FRANCHISE NEAR ITS END

Two Years of Life if Under Grant of Eighteen Eighty-Six.

LATER ONE HELD TO BE INVALID

Attorney General and City Solicitor Report on Rights of Street Railway Company in City of Council Bluffs.

If the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company is operating in Council Bluffs under the franchise granted to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company October 29, 1886, its rights upon the streets named in the charter ordinance will expire in two years.

If the company, however, claims to be operating under the franchise granted the Council Bluffs, Lake Manawa & East Omaha Construction company, in December, 1887, which was assigned to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Suburban Railway company, the company has no rights upon the streets of Council Bluffs whatsoever, as this franchise became void and invalid many years ago.

Even under the franchise of 1886 granted to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway & Bridge company, the company has no rights on Avenue A and Fifth avenue.

This is the substance of the opinion of Attorney General H. W. Byers as expressed yesterday afternoon in a conference with committees representing the West End and West Council Bluffs Improvement clubs at the Grand hotel.

City Solicitor's Opinion.

City Solicitor Kimball agrees with the attorney general with the exception that in his opinion the street railway company has rights on Avenue A and Fifth avenue, provided that the franchise of 1886 is still in force.

Mr. Kimball sums up his opinion in the following statement:

As to the streets named in ordinance 154 (the ordinance granting a charter to the Council Bluffs, Lake Manawa & East Omaha Construction company) and actually used by the present operating companies, the tracks were all laid under the old ordinance, with the exception of Twenty-eighth street from Avenue C to Avenue O and Sixteenth avenue and Sixth street from Main street to the city limits. If the companies are operating under the old ordinance such tracks cannot be said to have been laid within the time fixed in the ordinance. If the company has abandoned the old ordinance on these streets and claims to be acting under ordinance 154, still the tracks were not laid under this ordinance, but under the old one. As to the use of Sixteenth avenue and Sixth street to the city limits the rights are dependent upon whether the franchise is sufficient to grant such right.

The whole franchise and rights thereunder depends so much upon the determination of facts and conditions and the application of legal propositions dependent thereon that until a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that the franchise is valid and subsisting the holding companies can be said to have no substantial rights thereunder to use the streets of the city of Council Bluffs to maintain wires, poles and electric apparatus with which to operate a street railway. That is to say, its rights under the said ordinance 154 must depend upon determination and finding of the court upon questions in dispute, some of which have been indicated above.

Confers with Local Men.

Those present at the conference with the attorney general at the Grand hotel were Attorney Spencer Smith, from whom Mr. Byers had secured some of his data, Attorney W. H. Kilpack, Dr. J. H. Cleaver, O. J. McManus, George B. Hardell, W. C. Boyer, president of the West End Improvement club, J. L. O'Neil, secretary of the West Council Bluffs Improvement club and General E. P. Test. With Mr. Byers was his assistant, Charles S. Williams of Des Moines, who had assisted in the investigation of the status of the street railway franchise in this city. Prior to the conference at the Grand hotel the attorney general met with City Solicitor Kimball who later in the day made public his conclusions in the matter, which will be submitted in the form of a report to the city council at its meeting next Monday night.

Regarding the ordinance of 1886 granting to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway & Bridge company a charter Mr. Byers said:

"Under this ordinance, insofar as information I have been able to secure from the records goes, the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway & Bridge company has the right to operate until 1911 on the streets specifically named in the ordinance. On other streets on which it has been operating it has no further rights."

Suggests a Compromise.

Mr. Byers, however, stated that in his opinion the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway & Bridge company surrendered all its rights under the 1886 charter when it secured the passage of and filed its acceptance of the fifty-year franchise granted in the ordinance passed September 20, 1897, which was subsequently declared invalid by the courts. This was, however, a question which the courts alone could decide, but the company's rights to operate on the streets of Council Bluffs would expire in October, 1911, as he felt certain that no court would hold that the franchise granted the Council Bluffs, Lake Manawa & East Omaha Construction company, which was subsequently assigned to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Surburban Railway company, was still valid. This franchise was for a period of fifty years and this alone, Mr. Byers said, was in his opinion sufficient to make it void and invalid.

Mr. Byers advised the committee that in his opinion nothing could be gained by taking the matter into the courts at this time as any suit which might be instituted against the company could not be determined before the expiration of its rights, if any existed under the 1886 charter, in 1911. He suggested that some adjustment ought to be reached between the city and the company as to the future and as to a franchise which would impose conditions which might be demanded by the people of the city.

Streets Named in Franchise.

In his report Mr. Kimball says relative to the question of streets authority to use which was granted under the ordinance of 1886:

The ordinance of 1886 granted authority to construct, equip, maintain and operate street railways for the term of twenty-five years upon Broadway, from the Missouri river north to the city limits; South First street and upon Graham avenue by way of Sixteenth avenue; High street; Third street; Tenth avenue and Sixth street back to Broadway, and such other streets, avenues and alleys as said company may hereafter select with the consent and approval of said city. The loop on Graham avenue and Tenth avenue back to Broadway was never constructed and the only streets named in said ordinance now in use by the company are Broadway from the Missouri river to Oak street and South First street from Broadway to Graham avenue and Graham avenue from South First street to Fairmount avenue.

Rights on Other Streets.

Regarding the 1886 ordinance Mr. Kimball says:

The meetings of the city council, vote and proceedings on the ordinance as far as the record shows, are regular and valid insofar as they relate to the ordinance of 1886. The records show that the ordinance was duly and legally published and that the written acceptance was filed within the time provided in the ordinance. This ordinance has been generally acquiesced in by the city of Council Bluffs and the conditions to be performed by the company as provided therein have been recognized by the city as having been complied with for many years and the franchise granted by this ordinance appears to be valid and subsisting until October 29, 1911.

On March 9, 1888, the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company surrendered all rights and privileges granted to it by the ordinance of October 29, 1886, to that portion of Broadway west of Sixteenth street and an ordinance was passed resuming all rights and privileges granted to the company thereon. The said rights and privileges enjoyed by the company were granted by the city in accepting the proposition of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company to use Avenue A and Fifth avenue the same as then existed with reference to the other streets in the city occupied by the company. The right of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company to use and occupy Twenty-first street from Fifth avenue to the Union Pacific property; Pierce street, Oak street, Fairmount avenue, Pearl street and Main street from Pearl street to Sixteenth avenue was never granted by special ordinance to the company, but under the provision "such other streets of said city as said company may hereafter select with the consent and approval of said city," the company has been given doubtful rights and the city acquiesced in the use of these additional streets of the city under the ordinance of 1886.

Mr. Byers gives it as his opinion that the street railway company has no rights on Fifth avenue or on Avenue A under the 1886 ordinance by reason of its surrender of rights on Broadway. The mere acquiescence by the city to this proposition of a change of streets, Mr. Byers says, was not sufficient. City Solicitor Kimball differs from Mr. Byers on this. He holds that by "unanimous acceptance" by the city council of the street railway company's proposition for the exchange of its rights on West Broadway for the right to occupy Avenue A and Fifth avenue were acquired by the company and these have been strengthened by subsequent transactions between the city and the company relative to these streets.

Before leaving the city yesterday afternoon for Chicago, the attorney general stated to the members of the committee that he would prepare a written statement outlining his opinion on the franchise matter and would send it here in the near future.

LOZIER IS LOCATED IN NEVADA

Wanted for Alleged Participation in Mabray Swindles.

Deputy United States Marshal W. A. Gronaweg received a telegram last night notifying him of the arrest at Battle Mound, Nev., of Leon Lozier, an alleged member of the Mabray gang, who was included in the indictments returned by the federal grand juries in Council Bluffs and Omaha. Lozier was formerly a resident of Council Bluffs. He was a well known sprinter and was alleged to have been one of the fake foot racers connected with the notorious Webb City gang some few years ago. He and Ed Moore of this city were arrested for assisting the Webb City gang in "Miking" Charles Gregory and William Barker of this city out of $8,000 on a fake foot race in the Missouri town. He and Moore were convicted and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary each. They took the case up on appeal and secured a new trial, which was never held, the case being finally dismissed. Lozier moved to Colorado and the governor of that state refused to extradite him. Moore is believed to have gone to California.

Brooks Arraigned for Theft.

Latt Brooks, the negro arrested in Omaha while trying to dispose of the team of horses stolen from the barn of A. Bernges in Lewis township was arraigned before Justice Cooper yesterday afternoon. His preliminary hearing was set for November 10, and in the meantime the grand jury, which will convene November 2, will investigate the case. In default of bail fixed at $800 Brooks was remanded to the county jail.

High School Teachers to Convention.

Fourteen of the high school teachers have notified Superintendent Beveridge of their intention to attend the annual meeting of the Iowa State Teachers' association, to be held in Des Moines, November 4, 5 and 6. This being the case the high school will be closed Thursday and Friday of that week.

One high school teacher will attend the meeting of the Nebraska Teachers' association, which will be held in Lincoln at the same time and another has signified her intention of spending the three days visiting the public schools in Kansas City.

But few of the teachers in the grades contemplate attending the state meeting and the ward schools will not be closed. Superintendent Beveridge, however, will arrange for substitutes to take the place of those grade teachers who wish to attend the Des Moines meeting. The Council Bluffs teachers have engaged rooms in the Savery hotel in Des Moines.

Mrs. Batonyi Wins With Jurors

They Think Her Entitled to Divorce from Austrian Horseman—Husband Still Fighting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The jury before which Mrs. Frances Work Burke-Roche Batonyi brought suit for divorce from Aurel Batonyi, the Austrian horseman, today returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. Batonyi. The verdict will have to be confirmed by the judge before a decree will be granted.

This verdict follows upon two years of charge and counter charge between the daughter of Frank Work, the New York millionaire, and Batonyi, who was associated with wealthy horse fanciers since he came to this country in 1898.

Mrs. Batonyi sued for divorce on statutory grounds, first alleging at least ten instances of unfaithfulness. At the trial, however, she withdrew all but two charges, these involving her husband with two New York women. A long night ride in a taxicab with one of these women and a night spent in the apartment of another were the allegations behind the charges.

It was during a coaching trip on the box of the public coach "Good Times," that Batonyi met Mrs. Burke-Roche, then divorced from her first husband, an English public man of some note. A brief courtship ended in August, 1905, in their marriage.

A year later the news was broken to Frank Work. The aged millionaire flew into a passion, it is said, and Batonyi alleges, threatened that unless his daughter began steps at once to free herself from the union he would disinherit her.

Soon afterward an action for divorce was begun by Mrs. Batonyi. The husband retaliated by bringing a counter suit, in which he named eleven co-respondents. He also sued his wife's father, her sister and her brother-in-law, her cousin and Mr. Work's confidential secretary, claiming damages aggregating $1,500,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections. These actions are pending.

GAMBLER TRIES TO SQUARE LIFE

Iowan Provides Last Name Shall Be Left Off His Monument.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—J. O. Van Syckel, representing the marble firm of Boddard & Ballard of Emmettsburg, Ia., who has just returned from that city, made a contract for the erection of a monument at the grave of George Brown at Manson, Ia. Brown was a gambler and had been quite successful at the green cloth. A year or more since, because of ill health, he went to Denver, Colo., leaving his wife with her father. Later the father murdered Brown's wife and is now serving a term in the Iowa penitentiary for the crime. Soon after this Brown died leaving a will, which among other things, provides that $1,000 of his estate should be expended for a monument to be placed at the graves of himself and wife. Upon this monument the first name of himself and the first name of his wife was to appear, but no reference should be made to the name, Brown. He also stipulated that so far as possible, his winnings from parties with whom he had gambled, should be returned, together with interest from the time they came into his possession, until the time payment was made. The provisions of the will are being carried out by the administrator.

Start on Deep Well.

PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The drilling work on the deep well at this city was begun yesterday, and it is hoped that before spring there will be actual knowledge of what lies underneath this part of the state in the way of either oil or gas. The rig which has been secured for the work is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be good for 5,000 feet in depth if desired, but it is not likely that any such depth will be reached. The gas flow in the artesian water here is reached at about 1,400 feet, and it is believed that another thousand feet or a total of 3,000 at the most, will show whether a stronger flow of gas without the water, or some other natural fuel can be secured. At any rate the city will know to a certainty just what is to be depended upon in the way of a gas supply here, and if the stronger flow is found, there will be something of material value to build upon.

Pastor Changes Location.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Monday evening, Rev. Duane Rifenbark and family were tendered a farewell reception. For five years Mr. Rifenbark was pastor of the First Methodist church of Huron, during which time much success attended his labors.

University of Copenhagen Declines to Forego Privilege of First Examination of Cook's Records.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 20.—The University of Copenhagen has declined to forego its privilege to the first examination of the North polar record of Dr. Cook. The authorities of the university today cabled to the National Geographic society at Washington as follows:

"Sorry. University not able to comply with your request."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Commander Robert E. Peary's observation records and proofs that he reached the North pole April 6, 1909, were submitted to the National Geographic society today and were referred by that body later to a committee on research with the direction that the chairman appoint a subcommittee of experts to examine the records and report on them to the board.

This committee will include Henry Gannett, chief geographer of the United States geological survey; Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., and O. T. Titman of the United States coast and geodetic society. The society announces that the only question it now had to decide was whether Commander Peary reached the North pole on the date claimed. The experts designated by the society will hold their first meeting within a few days and inaugurate their investigation of the Peary data. It is probable that the subcommittee will not report its findings for several months.

The chairman is Henry Gannett, the chief geographer of the United States Geological Survey, vice president of the National Geographic society and one of the founders of that organization in 1888. He is the author of topographic surveying books, statistical atlases of the tenth and eleventh censuses, the dictionary of altitudes and other books and government reports on geographic, magnetic declinations, etc.
