DIPLOMATIACS MAKE ESCAPE

Frontier County Citizen Complains of Their Treatment at Lincoln.

LETTER SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

Board Receives Bill of Expense for Visiting Industrial Home—

Bill of Peru Normal Mount Up.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Felix Newton is not the only one charging mismanagement at the Lincoln insane asylum. From Hecolville, Governor Shallenbarger has received the following letter:

"STOCKVILLE, Dec. 8.—Governor A. C. Shallenbarger, Dear Governor: Can something be done to prevent the escape of so many diplomaniacs from the state hospital?"

"October 26, 1938, J. J. Caraway of Curtis, Frontier county, was delivered at the state hospital by order of the Board of Insanity of Frontier county. He escaped, came back to Curtis and was retained by the sheriff of this county and delivered at the state hospital again November 5. The sheriff cautioned those in charge that Caraway would get away if he could. Caraway told the guard in the presence of the sheriff that he would get away at the first opportunity. November 11, he escaped again and was in Curtis November 20.

"Of course you know it is no small expense to send a man to Lincoln from this distance with the sheriff and an assistant and pay his board for three months in advance. The clerk of our district court informs me that two others who were sent down escaped. I have been sent to the state hospital at Lincoln from this county who were found by the board here to be diplomaniacs. Please have this referred to the proper department for the good of the service."

Expenses of Visits Vary.

The Board of Public Lands and Buildings has received the expense account of Mrs. Wilcox, who is a member of the visiting board to the Nebraska Industrial Home, which is interesting in that each trip has cost the state a little more than the one before. The account is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Expense type and Amount. Includes items like 'First visit of inspection', 'Second visit of inspection', etc.

Peru Normal Runs Behind.

The State Normal school at Peru, which for several months has been under the management of the new Normal board, which went bankrupt when brought to the attention of the supreme court, will have to retrench or have a deficiency. For the seven-month period ending in November the board spent for that school out of the maintenance school fund $20,000. This is at the rate of $1.54 a month. There was appropriated for the maintenance of the school for two years $22,000, or $20.66 a month.

Engineer Fatally Hurt.

Two Hook Island switch engines collided in the local yards near the Hoffrage street viaduct today at a curve, and Engineer Green was fatally hurt. He was wedged in the wreckage so that it took rescuers half an hour to extricate him. He has a broken hip and internal injuries. He was able to direct the men who were getting him out.

BISHOP NUELSEN AT FREMONT

Nebraska Methodist Home Missionary Convocation in Session.

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—The Nebraska Methodist home missionary convention is holding its regular session in the local church here this week, with many speakers of note in attendance. Bishop Nuelson is presiding. The principal speaker last evening was Dr. D. D. Vaughan of Chicago. The speaker is in charge of the city mission society. His sermon was on the subject of a strong attack on systems, customs and conditions now prevailing in this country. "Prosperity," he said, "is spoiling the people. When they think of missions it is about those soldiers of religion who go abroad to hearken lands, while they ride in automobiles and leave their hoards of wealth useless in banks. Millions are needed right in this country for the missionary movement." He urged a closer attention to our own social conditions and less of other countries. The church, he said, was not strictly a spiritual body; it was secular and must save the people from the conditions with which they have surrounded themselves.

At the session this morning Dr. Henry J. Collier and W. E. Dougherty of New York were speakers.

Dr. Vaughan also spoke of "The Wolf of the Slum and the Child of the Factory," in which he is more strong and eloquent language than last evening arraigned the system which permits social vice and child labor. He narrated many instances which have come under his personal observation of the dark side of Chicago's slum life, placing the blame on the people at large who allow the social evil to exist and those who benefit by child labor. His addresses have stirred up an unexpected interest among those who heard them. The sessions will last several days.

Books Damaged by a Leaky Roof

Almost Priceless Volumes in State Capitol Library May Be Lost as Result.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Due to a leak in that section of the roof of the state house under which is located the state library, worth probably $200,000, a number of volumes of Pennsylvania statutes, which cannot be replaced, were ruined during the night and morning. About fifty volumes were destroyed or more or less damaged by the water, and before the leak was discovered and the books removed. These statutes were published from 1738 to 1797 and later and were considered very valuable by the librarian. Pennsylvania does not publish biennial compiled statutes like most of the states, so the books were of great value. It is necessary to have all the numbers.

H. C. Lindsay, librarian, appeared before both the 1937 legislature and the late legislature asking for an appropriation that would build a wing of a new state house in which to house the library and he has been successful in getting the legislature to appropriate $200,000 for the purpose. The legislature is in constant danger from fire and, as has been demonstrated today, from a leaky roof. Hundreds of the books in the library would not be replaced at any price, but the legislature failed to see the economy in protecting a priceless lot of books by the expenditure of a few thousand dollars.

The question will be put up to the next legislature and by that time Mr. Lindsay has enough persons in the state well sufficiently interested to get some results.

MYSTERY IN FIRE AT UNION

Fire Marshal Visits City to Investigate Cause.

UNION, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—All of the business firms wiped out by fire last Monday morning have opened again and the proprietors are fast getting things in shape. A. E. Stiles & Co. have opened a drug store in the new Banning building. Lewis Curtis, a barber, has opened a shop in the Upton building and the Union Ledger has secured a building and the paper will be issued as usual. The loss caused by the fire is between $15,000 and $20,000. A fire inspector employed by the state was here today investigating the matter and the intention is to ascertain the cause of the blaze.

This makes the third fire here within the last eighteen months and there is a mystery how the fires started. It is the intention of all to see that the matter is sifted to the bottom.

SALOON AT LINDSAY BURNS

New Stock Destroyed, Loss Being About $5,000.

LINDSAY, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—This morning L. G. Winkler's moon burned to the ground. Mrs. Reeva discovered the fire a little before 4 o'clock. If the building had not been covered with sheet iron the adjoining buildings would also have burned. L. G. Winkler estimates his loss at about $5,000. The insurance about $2,000. The building was a total loss and the new stock was also a total loss. Mr. Winkler had recently closed the deal whereby he became sole owner, the firm being formerly known as P. P. Reids & Company.

Frontier County Agricultural Society.

STOCKVILLE, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—The Frontier County Agricultural society held its twenty-third annual meeting here at the court house this afternoon. The report of Loyd M. Graham, superintendent of the collective exhibit from this county to the state fair, showed that this county was awarded $126.46 for its county exhibit and a number of premiums were awarded to individuals of the county. The report of the secretary, H. H. Cheney, showed that a number of substantial improvements had been made upon the fair grounds during the last year. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, J. T. C. Harman; secretary, Dr. E. S. Casey; treasurer, L. H. Cheney; superintendent of speed, J. A. Lynch; general superintendent, L. M. Graham; marshal, Robert Richey; superintendent state fair exhibit, W. O. Hickman; directors, W. C. Wolan, J. H. Higgins, C. C. Harman, G. E. Orsag and J. W. Bliss; delegate to annual meeting, State Agricultural society, Loyd M. Graham.

Athletic Club at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—The Beatrice Athletic club was organized last evening by the election of the following officers: J. R. Ellis, president; Dr. H. J. Toepfer, first vice president; J. W. Mackintosh, second vice president; Clinton Morrison, secretary; treasurer; Walter Jessup, sergeant-at-arms. A committee on by-laws and constitution comprising J. R. Ellis, J. W. Mackintosh and John Van Buskirk, was appointed, and another meeting will be held when the committee is ready to report. The club starts out with a good membership. Its headquarters will be located in the Bradt building on lower Court street.

Official Changes at Albion.

ALBION, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Three changes will take place in the county officials the first of the year. Thomas King will succeed F. F. Furr as county treasurer. Miss Hanna Johnson will succeed F. M. Hoffman as superintendent of schools and Mike Casper will succeed J. A. Pitchford as county commissioner. The following officers will succeed themselves: Ed Evans, sheriff; O. E. Walters, county clerk; and Charles Riley, county judge.

Second Trial Must Proceed.

BEATRICE, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—In the Chamberlain case today Judge Travis overruled the motion in the plea-in-bar filed by the attorneys for the defense, who held that the proceedings were irregular in discharging the jury last week on account of the illness of Juror Thomas Bigley. The decision of the court means that the case will have to be tried here again for the second time. The jury for the case is now being impaneled.

Edgar Livery Stable Burns.

EDGAR, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Fire in the N. A. Barker livery barn about 12:30 last night destroyed the building. A young man sleeping in the barn gave the alarm and got the horses all out by the time the fire company arrived. One buggy, slightly damaged by fire, was saved. The total value of the building and its contents is estimated at $5,000. The twenty-four horses were returned at $1,000 and the insurance was $2,000.

Narrow Escape from Blase.

FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—The Franklin block had a close call from fire last night. The blaze started in the basement from defective covering of some water pipes and the basement and building were filled with smoke before it was

Half-Minute Store-Talk

A man wanted a coat for his boy. One of our salesmen invited him to come here and look. He said, "No—this store was too high class for him." Two days later he came and purchased a coat—He then hunted up his friend, the salesman, and said: "Well, I was all over town and what few suitable coats I saw in other stores were $7.50 or so, couldn't pay it. In desperation I came here. I found the biggest line in town and the coat I wanted at $4.25. I saved at least $2.50 and hereafter I'm going to the best store first and save time and money. All of which proves the old saying: 'The longest way round is the shortest way home.'"

STOUT PLEADS SELF-DEFENSE

Beginning of His Trial for Murder of Joseph Richeson.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Late today a jury was finally secured to try Ernest Stout, charged with the murder of August 13, of Joseph Richeson of Hastings. Four of the jurors are citizens of Wood River village, business and tradesmen, and eight are farmers from the western part of the county, remote from the scene of the crime which was near Doniphan. The jury was sworn and stated their respective cases and only a beginning was made in taking testimony when court adjourned till tomorrow.

Carl Anderson, who was stacking hay for Stout at the time and was in the field at the time the murder was committed, was the first witness. Direct examination was not completed. The defense will plead that Richeson was the aggressor in a sudden quarrel and that Stout acted in self defense.

Aldrich Giving Lectures.

DAVID CITY, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—C. H. Aldrich left here this morning for a week's lecture tour under the management of the University extension department. He will go as far west as Benningman, lecturing at Hastings and McCook enroute. He returns to Omaha December 18, where he will give a talk at the banquet of the Ohio club giving.

Building Attacks Girl.

BUTTON, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Gassella Nuss, while on the way to church Sunday evening was attacked by a bull dog which bit her in the back. The wound is a large and painful one, but as she had medical treatment immediately it is believed it will not prove serious.

Train Blocked by Snow.

BUTTON, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Burlington train No. 19 was unable to reach its destination at Fairfield last night, owing to snow on the track. The steam locomotive came as far as Button today and returned without completing its run to Alma.

Strange Disease of Horses.

TILDEN, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—A new disease has appeared among horses in Antelope county that baffles all the veterinary surgeons. During the sickness of the animals the pulse and temperature are both normal at all times. Veterinary Surgeon Mathews of Neligh has thoroughly examined several of the dead horses and found its organs in excellent condition. He says further, it is a germ disease and contagious, as reports are arriving daily from the extreme part of the county of the dying off of horses in large numbers.

Nebraska News Notes.

BEATRICE—The coldest weather of the season prevails here at present. The temperature yesterday morning was 8 degrees below zero.

BEATRICE—Rabbits are very plentiful in this locality. Gustave Brandt, living north of the city, shot a few. He killed twenty-three "cotton-tails" and three "jacks" in three hours.

STEELE—Monday evening the town board was advised of a fifty-year franchise to an electric lighting company, capitalized mainly by home financiers. The matter was taken under consideration.

BEATRICE—Mrs. Rebecca Barr died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. B. Reddick in West Colfax, where she had been living with for some time, aged 72 years. The body will be taken to Coosville, Ill.

BEATRICE—Charles Godbey and Walter Kelley, two plumbers in the employ of C. G. Pyle, were overcome by gas yesterday while working in the city jail building. They were removed to their homes, where they recovered after a few hours' illness.

BEATRICE—The story concerning the escape of Edna Egan from the city jail at Wynora last week by picking the lock with a fork was leaked yesterday when Constable Monroe Adams admitted he had left the keys in the door when he went up town.

HASTINGS—The Scottish Rite bodies of the Masonic order, today began their twentieth annual reunion. Degrees will be conferred from the fourth to the thirtieth inclusive. The Masons are here from throughout the state.

FREMONT—The mercury this morning stood at 9 below zero, according to the official report, though many instruments made it several degrees lower. The roads in the country are still in a very bad condition and the supply of hay and horse feed is getting very scarce. It is impossible to haul scarcely half a load.

DAVID CITY—Last night was the coldest yet for this time of the year that has ever been experienced in this section. In twenty years, the thermometer registering 12 degrees below zero. The roads about town have improved but to some extent that days were able to be on the streets yesterday afternoon, the first time since Saturday.

DESHER—A deal was closed here today whereby E. V. Lewis, formerly of the World-Herald, has purchased the office and building, buying them of James Pontus together with Mr. Pontus' interest in the World-Herald bank building at this place. Mr. Lewis expects to continue the business as one of the leading democratic papers in this part of the state. Mr. Pontus has not decided what he will do.

HASTINGS—The Adams county bridge contract for 1940 was yesterday awarded to the Standard Bridge and Construction Co. at prices much lower than any quoted for work here for several years. A number of bidders who had not previously competed for the contract entered the field, but the Standard was far below them all. The prices on the various items of work construction are as follows: Superstructure per lineal foot, $2.90 to $3.50; red cedar piles in place per cubic yard, 20 cents; concrete out old lumber, per 1,000 feet, $3.00; replacing old lumber, $5.00.

BEATRICE—Dr. Johnson, the Lincoln physician, who is under arrest on the charge of performing a criminal operation on the late Miss Amanda Bushler, formerly lived in Wynora. He is well known here. A few years ago while a resident of that place, Rev. Mr. Benbrook, also of Lincoln, who was then a resident of Wynora, had some trouble with the doctor, which resulted in the preacher shouting several times at him. The shocker occurred in a store and the physician saved himself by dodging down behind the counter.

NEW SCHOOLS ASK FOR BIDS

Grinnell and Creighton Would Join Big Seven.

CORNHUSKERS ARE OPPOSED

Iowa Schools, Nebraska Believes, Already Held Too Much Power—Annual Banquet for Foot Ball Players.

LINCOLN, Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Grinnell college of Iowa and Creighton university of Omaha are seeking admission to membership in the Missouri Valley conference, and are asking that the representatives of the "Big Seven" take some action on their petition at the conference meeting in January. Grinnell has been knocking at the conference door for over a year, but Creighton has just made a request to get into the league.

The athletic board of Grinnell college has been sounding the various schools in the conference on the question of allowing the Iowa school to get into the organization. The board eventually there will be no need of dormitories at Hastings college, the town being relied to furnish accommodations for the greatly increased number of students which will undoubtedly flock there after the merger of the two schools is accomplished. It is also expected the debt of something like $100,000, now resting on the college, will be easily cared for, with but one school in the field for contributions, and that a substantial addition to the endowment fund can also be readily secured.

Nebraska, one of the most influential members of the conference, is not decidedly opposed to increasing the size of the "Big Seven" by the admission of one or two other schools, but it is set against any policy that will take in another Iowa school without giving membership to some college of another state. Nebraska thinks that too much power is now vested in the Iowa schools of the conference, there being three schools of that state in the league.

Iowa Has Much Power. This trio of schools, Iowa, Drake and Ames has been able to control considerable legislation of the conference, and the addition of another Hawkeye school would nearly give the Iowa colleges complete sway in the association. The combine by which the Iowa schools forced action on the training table was extremely distasteful to the Cornhuskers, and they have decided upon a policy that will tend to keep Grinnell college out of the league unless another school can be taken in at the same time to balance up the power of the colleges outside of Iowa.

The Nebraska athletic board, which determines the vote of its representative to the "Big Seven," would be willing to permit Grinnell to join the conference if Washburn college of Kansas could be taken in at the same time. If the other members of the league would consent to the double admission the little Iowa school could probably get into the organization.

But the other members of the conference are not as willing to allow the conference to expand as the Cornhuskers are, and they object to increasing the membership by even one. Grinnell has found both Kansas and Missouri opposed to any increase in the membership of the league.

It has been suggested, since Nebraska is willing to vote for the joint admission of Grinnell and another school, that Creighton be permitted to go in as the second member. The Cornhuskers have declared that they would consider such a proposition just long enough to vote it down. Missouri and Kansas have hinted that they would stand by Nebraska in this matter.

The annual Cornhusker banquet for the foot ball eleven was held at the Lincoln hotel this evening. About 200 people were present. J. E. Miller presided as toastmaster and short talks were made by Captain Helzer, Dr. Lees, Doan Richards and Prof. Caldwell.

The Home of Quality Clothes

Overcoat Prices that mean a real saving to you!

When this store places a price on an Overcoat, that price carries with it an unconditional guarantee to be lower than the price asked for a coat of like quality in any other store in the U. S.

We select all the fabrics for our coats at first hand, then they are made for us according to our own specifications. These two points give us considerable advantage over other stores. The fact that this store shows and sells twice as many overcoats as any other store is an added advantage—according to the business law—"As a merchant buys so can a merchant sell." Take these things into consideration, it will mean several dollars saved and give you an overcoat you'll not regret buying, as we are just as particular about the kind of overcoat we sell as you are about the kind you buy.

Every one sold with a money back guarantee to be superior in every way to any coat you can get in any other store at $3.00 to $10.00 advance over our price.

COLLEGE MERGER A SURPRISE

(Continued from First Page.) carefully prepared and elaborate report of the educational commission was referred back to the men who had spent so much labor in investigating and in framing the report. After conference, they presented, in lieu of their first report and recommendations the supplemental report printed in The Bee, which was adopted.

Fifty-Acre Campus. Bellevue college, which will thus, within a year, become merged with Hastings college, has a fifty-acre campus, with 217 additional acres of high class farm land. It occupies a magnificent site and has some modern dormitories and, if placed on sale, is expected to be in demand at high price.

Hastings college is situated a short distance from the business center of the Adams county metropolis. It has one very fine new dormitory and a new library furnished from the Carnegie fund. Its main building is in pretty fair condition, and one other building is on the campus, a dormitory, which is of ancient type. It is hoped that eventually there will be no need of dormitories at Hastings college, the town being relied to furnish accommodations for the greatly increased number of students which will undoubtedly flock there after the merger of the two schools is accomplished. It is also expected the debt of something like $100,000, now resting on the college, will be easily cared for, with but one school in the field for contributions, and that a substantial addition to the endowment fund can also be readily secured.

Commission in Charge. The synod further recommended the following resolutions: "First, that the synod appoint a commission of twelve members to act for the synod until the date of the next annual meeting in all matters pertaining to the colleges of the synod.

"Second, that the synod's executive commission be instructed to include in its budget of benevolences for the current year a sum equal to 30 cents per member for the college board, to be paid to the synodical treasurer and disbursed by him as the college commission may direct, which sums so paid shall be reported to the college board for credit to the individual churches.

"Third, that the stated clerk advise the pastors of this act of the synod and request them to preach upon the subject of 'Christian Education' and urge their people to support the synodical college.

"Fourth, that we ask the college board to co-operate in the adjustment of the union of the two institutions.

"Fifth, that the endowment of the united institution be not less than $500,000." The resolutions were all passed by the synod without a dissenting vote and the utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed.

Men Taking Action. The commission making the report was appointed at the regular meeting of the Nebraska synod, held at Minden last October. This commission consisted of the following elders: W. M. Davidson, L. L. D., Omaha; Rev. M. V. Higbee, D. D., Omaha; Rev. Samuel Light, Randolph; Rev. Frank P. Wigdon, D. D., Elgin; H. V. P. Bogus, Alliance; James G. Clark, Mitchell; L. C. McEwan, Kearney; J. G. Graham, Grand Island; C. W. Weyer, Hastings; F. G. Keaver, Nelson; W. W. Lawrence and F. G. Mason, Lincoln.

The decision contained in the resolution was reached after a long session beginning at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and lasting until 10 o'clock at night. For many years it has been the feeling of the synod that it was a mistake in establishing and trying to maintain the two colleges. By the action taken it will create one strong institution from two weak ones.

Increases on Iowa Central.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—The Iowa Central today closed wage schedules for the coming twelve months with its boilermakers, machinists, blacksmiths and car shop workers in this and the other points on its line. By the new schedules the employees receive increases in wages ranging from 1 to 2 cents an hour. Over 900 men in the shops here, the terminals at Albert Lea and Peris, and the division points, Mason City, Okaloosa and Keithsburg, Ia., and Mountmouth, Ill., are affected.

Stumbles and Shoots Himself.

BLACKHAWK, Ia., Dec. 8.—(Special.)—Stumbling and accidentally discharging the shotgun he was carrying as he left the barn at his home, Egbert Letvetow, aged 35 years, unintentionally sent the charge of shot crashing through his brain and tearing away part of his skull. Death was instantaneous. The young man went to the barn for a moment after leaving the house. The report of the gun from so close by attracted members of the family, who found Letvetow dead.
