VERDICT FREES MRS. GAINES

Coroner's Jury Declares Murderer Some Person Unknown.

DEAD MAN HAD KEY IN HAND

Must Have Been About to Enter Home When Four Shots Were Fired, Two of Them Being Fatal.

Mrs. Stella Gaines, her daughter and niece have been released from custody as a result of the coroner's verdict given yesterday afternoon...

MR. BRYAN DECLINES TO TALK

showdown. Until he speaks every prospective candidate, figuratively speaking, will be up the air.

Oregon Plan Boomerang.

Incidentally it is beginning to look as if Mr. Bryan's own pet Oregon plan of selecting senators in Nebraska is going to rise up like a ghost and help block his own way to the upper house of congress.

For instance, were it not for that law which he had passed, Mr. Bryan could keep out of the fight and then should the democrats control the legislature, with Hittcock at the helm, he would naturally be asked to take the office as a compromise candidate and without asking for it.

As the matter now stands and the information comes straight, from reliable sources, Mr. Bryans fears to run and hates to get out of the way.

It has been reported on several occasions that the law providing the Oregon plan of selecting senators is to be tested in the courts and that attorneys have already been consulted about it.

Some democratic leaders who have been in consultation with Mr. Bryan hope this report is true, so they say, and they are now of the opinion Mr. Bryan himself hopes that the law will be declared unconstitutional, and that is one reason why he has thus far refused to commit himself on his own candidacy or intentions.

Howard to Sound Tocsin.

Insofar as the Bryan-Howard-Dahlman conference yesterday is concerned, it had to do with platform and with Mr. Bryan's intentions. Mr. Bryan talked to Dahlman and Howard, not together, but in private.

Following this talk, Mrs. Gaines said there was no animosity between the two. Leading up to the date of the killing of Gaines the county attorney, who was conducting the inquest, asked Mrs. Gaines when, on Tuesday last, she had last seen her husband.

The witness replied at about 4 p. m. Gaines left the house at that time and at 9 o'clock she returned. She was awakened, she knew not at what time, by hearing shots and screams.

Upon going outside with her niece she saw a dark object lying a short distance from the steps leading to the porch. Then she returned to the house, the light which she carried having gone out. Upon her return to the porch several men came running from the direction of Decatur street and she called to them: "For heaven's sake, come here and see what this is."

"And what did you discover?" was the question put to Mrs. Gaines.

"I discovered my husband," she replied. Dr. Harris then testified as to the bullet found in the body, after which Lois Young, Mrs. Gaines' niece, was called to the stand.

The girl said she was awakened by a horrible sound. After that her testimony was substantially a corroboration of that given by Mrs. Gaines. A number of other witnesses were examined and the verdict rendered as above.

AMERICAN SYSTEM OF MONEY

tainly is not my purpose—to try to make any part of the American people believe that any of these systems could be adopted in the United States; certainly not without very important modifications. And I am not presenting to you tonight this matter with a view of convincing you or leading you to think for a moment that any of the members of the commission believe that any of these systems could be adopted by the United States.

An American System Needed.

"The habits of the one people, the relation which exist between banks and borrowers and banks and depositors, the 3,000 independent institutions in the United States, all related to the development of various communities, must be considered, and no system can be adopted in this country that does not recognize the fact that the continuous existence of these banks and the prosperity of their business must be maintained. Of course we have great difficulties to overcome, but we cannot overlook the conditions I have named, and it is no purpose of the commission or of any member of it to ignore it.

"If we have any credit organization at all we propose that it shall be an organization which shall be the servant and not the master of existing banks. I concede freely that any institution or organization which we may adopt must be one that can be fitted into the existing system, and any changes that are at all radical in their nature—and I am inclined to think that in some respects we shall have to make some changes that will be scientific and radical in their character—must be made with a view of adjusting them to our existing system.

President Taft Approves Plan for Making Pearl Harbor Principal Depot of Pacific.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The president has approved of the recommendation of the joint army and navy board for making Pearl harbor, in the Hawaiian islands, the great naval station in the Pacific. In doing this it was decided that a temporary naval station, which would be constructed at Oahu and that the proposed improvement in Manila harbor be abandoned. This will leave the protection of the Philippines to the army.

BOLTERS ARE UP IN ARMS

Reid Faction of Electrical Workers Demands Hearing at Toronto.

HIGH SCHOOLS FOR WORKERS

Special Committee of Federation Outlines Plan for Industrial Training at Public Expense in Separate Institutions.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 11.—Protests and appeals which have been made to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor from state and central bodies, whose charters have been revoked as a result of harboring seceding organizations of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' "Red" faction, have been referred to a special committee for action.

The committee, which was organized by the executive committee of the federation, is to be organized in Cleveland and the balance in Springfield, Ill., awaiting the outcome of the litigation instituted by the followers of J. J. Reid of Erie, Pa., who heads the secessionists.

The organizations which have been outlawed by the executive committee of the federation are said to be eager to have their grievances acted upon on the convention floor, and while those who are administering the affairs of the federation would prefer to have the controversy settled in committee, they are willing to meet the issue on the convention.

An open letter to the convention from the Reid faction of the Electrical Workers' union was circulated today stating that 23 local unions were supporting them, while 106 local unions are supporting the McQuincy faction, which is recognized by the federation.

Chairman Lennon of the committee on law announced the committee would hear arguments on the Electrical Workers' appeals this afternoon.

Industrial High School.

Organized labor's attitude on the question of industrial education was set forth in a report to the convention today by a special committee appointed by authority of the Denver convention to investigate the subject. The committee, of which John Mitchell is chairman, held three meetings during the year, in New York, Washington and Toronto.

"It is believed," says the report, "that the future welfare of America largely depends on the industrial training of our workers and protecting them. The inquiries of the committee seem to indicate that if the American workman is to maintain the high standard of efficiency, the boys and girls of the country must have an opportunity to acquire the hands and brains which shall be the servant and not the master of existing banks. I concede freely that any institution or organization which we may adopt must be one that can be fitted into the existing system, and any changes that are at all radical in their nature—and I am inclined to think that in some respects we shall have to make some changes that will be scientific and radical in their character—must be made with a view of adjusting them to our existing system.

"The course of instruction in such a school should be English, mathematics, physics, chemistry, elementary mechanics and drawing. Shop instruction for particular trades and for each trade represented, the drawing, mathematics, mechanics, physical and biological science applicable to the trade, the history of that trade, and a sound system of economics including and emphasizing the philosophy of collective bargaining. This will serve to prepare the pupil for more advanced

FINAL SURPLUS STOCK TO SELL QUICKLY

Palace Forces Out All of the Suits and Overcoats Left Over From an Eventful Day's Sale.

Last Saturday was gala day in the sales records of The Palace Clothing Company of Fourteenth and Douglas streets.

This ambitious firm attempted to sell out in one day the ENTIRE surplus stock of a New York clothing manufacturer—a mountain of suits, overcoats and cravattes aggregating exactly 1,556 garments.

And the major portion of these garments WAS sold—in one day—but at prices that WOULD naturally sell clothes.

But the "remainders" remain—the final odds and ends—the straggling lots that ALWAYS hang over after a special selling are re-offered to tomorrow's shoppers.

Come here and you will most likely find SOMETHING to please you in a suit or overcoat at $9.95—clothes that you will agree are worth to $18.

Come early enough and you are reasonably sure to find some VERY good "pick up" in $6.75 suits and overcoats that would look more proper with $12.50 tags attached.

There are no apologies offered for the clothes—they are prime, new, stylish, of nobby fabrics—but Palace admits that the lines are broken—just what one would EXPECT after a record day's business on a line of goods selling at 40 per cent LESS than what they are actually worth.

Take a chance—doubt a little if you wish—but DO see what the Palace offers—SEE if the clothes are as GOOD as claimed, for so little a price.

subjects and in addition, to disclose his capacity for a specific vocation. In order to keep such schools in close touch with the trades, there should be local advisory boards, including representatives of the industries, employers and organized labor.

Public to Pay Expense. The committee recommends that any technical education of the workers in trade and industry being a public necessity, it should not be a private but a public function, conducted by the public and the expense involved at public cost.

The continuance of progressive development of supplemental trade education as inaugurated by trades unions is also recommended. The committee advocates the continuance of its life and final report to the convention of 1930.

"The one trouble of America today," says the report, is that too many of our youths who have graduated from the grammar or high schools, is that they are misfits industrially. If we are to secure industrial supremacy, or even maintain our present standards in the industrial world we must in some way in our educational system acquire an equivalent to our old apprenticeship system."

Stands By Ousted Delegates. DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 11.—The Des Moines Trades and Labor Assembly at a special meeting last night drafted the statement which was sent to A. L. Urlick, one of the two Iowa delegates barred from deliberations of the American Federation of Labor at Toronto.

"The Trades and Labor Assembly reiterates its confidence and commends the delegates from Iowa for their stand for the cause of justice and right."

MERE CHILD ADMITS MURDER

Twelve-Year-Old Boy on Trial at Indianapolis, Ia., Tells Story of Crime.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 11.—The case of Harry Hutchinson, aged 12 years, who confessed on the witness stand at Indianapolis yesterday afternoon that he shot his stepfather, T. J. Caraher, near New Virginia last spring, will go to the jury late this afternoon. The boy declared that Caraher was about to assault him and that he shot in self-defense. He said that after he shot the man, he chopped him in the head with an axe to make sure of death. Then he hitched his horse to the body and dragged it to a building where it was found next day. The attorneys for the lad are basing their hope for acquittal on self-defense despite the confession to which the boy testified yesterday.
