

PRACTICE TO STOP FUMBLES

Cornhuskers Recognize This Weakness May Cost Game.

THREE NEW TRICK PLAYS USED

King Cole Thinks He Will Surprise on Two for Johnny Bender's Redskins Thursday.

LINCOLN, Neb., (Special.)—Despite a sloppy field, a result of a light snowfall last night, the Cornhuskers began work this afternoon in preparation for the game with Bender's Haskell Indians on Thanksgiving day.

The newly fumbling of the Denver game, which nearly lost the Cornhusker a victory, has led Cole to call for considerable practice in holding the ball. In kicking today the players caught the ball well and kept it from rolling away.

The snow on the field at the state farm made the ball slippery and elusive, so that it was a difficult thing for the Cornhuskers to hold it. Yet, with this handicap, they managed to do very well, and will have had some experience for the Haskell game in holding a wet ball in case that contest is played on a muddy field.

Three new plays were given to the team by "King" Cole this afternoon. These are tricks that are adapted for offensive work against a defense such as the Haskell put up, and they are calculated to do very effective work.

Nebraska is expecting considerable trouble in outplaying the Haskell line. Johnny Bender has been sending out reports to the effect that his forwards are very light and that they were outwrestled several pounds by the Cornhuskers. "King" Cole learned at Denver from Deacon Koehler, however, that the Indians have a heavy line, one nearly the match of Nebraska's in weight.

Building Up Defense.

This knowledge has resulted in putting Cole on his guard and he is building up a defense that the Indians will find too much for their weight. The Cornhusker forwards have not met their match this fall, and it is not likely that the Indians will be able to outplay them.

Reports were sent out from Denver during the game Saturday, telling that the Denver backs were smashing through the Cornhusker line for large gains. The best gains they made through the Cornhusker line were for only three yards. They made their touchdown directly as a result of end runs.

Since Nebraska's defeat of Denver the coming game with the Haskell has come to be regarded as ranking next to the Missouri-Kansas game in Missouri valley importance, and a great deal of interest is being manifested in it. The Haskell, by beating Denver a week before the Cornhuskers did, are entitled to a high place in the football of this section and are ranked as the equals of the Kansas players by many critics.

If the Cornhuskers can get the Thanksgiving day game away from the Indians the Nebraska season of 1909 will be gloriously ended, although it was very poorly begun. Two big victories in the final games of the fall will put Nebraska, the team that held Minnesota better than either Wisconsin or Chicago, in a position of high rank for this season.

By winning from Denver, Nebraska showed that Colorado and Rocky mountain football is inferior to that played in the Missouri valley, and took away the championship of several states from a team that had held it for two seasons.

By winning from Denver, Nebraska showed that Colorado and Rocky mountain football is inferior to that played in the Missouri valley, and took away the championship of several states from a team that had held it for two seasons.

Frank's sensational work in the Denver game has encouraged the coaches and members of the team to look for him to do some excellent running with the ball in the Thanksgiving day engagement. He has come to the point where he understands the game very well, and he knows how to dodge. In his sensational run at Denver he drove straight through the Ministers' line and cut around the players with so much speed that he had the opponents bewildered. By Thursday he should be in form to repeat that performance with several additional plays of a like order.

TOPEKA HERE ON THURSDAY

Omaha High Team to Tackle the Kansas Thanksgiving Day.

Omaha High school has made arrangements to play the Topeka (Kan.) High school at Woodbine park on Thanksgiving day. A mighty effort is being made to break all high school attendance records at this game and since it is the only football game to be played in Omaha on Thanksgiving, high thinkers think it can do it. Omaha is sure to be in full force. The High School Cadet band will furnish music.

Topeka has an excellent football team this year and since it stands a show to defeat the Omaha boys, who seem to always stand among the first of Missouri valley high schools in defeat, Omaha High school by a score of 15 to 0, and the heavy Washburn academy, 5 to 0.

The game will be played at Woodbine park on Thanksgiving day. The same lineup that won from St. Joseph last Saturday, with possibly Andrus in at right tackle, will be back in the game. Howard will be shifted to right end.

COLLEGE HONORS UNSETTLED

Doane's Tie with Bellevue Leaves Championship Open.

CRETE, Neb., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The game of foot ball Saturday between Doane and Bellevue leaves the championship question in doubt for the honors must be divided between Bellevue and Hastings. Wesleyan need not be included, as it has declined to play Hastings and it may win, which would then leave Bellevue and Doane the only contestants. Should the case it would seem desirable that there should be another contest between Bellevue and Doane, possibly on neutral ground.

Doane has finished its contest with Nebraska closed for the season of 1909 unless the tie be played off. It has a record of three victories, two ties, one game lost and one draw. It has scored 65 points to twelve gained by opponents.

The heavy soft fields and the bad weather have been an important cause of the numerous ties this season. Doane will now go out of the state to test its prowess. On Thanksgiving day it will contend with St. Mary's of Kansas. On a previous occasion it beat this school and should do so again, but no prediction can be made with regard to the result. It will be an interesting contest, as St. Mary's plays a good game.

THANKSGIVING GAME PLANS

Reserved Seats Now on Sale at the Smoke House.

Reserved seats are now on sale at Pa Rourke's Smoke house for the Thanksgiving day football game at Vinton street park between the Omaha high school and the Topeka High school teams. Omaha has cleaned up the best that have come along from Iowa and Missouri, and it now after the scalps of the Jayhawkers. The Topeka team has beaten the strong Washburn college team this year and come with quite a reputation. The Omaha high school has also been playing a fine football game of late, and a fast game is looked for.

A few seats in the west bleachers and in the north end of the grand stand will be reserved for those who may arrive late and wish to reserve their seats, but the majority of the seats will be general admission.

Ben Cherrington will referee the game and C. L. Thomas will umpire.

Pierre Claims Championship.

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—By winning their game with Belle Fourche here Saturday by a score of 20 to 6, the Pierre High school football team closes the season without a single defeat, and claim the state high school championship for this year. About the only team which challenges this is the Aberdeen High school team, which has made a good record.

DIETZ DOWN CONTINENTALS

Crack Local Gridiron Warriors Get Another Game.

The Dietz club eleven added another victory to its long list yesterday afternoon at the Florence park, when it defeated the Continentals by a score of 2 to 0. The Continentals were hand around the field as scoring was concerned, as they only gained three yards twice during the contest, and Wiggins made the distance on these two occasions on end runs. The Continentals had to punt out of danger several times while the Dietz were only forced to punt once during the contest.

In the half Wiggins kicked off to the Dietz, who advanced about five yards. The Continentals were forced to punt. The Dietz recovered the ball on the five yard line. Then the Dietz started a series of line plays, advancing the ball a couple of yards, advancing the ball eight yards before being held for straight up. Then the Dietz went right straight up the field on line smashes for a touchdown. But that was all. Quigley and Edwards kicked off to Quigley, who advanced about thirty yards. After a few more line plays the Dietz were only advanced five yards. Quigley went around the end for twenty-five yards. Then the Dietz steadily advanced a fumble. Wiggins went around the end for thirty yards and the Continentals were forced to punt. During this half Quigley made several long end runs. The Dietz had the ball in the Continentals territory but were unable to score.

For the Continentals Wiggins, Edwards and O'Connell were the stars. For the Dietz O'Connell, Carter, Butler, Nagel and Quigley were always in action, but the whole team worked together, and if longer halve were played the Dietz would have been kicked on the knee, but played the game out. He will probably be out of the game for the rest of the season.

Foot ball's toll of human life is still too great. Twenty-six players have been killed thus far this season. Last season the total was thirteen. It is a sad record. Of these fatalities this year ten are college players, nine high school and seven "others."

Wrestlers are reaping a golden harvest just now, but they are fooling. A lot of sportmen if they do not see the wisdom of correcting certain gum-shoe abuses that have so long afflicted the sport, in the vortex of their prosperity is the time for these gentlemen to take the bull by the horns and run the sport out of business. If this is not done the public will some day try its hand.

There is a possibility of Jimmy Austin being with the St. Louis Browns' next season. Stallings and O'Connell are dickered for New York. But Austin is a good catcher and thinks old Lou Criger would fill the bill. In exchange it is proposed to give Engle or Austin. The Browns don't think much of the trade either way. The Highlanders and the Hawks don't seem to have any material strength to offer. In this connection Joe Vigg of New York says that Austin was discouraged because Stallings made him get left-handed, being a right-handed batter and predicts that in another year Jimmy will show up better at the bat and that anyway Stallings would have a force time trying to supplant Austin at third base. True Austin was originally a right-hander at bat, but before he left Omaha he began to get left-handed at the suggestion of Pa's barkeeper and he was producing good results. But for a year or so he played for the St. Paul company, although he seemed not to get as many hits as he might have. Not well and is so full of stinger and heavy base ball that it seems unlikely he would be slid off without a more thorough test.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

George A. Magney Addresses Presbyterian Brotherhood.

REASONS FOR THANKSGIVING

History of the Day and Its Effect on Mankind are Discussed—Christian Endeavor Concert Tonight.

George Magney of Omaha, assistant county attorney, delivered an address before the Presbyterian Brotherhood last night at Rushing's hall. The threatened storm limited the attendance somewhat, but those who came felt well repaid. The attorney's subject was in keeping with the season—"Some Reasons For Thanksgiving." He said in part: "The custom of giving thanks in some formal way at certain seasons of the year is as old as history. All people have been thrilled with gratitude to the Giver of All for abundant harvests. It remained for the people of our own land to make of the late autumn season a period of thanksgiving and to set apart a day which is being celebrated not only in our land, but is rapidly gaining favor in all lands and will soon be a common link in the brotherhood of nations. "Gratitude is a natural condition of the unspoiled heart. Gratitude and courtesy go farther to endear us to our fellows than any one of our traits. The expression of such costs us nothing and it is well worth while. "Much more should we give thanks to the Father of us all for the abundance of our day."

The program was provided with splendid music by a male quartet consisting of C. E. Campbell, F. A. Brown, J. C. Carley and L. A. Kellogg.

City Detective P. T. Shields returned from Lincoln last night with Harry Davis, whom he had taken to Lincoln to the asylum. The authorities refused to receive the patient, although he had once been an inmate and had been released as cured. He was in the ward for dipomanias first. It appears that the authorities expected to receive the patient, but that his condition was more serious. He could not therefore be returned under the old conditions, but it is necessary to bring him again before the board having jurisdiction in such cases. It is probable that this will be done at once.

William O'Neil Ill at Jail.

William O'Neil was picked up by the police on Monday night. He was intoxicated and had been exposed all of Friday night and Saturday. He is now seriously ill at the city jail. Dr. John Koutsky was called to attend him and he is much afraid the exposure will result in a severe case of pneumonia. The man has a very high temperature and other symptoms indicating the inception of the disease.

Judge Agnew's Assailed Citizens' Petition. Recalling the old school days' appeal, "Woodman, Spare That Tree," A. F. Agnew sends the following letter against the recent action by the Board of Park Commissioners of South Omaha providing for the cutting of a number of trees in Syniac or Spring Lake park. The letter is self-explanatory.

"SOUTH OMAHA, Nov. 20.—To the Editor of The Bee: I think it is a serious mistake to cut so many trees from Spring Lake park. One of the men who is cutting trees told me a few days ago that they intend to cut them, until they are as thin as an Highland park. If such is the intention it will take out at least two-thirds of the trees now standing in the park, and will practically ruin it. I thought the park was bought on account of the many trees standing in it. If grass was what was wanted why did the city not buy the Cassidy tract and seed it down to grass or hay or alfalfa, and not be compelled to go to the trouble of cutting down hundreds of trees? One man said the trees stood so thick that it made the park look like a wild forest. I thought that was what made a park all the more suitable. The nearer a park comes to nature the better. Man never yet has improved on nature, and I do not think he ever will.

"I think stately trees that take many years to grow look much more handsome than a few extra blades of grass that may grow on account of cutting out the trees. "The grass, at best, only lasts a few months of a year, while trees last from year to year, and even leafless trees look much more handsome than a lot of dried up grass for six months of the year. The man who is keeper of the park is a very gentlemanly man, but I think he is making a mistake in cutting out so many trees. Of course it is done by order of the Park board.

"I would rather see a park in its natural wildness as a forest than to see more grass, and I think thousands of other residents of South Omaha will think the same when the matter is called to the attention. Let the handsome trees stand, even though the grass does not grow abundantly, for it will take years to replace them, while the grass can be grown in a few weeks and only lasts a few weeks longer.

"The park can be improved in many other ways than the cutting down of trees. It is all right to cut out the dead trees, but let the live trees stand, even though they may be a little crowded in places. "F. A. AGNEW."

S.S.S. HEALS S.S.S. OLD SORES Every old sore is an external symptom of a depraved or polluted condition of the blood. These festering places on the flesh are kept open and in a state of irritation because the circulation is continually discharging into them the impurities and morbid matters with which it is filled. This polluted condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, which has left the bloodstream weak and germ-infected, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has not all been eliminated and has been absorbed into the circulation. External treatment may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the sore will return or break out at another place and be as bad or worse than before. S.S.S. heals old sores by removing every particle of impurity from the circulation. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and so completely changes the circulation that there is no longer any impurity to drain through the sore, but the place is once more nourished with rich, healthy blood. S.S.S. heals the sore from the bottom, the skin regains its natural color, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the blood the place is permanently healed.
