

JOHNSON AND JEFFRIES SIGN

Articles Call for Finish Fight Not Later Than July 5, 1910.

DIVISION OF THE PURSE

Seventy-Five Per Cent Goes to the Winner—Club Making the Best Offer to Secure the Fight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Jack Johnson and James J. Jeffries—the negro insisted that as present champion, his name should go first—signed articles in New York late this afternoon binding them to fight forty-five rounds to a finish, not later than July 5, 1910, before the club offering the best financial inducement, the winner to take a side bet of $100,000, seventy-five per cent of the purse, the loser to take twenty-five per cent.

The preliminary discussion was scheduled for 3 o'clock in the banquet hall of the hotel Albany. Jeffries and his manager were punctual to the minute, but Johnson showed his way diffidently through the crowd of ten minutes late. At the table, as the men took their places, sat Jeffries, with Bob Vernon at his left and Sam Berger, his manager, at his right, Johnson, George Considine, "Honest John" Kelly, Sam Harris, Samuel Nelson, Bob Murphy and other well known sporting men.

Jeffries eyed the negro steadily, but did not meet his glance. Johnson was affable, but showed his nervousness by his frequent grimace and his constant clicking of two red dice, which he carried half concealed in the palm of his right hand.

Negotiations Began. Both principals posed for the photographer and when the smoke of the flashlights had cleared, promptly got down to business. Jeffries let Berger do his talking, but Johnson broke in frequently on the articles took form, that Jeffries was winning nearly every point for which he contended.

It was agreed without dispute that the men would box for the "heavyweight championship of the world." At this point Johnson insisted that the present champion's name should precede the required undefeated champion's name in the written agreement. Jeffries quickly assented. Berger then suggested that the fight go to the club making the highest responsible bid within the next thirty days. Little agreed, but Johnson, shaking his head dubiously, asked that each bid be accompanied by a $5,000 forfeit, as a guarantee of good faith. Jeffries nodded and Berger gave his assent.

So far it had been easy sailing, but when the question of a referee was raised, the crowd edged forward expectantly. Little, for Johnson, wanted to name his choice. For the first time Jeffries broke in. "Let the club that gets the bid have a word," he ordered. "They've got as much at stake as we have. Let it wait."

Little was for arguing the point, but Johnson was all conciliation. "Well, let it go," he urged, "that's all right."

Fight to a Finish.

The number of rounds was next in order. "No far as I'm concerned," Jeffries said, "I don't care if it's six, ten, twenty or a hundred rounds; but I know what the public will demand, and I am going to see they get it—it means a finish."

At this the crowd cheered until Bob Murphy had to shout them for order. But Johnson was not satisfied. He feared a San Francisco club, where only twenty-round bouts are allowed, might get the bid, and in that event insisted that twenty rounds should be specified.

"Then 'Erisco won't get the fight," announced Jeffries decisively. "Make it forty-five rounds or more. Swallowing my objections, previously voiced, the negro agreed volubly.

There was still the rock on which most agreements split—the division of the purse. To the surprise of the crowd both men said that they were willing to fight, winner take all, or 98 and 40 per cent, or 75 and 25 per cent, and on the latter basis it was settled.

The side bet caused more difficulty. Jeffries wanted to wager $20,000, Johnson, more cautious, offered $5,000. Little, who manager, wanted to see the money at once, as a business proposition. As a compromise they agreed to let the $5,000 already posted to secure today's meeting stand, with $5,000 addition to be added forthwith. Bob Murphy, manager of the hotel Albany was chosen as temporary stakeholder. The final stakeholder to be chosen by the club.

Now only one critical point remained: "When would they fight?"

Date of the Fight.

As a finish fight had been agreed on, it was the consensus of opinion at the matchmakers table that the club offering California must get the winning bid. With thirty days for the bids to come in and sixty days more for the men to condition themselves in the weather at the earliest would be too wet in California and too cold in Nevada. Both men agreed that to accommodate the huge crowds to attend, the bout must be held out-of-doors. Berger further urged the necessity for ample training time.

And it was formally settled that a day "not later than July 5, 1910," be chosen. The deal was closed.

Again the principals posed for the flash-light men, champagne was served, while the articles were being typewritten and at 5:40 the binding signatures were affixed and witnessed.

TIGERS PROMISE FAST WORK

Missouri Coach's Request to Withdraw Negro Team Granted.

CECIL RAPID, Ia., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Scheduling yesterday's practice game cancelled with Cornell college, and saving for Iowa the practice game for this morning. Coach Roper through his last signing of the team for this morning, tomorrow. The practice was fast and snappy and it is now believed that if the Tigers practice they will be able to hold the Hawkeyes, even with injuries and a weaker front than against Ames. Only a few new players, principally forwards, have been added to the Missouri roster this week, but Roper's charges are well drilled and when they meet the Hawkeyes, they will balance Iowa's superior weight with speed and perfection of play.

Jeffries let Berger do his talking, but Johnson broke in frequently on the articles took form, that Jeffries was winning nearly every point for which he contended.

Eight Hundred Speakers Busy in New York City

Bannard Tells Number of Audiences He is Not an Advocate of Disregard of Law.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—With New York's municipal election only three working days distant, there was a general summing up of issues tonight by the 800 speakers who presented the causes of Gaynor, Bannard and Hearst to audiences in every corner of Greater New York. Gaynor, speaking four times to audiences in Brooklyn, Manhattan and the Bronx, returned to his plea for greater personal liberty, the abolition of police "clearship" and liberality in the enforcement of minor laws.

Bannard, the republican candidate, told seven mass meetings in New York and Brooklyn that he stood "first, last and all the time for a business administration in a Tammany-free city." Incidentally, however, the republican candidate took up the cudgels with Mr. Gaynor on the personal liberty question. "I do not come before you to recommend the violation of laws or to countenance the violation of laws, and if personal liberty means any such thing as the overriding of law, I am firm against that. I am no crank and I stand for no oppression or personal liberty."

Hearst, the third candidate for the mayoralty, was silent tonight, but his followers, in ten mass meetings, kept the fires burning. At each meeting a long banner waving high above the stage, bearing the words "down with the bosses of both parties," furnished the text for the speakers. The campaign managers for all three candidates again expressed their confidence today in the result of the election. There was evidence, however, that the leaders believe that the race is closer than their forecasts would indicate. In all three camps it was announced that the speech-making and campaigning would continue practically up to the opening of the polls at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Judge Lurton Mentioned for the Supreme Bench

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of the United States caused by the death of Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham of New York is the subject of most of the gossip in Washington just now. It is, popularly speaking, the most important matter which will confront President Taft upon his return to the national capital.

The latest "name-up" of well-informed prophets here tonight names Horace H. Lurton of Nashville, Justice of the United States circuit court in the Sixth circuit, as most probably Justice Peckham's successor, with Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers of the Department of Justice as the probability for the next vacancy in the court. Mr. Bowers is thought by many to stand a very good chance of getting this one.

THE DOCTOR AND HIS MORNING MAIL

It is a Great Pleasure to Open Dozens of Letters from Grateful Patients

TELLING OF GREAT IMPROVEMENT

United Doctors Receive Many Such Letters. Hundreds of Testimonials Come by Mail.

There is a certain pleasure and feeling of expectancy which anyone feels upon opening a letter. Whether it is a love letter, a friend's letter, or a business letter—it is always eagerly opened.

The mail which comes to the United Doctors, those great medical specialists who have their Omaha Institute at 204 Neville block, is perhaps the most interesting and wholly pleasant stack of letters that comes to any address in the city. The United Doctors' mail consists almost wholly of letters of praise and commendation from cured patients, or patients who are after having treated with the United Doctors.

One reason why the United Doctors always cure their patients is that they are very careful to never treat an incurable case—thus their record of cures is always clear and they take no money from incurables as is the custom of many doctors. The new treatment used by these specialists cures many who could not even be helped by ordinary doctors. A fair sample of the hundreds of testimonials received by the United Doctors is the following:

Dear Doctor, Decatur, Ill., July 10, 1909. I came to you after having treated with numerous other physicians without result. I had been ailing off and on for about ten years and it seemed that I was never to get well. I was very weak and my stomach and intestines were in such a bad state that I was almost unbearable at times.

You examined me and told me that you could cure me and today I feel better than I have for the last ten years, and am as well as I can. I think that I am so much better—my God and the doctors—"You saved my life and made it worth living."
