ORGY MAY DEVELOP MURDER

Edward Curry Stabbed in Resort Fight Liable to Die.

SEVERAL ARRESTS ARE MADE

Police Throw Out Their Net and Drag in Half a Dozen Persons Who Were Present at the Cutting.

Edward Curry, Fourteenth street and Avenue J, Council Bluffs, who with Charles Nichols, 1817 North Seventeenth, was stabbed at 1817 Burt street Thursday night, is lying at St. Joseph's hospital. Meanwhile, the police have taken up the investigation of the case with the expectation that it will develop into a murder case through the death of Curry.

Six persons have been arrested and are being held in connection with the investigation.

gation. They are George Davis, 1512 North Twenty-eighth street; Bryan Hogan, Twenty-seventh and R streets, South Omaha; Martha Reeves, who runs the resort where the trouble occurred; her sister Louise, a piano player employed at the place, and Ida Arnold, an inmate. None of the people under arrest has been willing to make any statement to Captain Savage of the detective department, who spent the morning interviewing them in their cells.

Dr. T. E. Harris, who is in attendance on Curry, said at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon that a few hours might end the life of the victim. Curry is suffering from a deep cut in the abdomen immediately under the lower rib, evidently inflicted with a large knife.

Charles Nichols, who was in company with Curry, is in the hospital with several disfiguring wounds from razor cuts about his head and breast. His condition does not indicate serious results.

Discerning Thief Steals Ball Gowns

Fashionable Dressmaking Establishment is Raided and $300 Worth of Stuff Taken.

An opportunity to cause consternation to the prospective wearers of many an expensive ball gown confronted the thief who robbed the dressmaking establishment of Madame Fox, at Twentieth and Farnam streets. Madame Fox is making a great number of gowns for the Ak-Sar-Ben ball, and by forcing a transient the thief gained entrance and helped himself to nearly $300 worth of garments.

Fortunately, however, although in some cases entire bolts of silks and satins were taken, but two were bolts from which gowns had been cut, and the loss of these will not prove annoying, as bolts of like material were at hand. This is the second time within the last three weeks that Madame Fox has so suffered. The other robbery occurred on the night of September 18, when goods to the value of $400 and more were lost.

The police are inclined to believe that if the theft involves the ball in any way it is an anarchistic move to force certain women to appear either in more expensive gowns or stay away.

WHY OLD TAR REJECTS ARMY

Sailor Lad Can't Stand the Rigging of the Land Lubber.

TOO TIGHT FITTIN' FOR THIS BOY

Bill Sowers, Anchored to Brass Ball, Says "Keelhaul My Taffrail if I'd Have Any of That in Mine."

Bill Sowers is in Omaha. Bill hails from Gloucester, Mass., where he used to lower his flag when he wasn't sailing the briny deep. He was for many years a tar in the United States navy. He can sail anything from a man of war to a foaming schooner, so he says.

Bill is on his way back to Gloucester, where he says he will ship on the first boat. He has been to Lincoln to visit a sister whom he had not seen in years. He dropped off here to see the big military doings, and after the parade had disbanded Thursday, Bill ran about one of his old friends who happened to put his foot on the same rail to which Bill had anchored.

eat sea biscuit and dried fish for months at a time can eat anything."

Runs the Gauntlet O. K. "Well, I passed the physical examination all right. Also sighted some things on a card and found my vision normal. The sea's good for the eyes, you know."

"I've got some pretty good clothes, free and easy, and I'm ready at any time to join the ranks, Cap," says I.

"Well, he just roared and pointed to a picture hanging on the wall.

"There's the uniform you'll have to wear," he says.

"What, that rigging? Keelhaul my taffrail!" I gasped. "That tight-fitting coat with a shape like a corset. And those tight pants? And that belt with a measurement like a wasp. Blast my top-gallant heison, if I'd wear 'em."

"There's no way out of it," says the officer. "That's the regulation."

"I don't want the job," says I. "I'd like to be a landlubber, all right, but it's the sailor's life for mine. It's me for riding my horse on the high main. No fights for mine and a heavy gun. No, sir, horn-buckle my bowprit!"

And this is the reason the United States army lost as good a man as ever reeled a sail or hauled in a sheet.

"Why don't you join the army?" asked Bill's friend.

"I'll tell you," says Bill. "I'd have a hankering once to join the lubbers and called at the recruit's office. I craved to do a little prairie cruising and then, you know, sometimes a sailor don't see a bartender for long watches at a time. I kind of thought I'd tack off the main path of my ambition for a while, but I didn't. I'll tell you why."

"You understand," said the officer. "That you'll be under strict military discipline."

"Yep," says I, but shiver my spanker if I care for that.

"And the only change in menu will be from hardtack to pork and beans and back to hardtack again?"

"Bet your life," I said. "A man that can rushing. As a consequence of this activity, Mr. Esger is besieged with applications for rigs of different descriptions, but as the space is limited some will get left.

Omaha merchants are preparing to decorate in honor of the Cornhusker-Gopher game. Last year the city did itself proud and the streamers of Nebraska and Ames fluttered from nearly every prominent business house. These same merchants are preparing to outdo themselves this year and when the cadet band from Lincoln marches up Farnam street to the Henshaw hotel, followed by 1,500 yelling students, they will see their colors on all sides.

Omaha is not a partisan community and the Gopher contingent will see the old Gold and Maroon of Minnesota flaunted from many building tops. Which color will have the right to stay up after the game remains to be seen.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.
