Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO. Nov. 21.—Renewed iquidation of the December delivery forced wheat to a still lower level nere today, prices at the close showing losses of tage-act to compared with the final quotations of the previous day. Corn closed easy, while oats and provisions were steady.

The December delivery was again subjected to general selling in the wheat pit and as a result the premium on that option, compared with the May delivery, was entirely dissipated at one time, both months selling at $1.06. News of the day was more favorable to the bears and this helped to weaken the market. Several mild rallies occurred, owing to covering by shorts, but the market at no time displayed any great buoyancy. During the day December sold between $1.08 and $1.08% and $1.08% and $1.08% and $1.08% and $1.08% at the close December was at $1.06% and May at $1.06. Increased receipts in the northwest and reports from Argentina claiming that weather conditions in that country were favorable for harvesting were the principal. OMAHA, Nov. 27, 1909.

weather conditions in that country were favorable for harvesting were the principal items contributing to the weakness.

The corn market was weak, Prices at the close were 14014c to 14014c lower than the previous close.

Oats were steady. The market closed steady, with prices 140 lower to 150 higher.

Provisions were strong early to the higher.

bulk of all the hogs sold at $5.0035.05, with $5.05 the popular price for anything possessing quality or weight. The best hogs sold on up to $5.10, the same top as yesterday, while light hogs sold from $5.05 down. All in all, it was a very satisfactory market.

Receipts this week have been practically the same as last week, there being only a few head difference. This means that the number of hogs on sale each day has been one market day less this week than last.

Prices throughout the week have been very satisfactory as viewed from a seller's standpoint, no one excepting buyers having any cause for complaint. The tendency has been steadily upward until at the close the market is 74,200c higher than it was one week ago and the highest of any time since last September.
