Gebhardt Said to Be Another "Bluebeard"

Murderer of Anna Luther is Suspected of Two Other Similar Crimes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Frederick Gebhardt, alias Mueller, the self-confessed Zelig, murderer, may have a claim on the title "bluebeard," according to a statement made tonight by Captain Coughlin of the Brooklyn detective force.

Two other mysterious murders of women are to be investigated before the prisoner is put on trial for his life and in favor of his uncertain marital career, the police believe two and possibly three additional cases where women mysteriously disappeared.

It was reported today the prisoner confessed to the corner that he killed two other women, but this could not be confirmed, Captain Coughlin said.

"Gebhardt admitted enough to put several new clues at our command and we hope to get further admissions from him as soon as we have followed these clues up."

According to the police, Gebhardt served nine years in Sing Sing for swindling a New York woman out of $300 on a promise of marriage. He went to prison under the name of Scharferlein in 1896 and was released in 1906. At the time of his trial for this offense it was shown that he already had a wife in New York and at least one wife living in Germany.

The prisoner is said to have operated under six aliases, while other marriages as yet not proved absolutely figure in his record. His career particularly since his release from prison is being looked into by detectives.

The inquest over the body of Anna Luther, the German girl whom he admits having shot, will be concluded on Friday.

Greets His Son, Then Falls Dead

"Good Morning," Says William Hooper of Crete, and Death Claims Him.

William Hooper arose from his bed Thursday to reply to the "good morning" greeting of his son, W. F. Hooper, and dropping to the floor of his bed room, dead.

The aged man had retired the night before in good health and spirits after a day seeing Omaha with his son. A physician pronounced heart disease the cause of death.

Mr. Hooper was a wealthy retired farmer living at Crete. He had lived in Crete since 1888, when he removed from Jerseyville, Ill., where he had been engaged in extensive farming projects. His life in Crete was one of quiet retirement, but even up to his death Mr. Hooper was able to care for his investments personally.

He was born in Devonshire, England, and came to the United States with his parents at the age of 2 years.

BALTIMORE GETS W. C. T. U.

Beats Atlantic City and Milwaukee for Next Convention.

BIG GIFT FOR THE NATIONAL

Estate Near St. Louis Valued at Fifty Thousand Dollars is Given as Memorial to His Wife by Ferris.

Baltimore, "It is certain, the next annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union. This was decided at the meeting of the executive board of the union, held in the assembly room of the Young Women's Christian association, Atlantic City and Milwaukee had extended invitations and each received a few favorable votes. Belated invitations were received from Mobile Ala., Toledo, Ohio and University Place, Mo.

An important action of the board was the setting of the convention dates after the fall election, in the future instead of before, as the women who are taking in the fall campaigns are prevented from attending the conventions, so it was deemed best to fix the dates for future conventions after the fall election.

A gift of an estate near St. Louis, valued at $50,000, has been tendered to the national organization by the estate of St. Louis, as a memorial to his wife. It is his desire that this place be made a home for Women's Christian Temperance union workers who have grown old in faithful service and have no other place to spend their declining years, and that it be called the Addie Ferris Memorial home.

The matter was referred to a representative committee including the general officers and the Missouri members of the executive board.

Change Time of World's School. It was also voted to memorialize the World's Sunday School association and to change the world's temperance Sunday from the last Sunday in November to the second or third Sunday of October. This will bring it before the fall elections in this country and will, the women believe, aid in influencing voters.

A supplement to the Frances Willard memorial program observed Friday at each year by all unions was recommended by the board in the form of a medal contest. The program will be sent out by the national committee and will be made up of extracts and songs from Miss Willard's own writings and a sketch of her life. The proceeds of all such contests will go to the Frances Willard memorial fund for the extension of temperance work.

The committee continued its session during the afternoon. The general officers left last evening for national headquarters at Evanston, Ill., where they will hold their first executive session for the new term.

PURITY WORKERS GIVE IDEAS TO MOTHERS AND TEACHERS

Plead with Them to Lay Proper Foundations in the Children's Lives.

Mothers and teachers gathered at the First Presbyterian church Thursday morning and afternoon to listen to the advice and experiences of those engaged in purity work. The conference was held under the direction of Mrs. Rose Woodallen Chapman of Brooklyn, daughter of Mrs. Mary Woodallen, president of the world's purity work. The daughter has taken up the work begun by the mother and is president of the purity department of the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Mrs. Sena Hartwell Wallace, national organizer and lecturer for the Woman's Christian Temperance union, suggested that the best way to reach the children in the purity work was to instruct the mothers and fathers on the subject of the origin of life. She pleaded for a father who would put his arm around his son and talk to him rather than scold him from a distance.

Mrs. L. B. Smith, national superintendent of recruit work for the Woman's Christian Temperance union, led the discussion of the purity work as she came in touch with it from her work of rescue.

Dr. Carolyn E. Geisel, from the surgical staff of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, who has been an operator for twenty years and who has been a chautauque lecturer for fourteen years, was moved forward to the program, as she had to leave early to catch a boat at New York for England.

"Poor food, lack of physical exercise, wrong clothing, are some of the foundations of the cause of social unrest which makes for impurity," said Dr. Geisel, who also spoke of the possibilities of legislation to supply the demands for physical foundation for purity. She advocated children's playgrounds as a grand place for physical exercise, where the play of children would have some guidance.

"Mothers too often shy when they hear we are to deliver a lecture on the subject of purity," said Mrs. Chapman, who is also a lecturer for the American Society of Sanitary and Moral Prophylaxis. "The principal trouble we have is in getting mothers to our meetings, but when we once get them there it is an easy matter to interest them in the work we have in hand."

Mrs. Chapman tries to make mothers realize the moral dangers which threaten their children in the public schools and explains to them the physical effects of immorality, and points out what mothers can do to protect their children from these dangers. She tells in simple words the story of the origin of life as a mother may explain it to her child.

Steals Money to Get to Sweetheart

North Dakota Young Man Lands in Omaha Jail Contrite and Depressed.

The closing days of the courtship of Ed Norris, a young farm hand from York N. D. were rudely interrupted when he was arrested at the Windsor hotel Thursday afternoon, to answer charge of embezzling money from his employer.

Norris was dejected and silent as the police stripped him of his money, jewelry and love letters at the station.

"Please let me wear this ring—I haven't taken it off for years," he begged, when an officer started to pull it from his finger.

Detective Dempsey glanced over to the pile of love letters and then back at the sorrowful young man.

"Yes, go along, kid," he assented. "The telegram ordering the arrest of Norris states that he is accused of taking $50. The young man has confessed to having $129 belonging to Edward James, a farmer, for whom he had been working. He says that he was given $50 to pay a lumber bill while in town with a string of wheat wagons. He told the detectives that he sold the wheat and pocketed the money. The temptation of a sweetheart in Oklahoma was too great.

A warrant is held by C. H. Troger, chief of police at York, Norris was arrested by Frank Murphy, detective. He had $177 in bills when arrested.

SEEKS VICTIM IN A HOSPITAL

Andren Mansuella Puts a Countryman Under Bond to Keep the Peace.

Giovanni Battista Gotto hails from Sunny It. He is also under $100 bond to keep the peace. Andren Mansuella seeks the protection of the American laws. He appeared before Justice William Altstadt with five knife wounds in his anatomy and a story of an encounter in a local hospital that came perilously near resulting in a tragedy.

"Please Meester 'Merican," beseeched the complainant, "I ask you wait and see what he do. He golt' after me. He cut me five time seeses I am comp' here. I want you help."

Andre then told the story of the cutting. He asserts that after he had been taken to the hospital, suffering from knife wounds, his foe called at the institution and, under the guise of a friendly caller, sought out his victim and attempted his life. A tragedy was averted, he asserts, by the presence of nurses and attendants.

Justice Altstadt issued the peace bond and ordered the appearance of Giovanni before the court next Wednesday morning.
