When Superintendent H. C. Weber of Nashville. Tenn, was unantmously offered an increase of salary, he answered: "I cannot accept unless the salaries of the teachers are increased. The city ought pot to pay its superintendent more than $2,000 until it can pay its teachers a bet-tor wage." in round numbers $17,000 expended in an improved water supply and $40,000 for a dining hall. The total expenditures for all improvements foot up $196,387. The value
