AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Demented Man Attacks Girl, but Makes Escape.

POLICE HUNT HIM IN VAIN
 Boys, as Aftermath of Halloween, Make Attack Upon Greek Laundry, but No One is Hurt.

A man frightened several girls of the Brown Park school yesterday at the noon hour by following them on the street as they were going home. Finally after several attempts he came near enough and seized one girl by the throat. The girl screamed and after some rough jerks the man left her and fled. A crowd of the larger boys saw chase, but he fled as he could run and finally outstripped them. The principal of the school called the police and Shields and Chief Briggs searched the neighborhood, but failed to locate the man.

Chief Briggs said he thought the man's name was Christman because a man such as the girl described was at the South Omaha police station Wednesday morning and there showed evidences of an unbalanced mind. He told the police that some one had hypnotized him and that he felt queer. There was no charge against the man and he did not appear violent; the police let him go. It is believed he strayed about town until noon when he happened in the neighborhood of the school. The girls were much frightened and few of them ventured out last night after dark. During the evening the police answered several calls to the neighborhood to secure suspicious characters, but in each case failed to find a likely party.

First Pipe Organ.
 The first pipe organ which South Omaha can boast has been completely installed at St. Martin's church. The last of the congregation was organized Wednesday morning and the organ was played by the organist in the church for several years.

WHERE SHALL WE STAY WHEN IN NEW YORK?

At the Hotel St. Regis, Corner Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street.

The question of where to stop when in New York is a momentous one to the infrequent traveler. Those whose business or inclinations lead them frequently to the metropolis are generally well acquainted with the different hotels, but the stranger possesses no such knowledge, and is often unable to make a wise choice. Those who make no plans in advance generally patronize hotels nearest to the railway station. Those who care for glitter of excitement seek out the new and vast hotels close to or on "the great white way," as Broadway has come to be called. But the thoughtful, discriminating visitor to the metropolis will avoid both these types of hotels. He will select a hotel amid refined surroundings, one that affords every comfort coupled with guests coming to New York and stopping at the Hotel St. Regis will find accommodations of the very highest grade in every particular, and at standard rates. Single rooms are $5 and $4 a day; the same with private bath $5 a day (or $4 for two people) while for a parlor, bedroom and private bath the rate is $12 a day and up. The restaurant charges are no higher than those of other first-class hotels.

GIRL'S LETTER PLAYS PART

Envelope Found Near Scene of Train Robbery Bears Grigware's Name.

ALICE EVANS ON WITNESS STAND

Texas Maid, Well Acquainted with Alleged Bandit, Tells Story to Jury—Express Clerks and Postal Men on Stand.

An envelope sent to Frank Grigware from Waco, Tex., by Miss Alice Evans and found near the scene of the Mud cut train robbery the morning of May 23 may prove the smoking gun in the case, according to the testimony of Miss Evans.

Miss Evans was on the witness stand Thursday afternoon and identified the envelope as having been addressed by her in April last to Grigware, in who she had more than a passing interest. Miss Evans became acquainted with Grigware about three years ago in Walla, Walla, Ore., and had corresponded with him more or less since during her residence in Texas. Grigware had visited at the home of her stepfather near Waco, remaining there several days. She observed that he was the possessor of an automatic pistol at that time, which looked like the one shown her in the court room. She did not, however, distinctly recognize the pistol holder as the one Grigware had at her home in Texas. She also admitted having been introduced to Jack Shelton in Walla Walla when her home was there, but she did not see Shelton, whom she knew as "Jack Gordon."

She also identified a postal card that had been mailed to her by Grigware about May 21 of the present year from Council Bluffs, the mailing hour being 6:30 p. m. Grigware had also written her from Kansas City and Omaha.

Girl's Stepfather on Stand.
 David Benedict, the stepfather of Miss Evans, told of seeing an automatic pistol in Grigware's possession while he was visiting at his home near Waco, which resembled the one shown him in the court room, but he believed that the pistol that Grigware had was a newer one than that shown him. He was not certain about the holder. He had never, to his knowledge, seen any of the defendants except Shelton, whom he thought he had once seen when they lived in Walla Walla. He wanted Grigware to stay with them at his Waco home long enough to see Grigware visiting them, but Grigware insisted that he would have to go to see "the boys," and intimated that he was going to Hot Springs.

J. R. Deverees of the Wells, Fargo Express company told of having expressed two grips to Denver on May 29 last. Matthews addressed to J. C. Kelly. The two grips were sent collect. Mr. Deverees identified Matthews in the court room as the man who had brought the grips to the express office.

Pistols Sent by Express.
 E. J. Bogue, shipping clerk of the Colt's Arms company, testified that he had shipped two pistols, one an automatic and the other a revolver, the latter to a hardware firm in Spokane, and the automatic to Browning Bros. company of Ogden, Utah. The two guns were numbered the same as those shown in the government exhibits and had been shipped at present periods prior to February of the current year. He identified the two guns as having been of the make of the Colt's Arms company.

Henry Williams of Ogden, Utah, a clerk for Browning Bros. company, testified to having sold an automatic gun to one of the alleged bandits, sometime between January 10 and February 22 of the current year. He identified Woods and Torgenson as two of the men, but was unable to positively identify the third. He could not state positively to which of the men he sold the gun.

Peter Marshall of Ralston, deputy game warden for that locality, stated that he saw Matthews, Torgenson and Grigware in the timber at Ralston sitting around a fire on the morning of May 20. He went over and directed the men to put out the fire as it was against the rules. Four men were there, but under cross examination he could positively identify only Torgenson and Grigware.

United States Marshal Warner and Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha testified as to further tests with the automatic pistol and defective firing pin of the same, that was brought out in the morning robbery. The tests were made during the noon recess.

Tracing Booty of Holdups.
 One of the principal points of evidence in the trial of the Overland Limited train robbery by which it is expected to connect the men with the robbery, was the tracing of a quantity of mutilated currency from the First National bank of Kemmerer, Wyo., by registered mail to New York for redemption.

This money was marked and its numbers taken by the bank and an action of law was retained by the bank. Some of this identical money was found in the possession of two of the alleged bandits, Woods and Torgenson, after their arrest the night of May 27, and was identified by Assistant Cashier Roy A. Mason during the trial Thursday morning.

Government Men Testify.
 Postoffice Inspectors L. A. Thompson of Omaha, F. A. Grogan of Lincoln and C. M. Perkins of Washington testified as to the recovery of the rifled mail sacks at the Brown Park school and their examination and the rifled mail with specific reference to the Kemmerer money package.

Inspector Perkins told of being present when the envelopes containing the effects taken from the prisoners the night of their arrest, were opened by Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha, in the presence of the United States Marshal and Marshal Warner. It was at this time that Mr. Perkins put his official mark upon the money taken from the prisoners. The envelopes were again sealed and have since remained in the possession of the United States authorities. Inspector Perkins identified several of the bills as being part of the Kemmerer package.

State Association Meets in General Session on Rates on Bonds.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Following the four big banquets last night the State Teachers association got busy this morning in the various sections, winding up with a general session tonight.

At the night session Luther Halsey of New York talked on "How Health Habits are Established" and W. N. Clifford of the forest service of the Department of Agriculture was one of the speakers.

The State Bonding board desires it understood that its rates recently promulgated were merely maximum rates on fidelity and surety companies and that agents of these companies may write bonds for a less amount than fixed by the board. It is reported to the board that agents have been telling that it would be illegal for them to sell bonds at a rate less than fixed by the board and thus they have forced those desiring this class of insurance to pay the maximum rate.

The members of the board in a signed statement said: "The attention of the insuring public is respectfully called to the fact that the rates named by this board are maximum rates and that any statement emanating from insurance companies that the board's fixed arbitrary rates is incorrect. The object of the legislation was to prevent the fidelity and surety companies from charging exorbitant rates. Let it be clearly understood that the rates named are maximum rates and that the surety companies have the option of naming to the public rates on any class of business lower than the maximum rates named by the board."

This statement was signed by Governor Shallenberger, Auditor Barton and Attorney General Thompson.

The rate charged for depository bonds for bonds is liable to be raised by the state bond board from 20 cents to 30 cents per $100. The board had the matter under consideration this afternoon and probably tomorrow will take action. The board has figured that at the 35 cent rate the bonding companies would have lost $200,000 in 1909, but the membership committee is confident of success.

The association has resumed its old time social activity this fall and the winter promises to afford no end of fun for the members of the various classes and clubs. The gymnasium classes have rather taken the lead in these social affairs and have frequently been hostesses of affairs altogether unique and enjoyable. The Halloween party Saturday night was the first of these affairs in the new building.

The annual convention of the Nebraska Young Women's Christian association will be held at Hastings November 12 to 14. Miss Edith M. Dabb, one of the national secretaries, will be present, as will be the secretaries of the Omaha, Lincoln and State university associations. Miss Florence Parmelee of Omaha has been visiting the college association of the state, assisting the state committee in preparation for the meeting.

Former Tecumseh Banker Defendant in Equity Case at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Charles M. Chamberlain, cashier of the Chamberlain Banking house at Tecumseh, which failed in 1902, against whom two criminal cases are pending in the district court here for receiving deposits in this bank after he knew it was insolvent, has been made defendant in an equitable relief suit brought against him yesterday in the district court by John Ward, receiver of the defunct banking institution.

The plaintiff asks the court to set aside a judgment for $26.62 be revived and that the defendant be restrained from causing an execution to be issued upon said judgment or otherwise attempting to collect the same.

Activities of the Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

The Visiting Nurse association has commenced a campaign for members. The work of this institution and what it means to the sick poor of Omaha is too well known to need repeating, and yet there are many who do not realize that the $1 membership fee plays an important part in making this work possible. While the finance committee has been busy raising funds from other sources, the membership has dropped off until it now includes only a little over 100, while not long ago it numbered over 300. Each of the directors of the association has assumed the responsibility of securing twenty-five new members or renewals, and the aim of the association is 1,000 members by the middle or last of November.

The Omaha Young Women's Christian association is rejoicing in the largest membership of its history, and it is hoped to realize the long cherished ambition for 3,000 members before the year closes. Over 2,500 members are now enrolled and there will be over 500 expirations before January 1, but the membership committee is confident of success.

Sioux City, Ia., 10-24-09.

To Austro-American Doctors:
 Dear Sirs: I want to let you know that I had been ailing for 15 years, off and on, and had been to doctors for relief, but attained not the slightest benefit. I suffered from nervousness and pain so much I could not work at my trade as blacksmith. I came to you on about the first of October, and after taking as your specific remedies and other treatment at the office, was able to be at my shop after the third day, and have ever since. I work at my trade all day and feel fine.

I want to thank you and let the public know of my recovery. Anyone can address me at North Riverside or call at my shop. Will tell them just how I suffered, and I can say my wonderful recovery was due to the Austro-American Doctors' treatment. Yours truly, G. A. KERN.

CHARLES TIFFEY,
 Sioux, Ia., Oct. 12, 1909.
 To the Austro-American Doctors:
 Gentlemen: I wish to thank you and also let the public know about your treatment. I have been a sufferer since April, 1908, from pains in my side, hip and back; suffered from rheumatism for four years. I have been in the hospital and also treated by local doctors, but with no benefit. I have never received from any of them the benefit that I have from you. I came to you two weeks ago and am steadily improving. When I came to you I could hardly walk or bear any weight on my body—today the soreness is almost gone. I am stronger and in a few days will go to work. To anyone suffering with similar ailments I am glad to tell or write what these doctors have done for me.
