

KANSAS FOE TO BE FEARED

Little Nebraska Money Risked on Outcome Saturday. WEEK'S PRACTICE SHOWS WELL

Jayhawkers' Line Weaker Than in Former Years, While Cornhuskers Have Strong Defense and Trick Plays.

LINCOLN, Nov. 4.—(Special).—With the day for the annual struggle with Kansas almost at hand there is growing up in Cornhusker circles a feeling that Nebraska is going to win from their most bitter rival the game that can put the local state school back into supremacy over the other schools of the Missouri valley.

Until this week, even up to Wednesday, nobody was willing to admit that "King" Cole's players had any chance against the strong Jayhawkers. The comparative showings of the two eleven in the first games on their respective sides indicated that Kansas was much superior to the Cornhuskers.

Among the local betting fraternity there was but little Nebraska money and what there was demanded odds of 5 to 1. There was plenty of Jayhawk cash, and for that matter there still is plenty here, but there is also a deal more of the Cornhusker coin.

The showing of the Cornhuskers in practice this week, however, and the knowledge that Cole has trained his players to win this game with Kansas has caused a change in the sentiment that is favoring Nebraska. There no longer is any talk to the effect that it is impossible for the Cornhuskers to defeat Coach Kennedy's players. It is seen now that there is a good possibility of Nebraska's winning.

Local rooters are placing their confidence in the Nebraska line. The forwards that really outplayed their opponents in the Minnesota game are banked upon to be more than the equals of the Jayhawkers. It is upon the line that all Cornhusker chances for victory depend.

It is admitted that the Kansas line is weaker than it was a year ago. It has lost two or three of its strongest forwards and it has shown up poorly in the other games of the autumn. On the other hand, the Nebraska line is fully as powerful as it was last season and is playing a much superior game to that put up by the Cornhusker forwards against Kansas last year.

Cole's Famous Defense. Cole has built up a defense which has proved its worth in the other games of the fall. It baffled Minnesota and Iowa. But the same strength that has given the Cornhuskers an impregnable defense has made it possible for Cole to mold a powerful offensive machine, which ought to get into action on Saturday.

The new game is not one replete with forward passes and outside kicks, as "King" Cole has indicated. There are few games in which those two plays are used very often. All coaches learned soon after the adoption of the new rules in 1906 that a strong, beefy line is just as requisite to a powerful team as it was under the old code.

Nebraska has one of those superior lines and we are depending upon it to win for us. Last week Minnesota played one of the open games, but that team used the forward pass and outside kick but few times. It was the heavy line that did the work. The new rules allow the backs to play farther from the line than before and it is keeping the line in active service with the attacking of the backfield men that makes a success under the new order of things.

DOANE IN GOOD CONDITION

Will Face Wesleyans in Prime Shape. CRISTE, Neb., Nov. 4.—(Special).—The Doane college team is all ready for the game with Wesleyan. Instead of their being a falling off in practice this week after the strenuous and exhausting work of last week, there has been encouragement on the part of the team and the team is in better shape than it was when it faced the university players.

The players are almost in perfect condition. Luke is back at his place at center. Hartwell is playing a fine end. Robert is laid aside this week, but Dutch is ready for his place and is a veteran at half. Enlow is improving and is as fast as a deer. The other backs, though not so good as those of the Wesleyan team, are doing exceptional work. D. Griffiths and Tubby are rivals for an end position, and while neither is showing himself to be a shrewd quarterback, and has the entire confidence of the team. Doane will not hold its own in this ball and will probably make the best score it can.

FIRST HARE AND HOUNDS RUN. Don Macrae of Council Bluffs First to Finish Contest.

The first of the "hare and hounds" runs staged by Physical Director Edson of the Young Men's Christian association of Council Bluffs took place Wednesday afternoon with over 100 boys from the Washington avenue, Bloomer and Pierce street schools participating. The run was over a three-mile course from the end of Lincoln avenue, and LeVitt and Sauer of Lincoln were the victors in the contest, beating the other runners by a three-minute start over the "hounds."
