NEWTON OVER THE TRANSOM

Trouble at Insane Asylum Results in His Being Discharged.
GOVERNOR MAY NOT ACQUIESCE

General Opinion that Sharp and His Friends Drove a Good Bargain in Purchasing the Traction Stock.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Felix Newton, bookkeeper at the insane asylum at Lincoln, has been fired. Superintendent Woodard told it.

How long Felix Newton will remain fired is a question, for the ex-bookkeeper has a strong pull with Governor Shallenberger and there is no doubt but what Dr. Woodard will be compelled to give some good reasons for his action or it will not be sustained. Newton is the boss of the Russian vote in this city and it has been customary for him to deliver several hundred votes of the people of his nationality to the democratic candidates at every election.

But Superintendent Woodard has had it in for Newton ever since the bookkeeper refused to receipt for a car of coal which he said was not delivered to the asylum, and Newton had to go.

The vouchers which Mr. Newton filed with the secretary of state are said by the record clerk to be among the best of any filed by the bookkeepers of any state institution.

Dr. Woodard and his associates believed that Newton had been peddling news from the insane asylum and that probably more than any other thing was the reason Dr. Woodard threw the gaff into him.

The fact that he had discharged the only representative of the Russians in the employ of the state at the asylum was kept secret by the head of the asylum and was not even reported to the office of the governor. Dr. Woodard finally confirming the discharge this afternoon. It is more than probable that he did not intend to inform Newton of his action until after election, as yesterday Newton himself denied that he had been discharged.

Newton is another democrat who has been stung with Ingratitude. For years he has labored without reward or expectation of reward. This along comes Governor Shallenberger and Newton helped him and his reward was to be steward at the asylum. But County Chairman Horace Bishop wanted that job, so Felix was tossed aside and given as a sop the job of bookkeeper. Then came the rows and the final overthrow temporarily at least of Felix.

But it will all be up to the governor when he returns.

Suggestion for Advertising.
General Manderson has written Labor Commissioner Maupin a letter regarding the publication of a bulletin, Nebraska Resources. Enclosed with his suggestions was a letter from Thomas Creigh, attorney for the Cudahy Packing company, commending General Manderson for his interest in securing for the labor bureau sufficient appropriations to more properly advertise the state and its resources. Mr. Creigh called the attention of General Manderson to the series of articles being published in the Sunday Bee of the various counties of the state. These articles, said Mr. Creigh, were mighty good advertising for Nebraska and the next bulletin issued by the department of labor should contain the population of the counties, valuation of counties and per capita wealth of the people.

Charity Begins at Home.

Two young women who have come to Lincoln to solicit money for an orphan's home in Kansas City were refused a letter by Mayor Love today. When he was requested to give them a letter endorsing their project the mayor said he considered the young women too far away from home for that work. Lincoln had plenty to do caring for its own orphans without helping out some other city.

Rules for Hallowe'en.
Children who desire may raise a general, though orderly, lot of racket Saturday night in honor of Hallowe'en, but Sunday and Monday nights they must keep quiet. This is the order of the mayor and he promised that no policeman would interfere with any innocent fun Saturday night, but should any child attempt to do damage to property, said child will be taken in charge by the thousand more or less policemen in plain clothes who will be on duty that night.

Home for Dependent Children.
For the Board of Control of the State School for Dependent Children, the secretary, Arthur L. Weatherly makes public a lengthy composition explaining in detail the origin of the new law governing that institution and praising the governor for refraining from making it part of his spoils distribution. The purpose of the school and its management is set forth as follows:

It is the purpose of the board to receive into its care the children that are legally determined to be, either from the voluntary relinquishment of their parents or through the action of the courts, which are carefully selected. In the state of Nebraska at the present time there are many homes awaiting every child which needs them. But the board does not propose to be a party to, or assist in any way, the desertion of children by those who, by every moral and legal law, ought to care for them. The board recognizes the fact that the children may be permanently or temporarily committed to its care when it is the duty of the parent to care for them, but it does not propose to permit any one to thrust upon the state responsibilities they ought to bear themselves. Furthermore, when little babies are taken from their mothers, the chances of their living are greatly decreased and the social burden becomes to a certain extent child murder, so long as the state of Nebraska makes the provision that it does for the care of young girls and their babies at the home for girls at Millard. There is no need for any institution conducting in any way child desertion.

During the first two months and a half of the existence of the State School for Dependent Children it was necessary to conduct the children on the streets. During that time Mrs. Clara Marks acted as temporary superintendent. At the end of the first month the property of the school was in a position to be thoroughly reorganized on the new basis because of the immediate care of the school, by the returning of some of their parents and by the placing out of a much larger number.

After this experience of two and one-half months we know that the School for Dependent Children can become virtually a caring home, scarcely more than an office because of the fact that three or four child comes into its care it can be immediately placed in a home. There are more applicants for babies than there are babies legally coming to the school. There are many, many more applicants for little girls than there are girls for adoption and we will be able to find homes for all the boys that are placed in our care.

Application Made for Guardian of the Insane Widow.
BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Daniel S. Woodard, superintendent of the state insane asylum at Lincoln, has filed in the county court here, through his attorney, R. W. Sabin, an application for the appointment of F. D. McGirt to serve as guardian of Mrs. Clara Starlin, a mental incompetent and an inmate of the asylum for the last ten years or more. Hearing on the application is set for November 5.

Mrs. Starlin is the widow of the late Stephen Starlin whose death occurred in this city August 4, last. He bequeathed all his real and personal property to a friend, Gertrude Barlow. This friend, it appears was Starlin's acknowledged affinity, and at her death the property is to be divided among three nieces of the deceased. In his will Starlin made no provision for his wife, and it is said by those familiar with the case that he objected to the release of his wife from the asylum lest it would interfere with his peace and happiness. It is the supposition that should the court grant the application for the appointment of a guardian, an action will be brought to break the will.

Lost Pocketbook Found.
FALLS CITY, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Foster of Oklahoma, coming up on the Missouri Pacific railroad, lost her pocketbook out the car window near the Nemaha. Leaving the train at this place she returned to the place where it was dropped and was fortunate in finding it where it fell, but opened and the contents scattered. The contents, with the exception of a few dollars, were found.

Articles of association were submitted and it is prayed that the court will grant permission for the establishment of drainage district No. 1 of the county of Johnson. The object of the association is the reclamation, drainage and protection of the lowlands along the said stream in the said county. The criminal cases are the State of Nebraska against Herman Steinkuhler, a Sterling saloon keeper, on the charge of a violation of the pure food law—an appeal from the county court. The second case is the State of Nebraska against William Harris Applert, one of Nance county's pioneers, and a soldier of the lower court. The third case is that of the State against Dr. John G. Neff of Sterling, charged with incest, and the fourth case is that of the State against the Johnson Telephone company,
