

BRYAN AND JIM ARE APART

Form Offensive and Defensive Agreement for Next Year.

NO LOCAL OPTION FOR JAMES

He Will Fight for So-Called Home Rule, While Shallenberger Plays Both Ends to the Middle.

Since it has come out at Lincoln that Mr. Bryan is not to be allowed to have all his own way in the making of the next democratic platform, it has leaked out in Omaha that Mayor Dahiman and the peerless one reached an offensive and defensive agreement during their conference last week.

"Dahiman told Bryan just what he intends to do in his next year's campaign for the governorship," says a man whose affiliations with the mayor are very close. He is an operator on the South Omaha exchange and will be behind the mayor with substantial as well as moral influence.

"Jim won't stand for a local option plank," continued his friend, "and he won't stand for an endorsement of a 'clock closing' law in the platform. If we can beat it, it's a home rule for every community will be the meat of the Dahiman contention, and if a declaration along that line can be secured, Mr. Bryan will not quarrel with it. That involves the amendment of the state laws to permit every city, above a certain population, to make its own charter, through a charter commission that will be a continuing body. With such a law, properly framed, we believe that regulation of saloons and similar matters can be arranged in a much better fashion than at present."

Remains to be seen.

"But can you get the 8 o'clock closing law repealed?"

"That remains to be seen. Shallenberger will take that end of the fight. If he beat him and elect a legislature of the right men we can fix it so that towns which want the daylight saloon can have it, but they will not have the power to impose it on other towns. Dahiman's friends are canvassing the state sentiment pretty thoroughly, and when the fight opens we will know just where we stand."

The same man asserts with dogmatic certainty that Shallenberger will later be forced into the field for United States senator and will abandon the gubernatorial field.

"Then what about the 8 o'clock closing law?" he was asked.

"That won't bother the governor. You noticed what he said last fall to the liberal element and what he did when the bill got to him. You also probably noticed what he did when Berryman went down with a Chicago shirtmaker and you have read the statements of Omaha business men as to what the governor promised them teaching that kind of a contract."

"Well, Shallenberger is a politician if there ever was one and he has less scruple to overcome, if he can win, than even Bryan, himself. Dahiman fights in the open and relies on the people to back him; Shallenberger plays diplomacy, policy or whatever you may care to call it. He will be there with the same play next year, you can bet on that."

The successful medicine are those that aid nature. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan.

National Grain Inspection Basis

Plan on Which Exchanges of the Country Unite at Meeting in Chicago.

Grain exchanges of the country have organized under the name of the Council of North American Grain Exchanges. Temporary officers were elected at the meeting held in Chicago Tuesday and they will serve until the annual election in February. Twenty of the leading exchanges of the country, including Omaha, were represented.

One of the most important matters before the meeting was the beginning of a movement looking to uniform grain inspection. This is an effort to have all exchanges working on the same basis as to future contracts for the benefit of all persons in the grain business.

In Omaha grain is inspected by the Omaha Grain exchange and in Illinois they have state inspection. Some want federal control of inspection. An effort is to be made to grade all grain alike under a standard set by the federal government and to have one set of rules for all exchanges.

European Professor's Discovery

One of our learned professors in this city has proven beyond a doubt that Asthma can be cured in a short time. He has discovered a combination of drugs that thoroughly eradicates the germs from the system and permanently cures this dreaded disease. Mr. C. E. Williams of 108 Fulton street, New York, is authorized to send this wonderful prescription to any one free of charge on application.—(Adv.)

UNION PACIFIC ENGINEERS DO NOTHING ON WAGES

Committee Adjourns After Thirty-Seven Days, Saying Relations Are Amicable.

After a session of thirty-seven consecutive days the general committee of administration of the Union Pacific branch of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has completed its deliberations. The committee of twelve adjourned this afternoon at the Millard hotel Wednesday, naming October, 1911, as the next time of meeting.

These officers for the succeeding two years were chosen: General chairman, A. L. Konold of Laramie, Wyo.; vice chairman, H. B. Maxwell of Beatrice; secretary and treasurer, C. F. Tracy of North Platte.

"Relations between the employees and the employees of the Union Pacific railroad are amicable and satisfactory," said a member of the committee. "We have considered a number of minor claims for adjustments of schedules and wages of employees, but we have made no formal demand for increased wages of any kind. Nothing has been done or will be done by our committee in the movement instigated by the railway strikers for higher wages. If any stand is taken by the brotherhood it will be under the direction of our national officers. We are for a referendum vote in anything of this kind. Our next annual convention is slated for Detroit next May. Action of some kind may be taken at that meeting."

CATTLE INDUSTRY GOOD. SAYS GORDON RANCMAN

Demand for Beef Increasing and Prices Soar as the World Grows Older.

"Cattle raising as an industry increases in importance as the country grows older," said Frank Currie, ranchman and philosopher, of Gordon. "As the country grows older the market is more steady, for the demand increases and meat prices are higher. This is noticeable by a comparison with the prices in the old world. There cows will bring $75 and over which may be had in this country for $30."

"The range country is not growing larger and we must produce more on the territory we have in the west. The time will soon come when farmers cannot afford to fatten cattle on corn and all corn land will be worth $200 an acre within twenty years. Some people think the price of corn land is high today, but it is not. When you consider the value of the products the land will produce it is not really so high now as when it was selling for $20 an acre and corn was bringing but 15 cents a bushel. I look for May corn to be worth 75 cents and the farmers seem to think that way, judging from the way they are holding onto their grain. "Grass cattle have sold as high as 7 cents this year and cows that some years ago would have sold from $20 to $25 have brought as high as $40.15 on an average."
