DIFFER ON CURRENCY PLAN

Omaha Bankers Express Varying Opinions on Central Bank.

MILLARD FOR, YATES AGAINST IT

Head of Nebraska National Vigorously Opposed to Rhode Island Senator's Financial Situation—Luther Drake's Views.

Omaha bankers assume varying positions in relation to what may be assumed to be the suggestions of Senator Nelson W. Aldrich in his address at the Commercial club dinner. They join in an appreciation of his speech as a comprehensive dissertation on the banking system and financial problems involved, but are not hasty in avowing unqualified concurrence to any one solution.

Henry W. Yates, president of the Nebraska National, gathered the idea that Mr. Aldrich stands for the making of a great central bank as a government institution, and the Omaha banker is most positively opposed to this proposed solution of the problems before the masters of finance.

"The tenor of Mr. Aldrich's remarks was purely educational," said Mr. Yates, "and it is true that his endeavor seemed more in the direction of arousing interest in the questions involved than of proposing any distinct plan."

"Nevertheless the impression he conveyed, whether he intended to do so or not, was in favor of the creation of a great government institution, which should assume the management of the banking affairs of the country."

"The difficulty he presented, in keeping such a question out of politics, if such a great government banking institution was established, must have arisen in every thinking mind."

Yates Fears Political Trouble.

"The business men of this country are heartily desirous of keeping financial and banking questions out of politics. No one fears the ghost of General Jackson. He may have been right or he may have been wrong in the fight he made on the old United States bank, but what we really do fear is the recurrence of the same conditions which provoked that controversy. For this reason, if for no other, the idea of a government bank is to be deprecated. Some other method of relief should be sought for, to remove a weakness which we all admit exists in our banking system."

Mr. Aldrich distinctly asserted, however, that this government bank should be the servant, not the master, in these affairs. His appeal was entirely from a patriotic standpoint. There was really nothing in the address that could be criticized."

"In following Mr. Aldrich's suggestions the more I study them the more perplexed I become," said Luther Drake, president of the Merchants National bank. "It is true that Europe seems to get along better than we do here and is generally more free from financial tangle than we. But then I don't know that the same results would follow from the adoption of their system here. Different conditions there might preclude the success of the same system here."

"I don't want to go down as being for or against a central bank. I think that Mr. Aldrich made a strong interesting talk. He has most positively stated that he is not committed to any plan."

Millard Likes Aldrich's Ideas.

J. H. Millard, president of the Omaha National bank, is well pleased with the ideas that Mr. Aldrich advanced.

"Senator Aldrich created a very favorable impression," said Mr. Millard. "Many who came to the dinner found themselves satisfied and pleased with his attitude."

"I am convinced of the sincerity of Mr. Aldrich's declaration that he is committed to no plan. He is here but to interest the business people in the question to be solved. He has said that his mind was open. He repeated that statement to me on his way to the station this morning."

Senator Aldrich and his party left for Des Moines over the Rock Island Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. J. H. Millard and Luther Drake saw the party off.

Dahlman Silent on Visit to Bryan

Omaha Mayor Believes Campaign of Next Year is Likely to Be Interesting.

Mayor Dahlman, on his return from Lincoln Wednesday morning, said there was nothing to be heard of his interview with William J. Bryan.

"Mr. Bryan is about to start on a trip that will keep him away from home for four or five months," said the mayor, "and naturally I wanted to have a chat with him before he goes. What we talked of was of no particular interest to the public."

Asked if next year's political fight was the subject of conversation, Mr. Dahlman smilingly countered with the question.

"Who can tell at this time what will eventuate in Nebraska next year? Answering his own question, he continued: "We'll have to wait and see, although I apprehend that we will have a most interesting campaign, with both parties guessing some."

TRIO GOES TO DISTRICT COURT

Police Judge Binds Over Pearl Potter, Lawrence Hill and Charles Hittle.

Three prisoners, charged with serious offenses, were held for trial in the district court by Police Judge Bryce Crawford at their preliminary examination.

Pearl Potter, a colored woman, charged with cutting Deputy Sheriff James Chisek, was held under bonds of $500; Lawrence Hill, charged with receiving stolen property, was held in the same amount, while Charles Hittle, charged with robbery, who waived examination, was held in the sum of $1,000.

Hittle is accused by his sweetheart, Lena Chambers, of the theft of a gold watch and chain, while Hittle claims the woman gave him them to pawn. Hill purchased about 100 pounds of brass fitting from hors, which, it is charged, was stolen.

Frank Kosha and Dimitri Antipirick, charged with holding up and robbing William Smith, a week ago, were discharged.

Mrs. Louise Hill, 48 Outten St., Danville, Ill., writes, October 1: "Foley's Kidney Pills started me on the road to health. I was treated by four doctors and took other kidney remedies, but grew worse, and was unable to do my housework, and the doctor told me I only could live from two to six months. I am now so much better that I do all of my own work, and I shall be very glad to tell anyone afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble the good results I received from taking Foley's Kidney Pills." ALL TRAINMEN ASK RAISE

GENERAL DEMAND UP TO CHIEFS

Admitting They Are Face to Face with Glaciated Wage Problem, Officials Confident They Will Avert Trouble.

Demands for uniform schedules and increased wages, filed in Chicago by firemen in all roads running west, has extended to Omaha and affects all railway employes on freight and passenger trains running out of the city.

West of Chicago firemen only are involved in the present demands, but east of the city conductors and engineers have joined forces. Approximately 100,000 men are on the pay rolls of the various roads.

Although admitting they are face to face with a wage problem that may reach enormous proportions, local railway officials are confident differences will be satisfactorily settled by arbitration. The possibility of a strike, hinted at in Chicago, is given little regard in Omaha.

No formal notice or demand from the firemen has been received at the general offices of the Union Pacific railroad or the Burlington route in Omaha. The trainmen have asked, but a meeting of railway managers be held to consider the demands of the men. William L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, will go to Chicago as a representative of his company.

Mr. Newhouse was driven around Omaha by Fred Hamilton, cashier of the Merchants National bank, and expressed himself as surprised at the wonderfully spid growth which Omaha is showing.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. The party is touring the country under the auspices of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast.

GYPSY KING WEEPETH TEARS

King Marcus Castillano, leader of the gypsies camped at Florence, is wearing a crown of grief. An infection of alarm, spread over the camp a few Wednesday and two bands of the gypsies started to depart. The threats of a hostile camp in the south and the expected appearance here of a fighting delegate from that camp put the gypsies in a panic.

Had the camp been broken up, the ceremonies attending the marriage which is to be the central event of the festivities would have been threatened with failure.

The king called on Aaron Marx, marshal at Florence, and, by sheer force, held his followers together.
