BYERS REVIVES OLD QUERY

Iowa Attorney General Reopens Question of Street Railway Franchise.

WHICH ONE IS NOW OPERATIVE?

Seligmann's Attorneys Deny Claim of Perpetual Grant and Attack is Looked For in 1917, When One Franchise Runs Out.

The opinion by Attorney General Byers of Iowa that the only general franchise of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company in Council Bluffs expires in two years has caused a renewal of discussion as to what franchise the company is operating under in Omaha.

Various opinions have been expressed by attorneys on the subject, some asserting the franchise rights expire in 1917, others in 1922, and it is understood the company asserts its rights are perpetual under the enabling act passed in 1889 authorizing the consolidation of the independent lines then operating in the city.

Whichever one of these opinions is correct, it is well understood that before 1917, when several of the old independent franchises expire, a big legal battle will be started to determine just what the rights of the company are. The situation from a legal standpoint is complicated by the fact that many franchises have been granted at different times and that most of the companies receiving these are represented directly or indirectly in the merger under the act of 1899.

Lawyers Say Not Perpetual. A legal opinion in writing, which is sufficient authority to command weight, was rendered by Attorneys Sheenan and Collins of New York, who made an examination of the subject for the Seligmanns, the New York bankers. The attorneys in their opinion say that the counsel for the company claim a perpetual franchise under the act of 1889, but they express the opinion that the company is operating under a franchise granted in 1888 for forty years. This would make it expire in 1928.

The grants of rights for street railway purposes in Omaha date back to territorial days. The first one recorded is in 1867 under ordinance No. 386 running for fifty years, with a reversionary clause, by the terms of which the city becomes the owner of the property at the end of the period.

This, in the opinion of lawyers, is not in force now, as the rights under it have probably been abandoned.

In 1884 the Cable Tramway company was granted a franchise for a cable line under ordinance No. 815 covering certain streets. In June, 1887, the Metropolitan Cable Railway company under ordinance No. 1286, was given a thirty-year franchise over certain streets.

The introduction of electricity as a motive power led to a new franchise for the Northwestern Street Railway company under ordinance 1433, passed July 2, 1887, extended over a period of thirty years. This was the first franchise under which electrically driven cars could operate.

The following year, May, 1888, ordinance No. 1731, which the Seligman lawyers refer to as the one under which the company is operating, was passed. It grants for forty years the right to operate cars moved by cable, compressed air, electricity or steam motor over the streets. Prior to this an ordinance was passed granting the right to operate on the city viaducts.

Two Real Estate Men Have Fight

Harry B. Wolf and C. B. Denny Mix and Former Says He Triumphed.

A corridor in the Paxton block was transformed into a ring and two Omaha real estate men were the principals in an encounter, when Harry B. Wolf and C. B. Denny came together.

The fray was near the elevator on the fourth floor of the building and while it lasted the few spectators say it was as lively a mill as one could find and not pay good money to see.

"I left Denny looking like Ketchel after Johnson got through with him," said Mr. Wolf.

At Mr. Denny's office inquiry revealed he would be in in about five minutes. It is said the cause was of long standing.

Mrs. Shephardson came to Omaha for treatment before the opening of the convention. She spent eight days at the hospital. The body will be taken to the home at Auburn Saturday by E. C. Shephardson, a son. Mrs. Shephardson leaves her husband, R. A. Shephardson, a wealthy farmer, and a family. She was 54 years old.

Mount Vesuvius Spurts Lava and Earth Trembles

Serious Eruption Takes Place—Houses Wrecked by Series of Quake Shocks.

NAPLES, Oct. 22.—Mount Vesuvius is again very active. Quantities of stones were thrown up today, falling inside the crater. The ejection was preceded and accompanied by detonations. This is considered the most serious eruption of Mount Vesuvius since 1868.

CATANIA, Sicily, Oct. 22.—Several strong earthquake shocks were felt today. They were more pronounced at Acreale, on the slope of Mount Etna.

The people at this place, alarmed by the first shocks, rushed out of their houses and camped in the open air. Ten houses fell in the outskirts of Acreale, but only one person was killed. The victim was a veterinary surgeon who refused to abandon his house. It was among those thrown down by the later and heavier shocks and he was buried in the wreckage. The walls of many houses were cracked. The whole Mount Etna region was severely shaken.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Announcement was made at St. Ignace college today that a prolonged and somewhat severe earthquake shock was recorded by the seismograph last night. The disturbance began at 6:31 and lasted until 7 o'clock, but was the most noticeable between 6:44 and 6:58. It was estimated the shock was about 5,600 miles from here.

JOB PRINTERS IN SESSION

Seek Method of Determining Cost of Production at Chicago Meeting.

A. T. Klopp of Klopp & Bartlett company and Frank Elliek of the Omaha Printing company have returned from Chicago, where they attended a meeting of job printers, at which a movement was started to install in every print shop a system of determining cost of production.

One hundred and eighty-five delegates outside of Chicago were present, representing cities all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and as far north as Winnipeg.

"The object of the meeting was to devise a system of figuring the cost of production and its adoption in all the print shops of the country. The trouble now is many shops are run in an unbusinesslike manner and prices are made without regard to the cost. A committee of fifteen was appointed to devise a plan and secure its adoption by print shops all over the country."

IOWA MAN RAILWAY DIRECTOR

Homer A. Miller of Des Moines Becomes Power with the Northwestern Line.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—John V. Farwell of Chicago and Homer A. Miller of Des Moines, Ia., were added to the directorate of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at the annual meeting of the stockholders today. They succeed E. E. Osborn and S. F. Barger, both of New York.

Other retiring directors who were re-elected were, Chauncey M. Depew, H. C. Frick and David P. Kimball. At a subsequent meeting of directors Oliver Ames of

Rock Island Fast Train in Ditch

Strikes Horse Near Neola and Jumps the Track—No One is Injured.

NEOLA, Ia., Oct. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The engine and baggage car of Rock Island passenger train No. 14, eastbound, known as the Chicago-Nebraska special, were derailed tonight when the train struck a horse, as it was approaching this town tonight. The engine rolled down an embankment and was demolished, but both the engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. Although the passengers were given a bad shaking up, none was seriously hurt.

The accident occurred near the Milwaukee crossing and tore up a connecting switch, which for some time prevented the movement of traffic, several trains being blocked until the switch could be replaced.

The main line of the Rock Island was entirely blocked most of the night and all trains between Neola and Omaha were sent over the Milwaukee tracks. The passengers of the wrecked train were transferred to other cars and proceeded east after several hours' delay.

The wreck occurred so near the Milwaukee tracks that it was with some difficulty that the train on that road could be moved for some time.

Carnival Reigns at Golden Gate

San Francisco Has Gay Time Over Discovery and Progress in Rebuilding.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—San Francisco and all of its guests went carnival mad tonight and crowds surged up and down the streets after the decorative illuminations were extinguished tonight. Never before has this city entertained such a huge crowd as gathered to see the big civic and industrial parade, the leading feature of the day. More than 20,000 people marched for three hours, and it was late in the afternoon before the last of the floats disappeared.

For a time gloom spread over the merry-makers when it was reported that Don Gaspar De Portola had been thrown from his horse and injured, but this feeling turned to station when it was learned that the horsemanship of the courtly Spaniard had enabled him to escape without serious injury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—With New York's municipal election only twelve days distant, the campaign today reached the stage of hopeful forecast and optimistic estimates. Here are the "probabilities" estimated by campaign managers for the three candidates for mayor:

Bannard (republican-fusion), by 40,000; Gaynor (democrat), by 15,000; Hearst (independent), by 30,000.

The confidence expressed by all the campaign managers was pointed out by many observers tonight as a further indication of the nonpartisan character of the support upon which the candidates depend and of the breaking down to a great extent of party lines in the consideration of New York's municipal problems.

There were more than 100 minor meetings in various parts of New York tonight, with a plethora of cart-tall oratory on almost every important street corner.

Campaign Managers Busy With Election Day Near

In the congested residence districts. Justice Gaynor toured the East side of the city, repeating his previous attack on Hearst and Bannard and emphasizing particularly his plea for more "personal liberty" and for a liberal construction of police laws.

Bannard was heard tonight in Staten Island. "I am a business man," he told his hearers. "I was never a candidate for office and have no political ambition. If elected I shall do nothing else but work faithfully at my new job and try to leave a good name when the four years are over."

William M. Ivins, the former republican candidate for mayor, who is now advocating the election of Hearst, spoke tonight in a dozen small meetings. He told his hearers that he was entirely satisfied with the progress of the campaign and continued with a repetition of his former attacks on Justice Gaynor.
