Military Contingent Has Conspicuous Part in Affairs of Week.

CONTRIBUTE MUCH TO CARNIVAL

Omaha People Returning in Numbers from Their Summer Wanderings Ahead and Are Glad to Get Home.

Cavaliers' Song.

He who wears a regimental suit, is off as green as a raw recruit, but what of that?

The girls will follow when they hear the drum, and see the tassels and the waving plume, that deck his hat.

Then off, off we go and say that we're on duty, smoke our cigars and say that we're on duty.

Vive, vive l'amour, cigars and cognac, hurrah, hurrah, hurrah, vive le bivouac.

When we march into some country town, Prudes may fly and dance may frolic, but that's ahead.

When we march away, we leave behind Prudes and dames that have been rusty kind, ah, mark my word.

—CAPTAIN T. L. BRENNY.

Social Calendar.

MONDAY—Opening reception at Young Women's Christian association in evening.

TUESDAY—Wedding of Mr. Jack Dumont and Miss Neva Northern at her home in Hamilton, Mo.

Omaha's Fashionable Furriers

An event that on Monday, October the eleventh, nineteen hundred and nine, we will place on exhibition for one week the Most Magnificent Display of Furs ever shown in Omaha.

Direct importations of Parisian Creations and of several of New York's high-class designers, combined with our own manufacture, will make this opening of extreme interest to lovers of beautiful furs.

This is a collection of FURS that we feel the smartly dressed women of Omaha should be proud of.

Sharpest examination, closest competition, and most exacting comparison will prove the excellence of our garments.

Pantorium Prices

We believe that most people like to know what it is going to cost before they send their clothes to be cleaned or dyed—that is why we often run a price list in our advertisements.

You will notice the prices are quoted outright and not $1.00 up, thus leaving an opportunity to charge you as much more as you will pay.

You pay just the same price as your neighbor—and it is a reasonable one.

We clean party dresses and elaborate costumes, but cannot quote prices without seeing them—but you can rest assured it will be reasonable. Wagons reach all parts of the city. Remember we have no branch offices.

The Pantorium "Good Cleaners and Dyers." 1518 Jones Street. N. B.—Out of town business receives prompt attention.
