptcy proceedings. Some of those who had claims for constructive liens on the building tried to foreclose their mechanics' liens in state court. Yesterday Attorney N. T. Guernsey, representing the bankrupt store, went to Red Oak and secured a restraining order commanding all firms to cease efforts in state courts until the federal court bankruptcy case is adjudicated.

Big Prices Hang in the Balance.

Big prices hang in the balance to be finally determined by the big shoot of the Iowa Rifle Association next week. Practically the only persons interested in the shoot are the members of the Iowa National Guard. In reality for some of the matches other persons are eligible. The "Clarke" match is for a silver cup worth $15 and is open to teams of five from the county rifle clubs. The Allison match is for a $25 medal open to all who have never won prizes before. The Hull match for a $75 medal is open to officers and members of the guard who qualified as expert riflemen prior to Jan. 1, 1929. Consolation match open to everybody, but prizes in cash will be awarded only to those not having won previous prizes. The Beck match for a $50 medal open to members of Iowa Rifle Association only for silver cup. There will be matches for teams of six from each of the companies of the four regiments in regimental matches. Beck match open to teams of five from each company of Fifty-sixth regiment. Eighty and ninety per cent matches. Two matches one matching medals to all making eighty per cent and the other to all making ninety per cent. Regimental match open to teams of twelve from each of the four regiments for a $100 trophy. Individual championship match for Brookhart trophy, open to everybody. Inspectors match open to inspectors of small arms practice. Duwa match open to regimental teams for $15 trophy. Pistol match open to officers and men and members of rifle clubs affiliated with national Rifle Association for silver cup. In this trophy shoot there are also cash prizes with first, second and third money. The shoot will be held on the state range near the Des Moines for the north of the city October 5, 6, 7, and 8.
