The opinion of the president's message, said: "The three strongest points in the presi issue, either by its own action or by pinc- dent's message are the plea for economy ing the issue before the voters next demand for immediate action in the passage of a postal savings bank bill and his interpretation of the powers of the tariff board created by the last tariff bill. "Under this interpretation, President Taft believes the present tariff board to be in a position to secure the facts necessary to an intelligent revision of the tariff, such as I hoped to secure through a permanent tariff commission.

"The president is entirely right in demanding that the postal savings bank bill be taken up at this session of congress. The party is committed to the passage of such law and what is the use of delay? Reports from the treasury show that economy in administration of the government is vital and I am giad to see the president take such a pronounced stand in his first message.
