Iowan Victim of Tremors—Passengers at the Union station Wednesday morning were given somewhat of a fright and plenty of excitement, when John Vincent, who lives somewhere in Iowa, suffered a bad attack of tremors. With eyes staring from their sockets, Vincent began yelling and screaming at the top of his voice and it required the combined efforts of two officers to hold him until the police wagon could be summoned. Vincent, who is about 30 years of age, and apparently in moderate circumstances, was locked up.

Three Iowa and Missouri Creditors Start Proceedings in Federal District Court.
A petition was filed in the United States district court by certain creditors of Elmer J. Kiddie, doing business under the firm name of the Kiddie Grain company, asking that he be declared a bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are E. M. Cassidy Co. of Whiting, Ia., with claim of $90.85; Wright & McWhinney of Bagley, Ia., $34.25; and the Croysdale Grain company of Kansas City, Mo., $128.85.
The petition alleges that the Kiddie Grain company, while insolvent, committed acts of bankruptcy by mortgaging to the Conservative Savings and Loan association for $2,000 certain lots in Garvin's addition to the city of Omaha, on September 4, and that E. J. Kiddie executed a warranty deed to Nellie Rubin on October 2, for lot 3 in Garvin's subdivision of tax lot 36, and that the conveyance and transfer of the said property was with the intent to hinder, delay and defraud his creditors, also that on November 1 he executed a bill of sale for his office furniture, located in rooms 787-88-89, in the Brandeis building, to J. E. Youkers for $15, thus preferring him to other creditors. Smith, Smith & Shall are attorneys for the petitioning creditors.

ROCK ISLAND TO PENSION EMPLOYEES AFTER JUNE 1
Order Affecting All Employees Outlined in Circular from Office of President Winchell.
Over its entire system the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway has adopted a pension system for its employes which affects every one in the service, from the man behind roll-top desks in the general offices to the brakemen riding atop a freight car. A circular letter from E. S. Moore, assistant to President Winchell, has been received in the Omaha offices, in which the proposition of the railroad directors is stated.
Those who have attained or will attain the age of 70 years by June 30, 1910, are eligible and those who have been employed continuously for twenty-five years and are permanently incapacitated. Leave of absence, suspension, dismissal followed by reinstatement, within the year will not be considered a break in continuity of service.
A similar plan will go into effect on the New York Central lines the first of the year, and other roads are said to be considering the step made by the Rock Island.

COLD CAUSES TRAIN DELAYS

Storms and Falling Temperature General in the West.
RUMORED H. S. CABLE WILL QUIT
Great Northern Show Car, Carrying Exhibits for Omaha Exposition, is Making Quick Tour of Nebraska.

With the sudden cold spell and storms throughout the middle west comes a deluge of reports from the railway offices of delayed trains and missed connections in Omaha and the west. Railroad officials look upon the first cold weather of the fall only as a warning and preparation is then made by all railroad employes to guard against delays.
Most of the reports of trainmen sent into the Union Pacific and Burlington offices give insignificant reasons for delays. Steam pipes that have been idle during the summer have become defective or are leaky joints in the connections between cars. These are mere details, but trainmen seem never to discover the trouble or seek a remedy until cold weather really sets in.

Several trains were late at the Union and Burlington stations during the day and train schedules are demoralized. West of Omaha considerable trouble is reported owing to storm and the cold weather. The Burlington fast mail from Chicago, however, rolled into the station this morning on time, adhering to its fine record of over 100 days with the train late but three times.

Cable May Drop Out.
There is a rumor in local railroad circles that H. S. Cable, general superintendent of the Rock Island lines, in the central district, is to sever his connection with the company. His resignation will come, it is said, as an aftermath of the death of his father, R. R. Cable, at Davenport, last Friday.
H. S. Cable is a well known figure in Omaha railroad circles, owing to his close connection with affairs on the lines in the central district. His father is rated as one of the wealthiest men in Iowa and it is said that his son will devote his efforts to his father's interests and the administration of the vast estate.

Great Northern Show Car.
One of the exhibit cars sent out by the Great Northern railroad, containing products of the Milk River valley of Montana, is now in Nebraska and will be whisked about the state for short stops before going on exhibition at the corn show. The first stop made is at Lincoln. The second car is now being equipped with exhibits which will come direct to the corn show.

Both coaches are model exhibit cars and are in charge of demonstrators. The Hill lines have gone to considerable expense in building the cars and in collecting exhibits from the states of the great northwest. They are built along the lines of a passenger car and are specially arranged for show purposes.

Special Cars Go Through.
Two special cars passed through Omaha during Wednesday, one containing a detachment of soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, bound for Fort Randall, Cheyenne. They came in over the Washburn and were transferred to the Union Pacific.
The private car "Kemble" arrived over the Milwaukee road from Chicago carrying a party of mining men, headed by L. B. Newby, for points in California. On the return trip they will pass through Omaha November 24.

Mailboxes Notes and Personal.
Edson Rich, general attorney for the Union Pacific railroad, has gone to Chicago on a case before the Interstate Commerce commission.
John Scott, county commissioner-elect, has gone on an eastern trip, including a stop at Boston.
C. T. Ransom, civil engineer for the Chicago & Northwestern railway, has gone to Chicago on business.

ROB THEIR BENEFACTOR
Two Cents and a Watch Stolen from J. J. Henning by Two Men He Benefited.
Two weary sons of rest showed their appreciation for the assistance proffered them by robbing the good samaritan, J. J. Henning of South Omaha of his watch, and a two-cent coin at the Astor hotel Tuesday afternoon.
The three men met and while walking around the streets in the cold the two strangers pleaded fatigue. As a result Henning took them to the Astor hotel and rented a room with two beds. Henning went to sleep in one of them while his two friends went to sleep in the other. However, they did not sleep well and woke up. They found that Henning was sleeping and took his gold watch and two cents. Richard Eves has been arrested as one of the men and the police are looking for the other.

D. V. Barkalow, senior member of the news company of Barkalow Bros., doing business in Omaha, Denver and other cities, is dead in Denver, of heart failure, according to a telegram received by a brother, S. D. Barkalow of this city, who lived for the Colorado city. The deceased left in Omaha some twenty years ago and was quite well known here. Ward and Vokes Carry the Hod

Comedians Start William Morris Theater, Lucy Daily Carrying First Brick.

Lucy Daily, (Mrs. Hap Ward), laid the first brick for the new William Morris theater Wednesday noon, at the northeast corner of the building lot at Eighteenth and Douglas streets. Her husband, Harry Vokes, and other members of the company watched and assisted with advice.

It fell to the lot of Hap Ward and Harry Vokes to carry hods and trundle wheel barrows of bricks along the narrow pathway of plank leading from the street to the excavation. Their path was not flower-strewn, but they had an easier task than the ordinary workman, for a roll of paper had been brought out and unrolled to keep Nebraska mud from the patent leather shoes so dear to the theatrical profession. Ward and Vokes, and a number of chorus girls, conveyed the hods and barrows with some skill and wishing to beat anyone else to the remark, Hap Ward himself declared: "It isn't the first time some of us have carried the hod."

The chorus girls, who also negotiated the plank walk, squealed with that ecstasy peculiar to femininity when their balance is uncertain, but Lucy Daily tripped across as lightly as though she were dancing on a complete stage and that is quite likely. The building company was represented by Emil Brandeis and W. M. Burgess of Woodward & Burgess, was present as was Charles Breed of the Krug. A number of mere spectators also gathered, these representing the Merry Villagers.

Author to War on Socialism
Meredith Nicholson Declares He Will Devote Writings to Stemming Its Tide.

Meredith Nicholson, author of "The House of a Thousand Candles," is in Omaha visiting relatives. His wife, formerly Miss Eugenia Koutze, was a daughter of the late Herman Koutze.
Mr. Nicholson makes the statement that he is no longer a writer of romances, but has entered the field of politics. He has pronounced himself the foe of socialism. His fears socialism is making progress and will attempt to stem the tide by his writings. His new book, "The Lords of High Decision," which will be introduced to the public soon, is one of his steps along the line of politics.

PRESBYTERY ACTS UPON PASTORAL RELATIONS
Call of Dundee Church for Rev. G. E. Fisher Accepted—Committee Vacancies Filled.

At an adjourned meeting of the Omaha Presbytery Tuesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, with Rev. Charles Heron presiding as moderator in the absence of Moderator Rev. Nathaniel M. McGiffin, the dissolution of the pastoral relation of Rev. B. J. Brethower with the churches of Marietta and Colon was announced and approved, as was the dissolution of the pastoral relation of Rev. Norman P. Olney with the Walthill church.

The call from Dundee church to Rev. Grant E. Fisher, D. D., was accepted. The joint call from Papillion, LaPlante and Lincoln churches to Licentiate Charles E. Baskerville was accepted. Rev. S. M. McGiffin was chosen to succeed Rev. Robert D. Wheeler as a member of the Home Mission committee. Dr. Wheeler resigned because of the press of his pastoral interests.

The matter of taking action upon the recommendation of the general assembly relative to the method of electing delegates and a resolution then adopted upon the motion of Rev. E. H. Jenks until the spring meeting of the presbytery, and will be made the special order for that meeting.

A committee consisting of Rev. R. D. Wheeler, Rev. Julius F. Swartz and Layman E. H. Westerfield was appointed to increase Omaha's parks and boulevards and to make them more beautiful. The Park board has but $50,000 a year to spend in this way and some plan is to be devised to increase the revenue.

R. C. Peters read a paper on suggestions for parks and boulevards and told of the lessons Omaha might gain from Kansas City. He suggested macadam as the best pavement for residence districts and suggested that Omaha should buy up the lowlands of the city now and start to convert them into parks.

Henry B. Payne advocated the policy of taxing the cost of boulevards to abutting property and advocated the parking of several spots in Omaha which are now practically owned by the city, because of the tax liens against them.

H. A. Tukey scored some of the real estate men for setting too high a price on their property whenever they thought the city wanted it for park or boulevard purposes.

The Real Estate exchange of Kansas City was invited to pay a return visit to Omaha and to come during the National Corn exposition.

NO CAR SHORTAGE IS LIKELY
All Danger Passed, Say Railroad Officials, in Spite of Heavy Traffic Demands.

Danger of a car shortage, imminent a few weeks ago, has entirely passed, according to railroad officials. Nearly all the roads centering in Omaha have adopted means to allay the apprehension which shippers felt with respect to the situation.

Despite the fact that the Chicago & Northwestern railroad handled 150,000 more cars during the month of October than during the corresponding month last year, this line has not experienced any car shortage during the heavy fall demand.

HAROLD AND WILLIAMS HELD
Men Charged with Forgery and Highway Robbery Bound Over for Trial.
Judge Crawford in police court has held George Harold and Spencer Williams for the district court, Harold for forgery, in the sum of $500 bail, and Williams, who is colored, for robbery, in the sum of $1,000. Harold is accused of forging a check in the sum of $22.50 on I. C. Gallup, a South Omaha live stock auctioneer. He waived examination. Williams is charged with having held up a man named Ogan in an alley on Sixteenth street on September 15 last. William Franklin, who pleaded guilty to the same charge in district court, implicated Williams, saying Williams had held Ogan, while he (Franklin) took his valuables. Franklin testified to this in police court, to all of which Williams entered a vigorous denial. Williams was represented by Attorney Kilkenny.
