AID FOR JEWISH IMMIGRANTS

Samuel Neveleff of New York is in Omaha for Conference.

TRAVELING FOR GREAT CAUSE

Comething Concerning the Central Organisation of Jewish Societies that Does Its Work at Ellis Island.

Samuel Neveleff of New York, represent ng the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Ald society, is in Omaha for a conference work. Last evening he met with the Omaha men interested in the office of L. Harris in the Branders building Mr. Neveleff is on a trip which will take him to the coast and then back through the south to New York, in fur thering the work of the society.

The society represented by Mr. Neveloff the one central authority for the Jewsh people, in immigration matters, before the government of the United States. Its vorkers have full charge at Ellis Island, he gateway to America for all Jewish mmigrants. At this first station of their experience in the new land the immigrants are met by sympathetic agents, who furaish them with all the information necessary to start right. They are posted on the customs of this country, instructed in the first executials of good citizenship, and are given advice as to possible employment, good places to locate and matters of that kind. For the carrying out of this practical ork, which is backed by the United Herew Charities and several other influential Jewish organizations, the board of directors of the society which employs Mr. Neveleff appeals for aid to all Jewish citizens throughout the country. Since the contralization of the work under one head and in the hands of one organization, it has been found possible to reduce expenses materially, and to accomplish much more satisfactory results. Specimen Months' Work. As a sample of the work done by this society, during July, last, 545 immigrants were assisted to their destination in dif-ferent parts of the country. Of this number eighty were placed directly in the care of the society by the immigration officers; for eighty-one others the addresses of relatives were found and their friends sent to them; advertising was done on behalf ready here; fifty-six were given financial assistance; twenty-five were provided with employment, and baggage was recovered 1 for eleven. The average time of sheltering immigrants is two days, and during the month mentioned, 1.349 meals were served. The society has an annual expense of about $50,000, and its revenues are provided 250 by dues of $5 to $10 from individual members, $25 to $100 from wealthy contributors,

The Man on One Pair of Shoes.

Charles A. King was a newspaper correspondent in the Russian-Japanese war. War correspondents have all the fun of battle with some of its risks.

One night around the camp fire-if they have camp fires any more—he made a bet that he could walk 56,000 miles in seven years, through every continent of the earth, making his living as he went, without begging, borrowing or stealing.

From that time-in May, 1905-he had "legged" it through many lands, China, Corea, Manchuria, Siberia, Russia, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, France, England and Canada.

In April, 1909, ahead of his schedule, he was bound east from Seattle, across the United States-walking on the roadbed of the Northern Pacific Railway Company. Near Miles City, Montana, he met another traveler, who,

also on a wager was walking west from St. Paul to Seattle, and the two compared notes and experiences as Peary and Cook might have done had they met at the North Pole. To their mutual surprise, they discovered that they were both wearing the Gotzian "Health and Walk Easy" Shoe. The west bound traveler had got his in St. Paul before starting, and King, his in Spokane, on the recommendation of a local dealer. When King reached St. Paul, on the 21st of June, 1909, with his feet and his shoes in good condition, he gave the shoes to C. Gotzian & Co., their maker, with an affidavit as to these facts, in token of his appreciation.

> He had worn them continuously in all weathers for 1,512 miles of the hardest journeyings, without a puncture.

But this is no unusual record for Health and Walk Easy
