

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

No Change in Wheat Situation, Barring the Sharp Rally.

LATTER DUE TO WEAK SHORTS

They Cover Enough to Advance Values Somewhat, but on the Whole the Market Has a Weak Tone.

OMAHA, Nov. 6, 1909.

There was practically no change in the wheat situation today, barring a sharp rally caused by weak shorts who covered enough to advance values somewhat, but on the whole the market has a weak tone. Corn while unchanged is showing signs of weakening and feels the effects of bearish sentiment pending the issuance of the government report next Monday. The wheat market was started to buying when all official receipts showed a sharp advance of 1/4c for the December option, which showed the most active movement, while the other months were unchanged.

Corn did not follow the advance with wheat and cash corn was only steady, feeling no being taken readily. The decline is slow, but sentiment continues bearish, and with favorable weather further losses are probable.

Primary wheat receipts were 1,167,000 bushels and shipments were 570,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,140,000 bushels and shipments of 770,000 bushels. Primary corn receipts were 34,000 bushels and shipments were 27,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 34,000 bushels and shipments of 27,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed 1/4c lower to 1/2c higher on wheat and unchanged on corn. Local range of options:
