BOARD LIKES NEW SCHOOL

Wayne Proposition Pleases Members After Inspection.

AS TO NEW NORMAL SCHOOL

Alliance Only City to Comply With Letter of Law—Others Will Be Given Chance—Railroad Earnings.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Members of the State Normal Board have returned after their inspection of the Wayne State Normal school, and while no meeting was held and the question of buying it has not been gone into the board was very favorably impressed with the school buildings and campus and their condition. The old building needs some repair, but the new administration building, Dr. Ludden said, is in first class condition, as is the heating plant and the cooling plant.

No one present of the local committee knew how many students there were in the new normal school, but it was estimated that the number of students would be about 100. A matter of fact Alliance is the only city in the state that has complied with the letter of the law in the matter of filing a proposition for the school, but the board likely will stretch the law to the limit in order to give all the towns in the west end of the state a chance to get in on the bidding, as the suit in court naturally confused many of the towns. Representative Harrington of the Wayne county met the board as it returned from Wayne, and put in a big talk for Ainsworth. He is anxious for the school to be located there. But until the board hears from the attorney general it is likely will take no steps to locate the school.

The Rock Island railroad has done a very healthy business in Nebraska during the year ending June 30, 1909, compared with the previous year. From station reports on file with the State Railway commission it is shown that the earnings of the road for the two years is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Earnings. 1908: $1,300,000; 1909: $1,500,000.

The ticket sales were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Sales. 1908: $1,200,000; 1909: $1,400,000.

Unless a big number of corporations get behind and need in their occupation tax, together with the penalty for not paying up before, they will be read out of existence after 4 o'clock on the afternoon of November 20. The records of Walker Smith, corporation clerk, show that between 150 and 200 corporations have not complied with the law. Unless they do so by the date named above their franchises will be forfeited and they will not be permitted to do business in Nebraska. It will then be necessary for them to file their articles of incorporation anew and pay the regular filing fee. Some of the biggest corporations in the state have not complied with the law.

Copies of the statutes will not be sent to members of the late legislature unless they are ordered. This change in the usual program by the secretary of state is due to the fact that the number of copies of the statutes, libraries of other states and members of the legislature. Members who do not want the statutes are requested by the secretary not to ask for them.

The building is furnished at an expense of the $2,000 by the volunteer firemen of Seward, who had worked and saved money for years to do this. F. G. Simmons of this city gave an eloquent dedicatory address. The sixty firemen served punch, cigars, etc., and an eight-piece orchestra played. J. Cleland, who with Gustavus Hubson of Seward organized the first Volunteer State Firemen association of Nebraska spoke.

SEWARD, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—As a result of the narrow margin between Charles E. Morefield, republican, and William Grots, democratic candidate for county treasurer at the last election, the democratic county central committee called to meet here yesterday with other democrats to talk of a possible recount of votes. The unofficial returns gave Mr. Morefield a majority of twenty-one, but the official canvass shows a majority of fifteen. To recount the ballots the proceedings must be started in the county court, and the ballots would have to be recounted in the presence of the county judge, who would decide how each ballot should be counted. This would be just as likely to increase Mr. Morefield's majority as to wipe it out. The democratic county central committee decided to permit Mr. Grots, the democratic defeated candidate, to decide whether a recount would be asked for.

Tecumseh Youths Placed in Charge of Probation Officers.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—In a short session of the district court here Judge J. B. Raper disposed of the four cases of burglary against the four Tecumseh boys, Earl Williams, Arthur Stephens, Elmer Beatty and Jesse Nance. The ages of the boys range from 11 to 17 years and they admitted to the court that they had broken into Tecumseh stores and stolen merchandise. Friends of the boys and their families made appeals for leniency and it was the desire of the court to give them another chance. Accordingly, he placed each of them in charge of County Probation Officer P. C. Johnson of this city. Williams and Stephens were allowed to return home and have agreed to go to school. Beatty was sent to the farm of Jesse Dible in Spring Creek precinct to work and Nance was sent to the farm of an uncle, Heuber Nance, and will be put to work. In case of bad conduct on the part of any one of them he will be brought back into court and disposed of in a different manner.

Ex-Mayor Brown of Lincoln May Rival Dahlman

Friends of Shallenberger Urging Him to Be Candidate for Senator in Bryan's Place.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Some of these bright, beautiful morning Mayor Dahlman is going to wake up and find a competitor in his race for the democratic nomination for governor in the person of former Mayor F. W. Brown of Lincoln. At least that's the way it looks to those who have been watching the antics of the former executive of the capital city.

And about the same time Judge Edgar Howard is going to wake up and find his pet senatorial candidate, W. H. Thompson, has competition in Governor Ashton C. Shallenberger.

Mayor Brown will not come out for governor unless the governor announces for senator, and that is what friends of the former mayor are trying to get Governor Shallenberger to do.

Governor Shallenberger has been told by some of the biggest democrats in Nebraska that he should run for the senate, regardless of Mr. Bryan's statement with a string-to-it that he will not be a candidate. Friends of both the governor and Mayor Brown are of the opinion that if the name of Bryan is filed as a candidate at the last minute he will be forced to decline to run or he will be defeated for the nomination.

It has been urged upon Governor Shallenberger that he should at once announce his candidacy for the senate, prefacing the announcement with the statement that he would prefer to support Mr. Bryan, but that the latter must be taken at his word and left out of the race. Should the governor do this his friends insist Mr. Bryan could not, with very good grace, ever permit his friends to run him for the place.

As an argument to get the governor into the senatorial race it has been put up to him that if he is defeated for governor it will forever and him as a senatorial possibility, so if he desires to take a shot at it now is the accepted time.

That Mayor Brown could easily be persuaded to get into the race for governor there is no doubt and that he and the governor have discussed the possibilities repeatedly there is every evidence to believe. There is no more frequent visitor to the office of the governor than the former mayor. In fact, he calls almost daily and he and the governor spend much time in consultation. So if the governor announces for senator the mayor will announce for governor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The supreme court adjourned today without taking any action on the motion of I. J. Dunn to vacate the order recently made disbarring him indefinitely.

HARTIGAN ROASTS COMPANY

Adjutant General Severely Criticizes Kearney Militia.

KEARNEY, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Adjutant General Hartigan was in the city Wednesday and Thursday for the purpose of straightening out matters connected with Company A, First regiment, Nebraska National guard. For some time past there has been some pending action connected with this company and the general has had his eyes on it in a rather suspicious manner. Today he stated to a correspondent that the affairs of the company had been handled during the last six months in a poor manner and that the conditions were "rotten". Five thousand dollars' worth of equipment belonging to the state had been abused and neglected until there will be a $2,000 loss suffered. The discipline of the men has disappeared entirely and the company will be mustered out of service unless the business men of the city take immediate action.

Company A has not been living up to its traditions for some time. At one time this company was one of the star companies of the regiment. General Hartigan attributes some of the fault on the late captain of the company, who has held a commission while absent from the state for six and eight months at a time. He also states that the majority of the members were not acceptable should a new company be organized.

WIFE CHARGES DESERTION

Files Complaint Against Husband After Dismissal of Divorce.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—As a sequence of the dismissal of the Manley divorce case in the Johnson county district court, Mrs. Sarah L. Manley, defendant in the case in the higher court, came into the county court and swore out a warrant charging her husband, James J. Manley, the plaintiff in the district court case, with wife desertion.

The Manleys have been living south of Sterling for many years. A second woman, it would indicate from the evidence in the divorce proceedings, entered into the case, and this woman was a relative of Mrs. Manley. Later this woman left this section, was nominated by A. A. Warren, president, and afterwards divorced and finally landed in Kansas City. Likewise, Mrs. Manley was accused by his spouse of having left, and it was claimed he went to live in Kansas City. The court set an hour for the trial of the desertion case, but in the meantime the parties to the suit had made an agreement to again live together and the proceedings were dismissed.

The county judge bound Jesse T. Nance, an 11-year-old Tecumseh boy, over to the district court on the charge of burglary, and later the higher court decided to give the boy another trial on his conduct, and he was sent to the farm of an uncle with instructions to go to work and behave himself. This he promised to do.
