Broken Bow Boy Bound Over for

Shooting During Hallowe'en. BROKEN BOW, Neb., Nov. 11 .- (Special.) -Roy Parker, charged with shooting 17year-old Ralph Bishop at a Hallowe'en celebration on the night of October 30, with intent to do great bodily injury, was brought into county court today before Judge Humphrey for preliminary hearing. Young Bishop was placed on the stand by County Attorney Gadd and testified that at the time of the shooting he was not assisting the hallowe'en party in its festivities, as the situation did not look promising. He said the shot came without warning while he was trying to widen the distance between himself and the house. After listening to two other witnesses the judge decided to hold Parker and bound him over to the district court in the sum of $1,600. The shooting is alleged to have been done from the grounds of Prof. Leon Cornett, who is a brother-in-law of Parker.

State Auditor Evolves System Monthly Reports from State Institutions to Make Business Open.

(From a Staff Correspo dent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 11 -(Special.)-Eimer E. Thomas and a contingent of Omaha people will come to Lincoln tomorrow afternoon and appear before Governor Shallenberger with a complaint against the mayor and police board of Omaha. Mr. Thomas notifled the governor this afternoon that the complaints against the board and the mayor would be mushed and the first gun would be fired tomorrow under the Sackett

When Frank Dinuzzo was first convicted in police court complaints were filed with the governor against the mayor and the board, but as the board took action following the conviction of Dinuszo in district court the complaints were not pushed and the governor took no action on them.

New Accounting System. State Auditor Barton has evolved a system of monthly and quarterly reports from state institutions which will disclose the minutest details of all property and financial transactions. The state accountant, John W. Tulleys, will receive these reports and they may be used by the State Board of Purchase and Supplies when contracts are awarded for supplies. These reports may occupy a great deal of the time of the state accountant and may require practically all of his time. The monthly report will show the amount of supplies on hand, the average price, value, the amount checked out and checked in, the amount of products of the farm and garden on hand, the amount produced, amount issued to the steward, amount and value sold, number of acres owned, leased or rented, acres of farms, number of persons employed during the month, amount of wages paid, number of acres in different crops, lawn and garden, amount and date and from whom cash is received, amount expanded from each fund during the month and balance remaining in each fund, daily average number of inmates for the month, average number of employes. amount of employes' wages, number of officers and amount of salaries.

The quarterly reports show the quantity and value of each article on hand at the last report, received and issued during the quarter and quantity and value remaining, articles of domestic manufacture, amount and value of raw material, number, manufactured and consumed, in the institution or sold articles condemned. lost, worn out, damaged or destroyed, kind, number of live stock at the last report, number and value of increase or pur chased number and value sold, slaughtered,

INVOKE AID OF SACKETT LAW Yield of Corn in Present Year Good Average

Average Yield Per Acre Reduced Because of Conditions in Southwest Section.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 11 .- (Special.)-The corn crop of Nebraska for the year 1909 is not nearly so bad as it might have been. The acreage this year was 6,477,282, against 6,339,019 in 1966; the average yield per acre was 28.17 bushels in 1906 and 25.7 this year. The yield this year was 169,179,137 bushels, against 178,599,789 last year.

The average yield per acre this year was reduced not because of a general reduction over the state, but merely in th southwest section, confined to a small area. In the North Platte country the yield per acre was the largest in the history of the state, surpassing the 1906 yield.

Sunkist Flour is different from ordinary flour

Sunkist is made from plump, sweet wheat. But not all the flour made from this wheat is Sunkist. Only the best part of the flour-the very cream-is packed in Sunkist sacks. The rest—the part that is poorer in nutritive elements—goes into jute sacks and is exported. That is why Sunkist Flour is so superior to most flours—why each sack makes four to six more loaves,—and better bread, too.
