Towne Anxious to Be Defender of Guaranty Law

New Yorker Writes to Mr. Bryan and to Governor, but Engagement Not Yet Made.

From a Staff Correspondent.) United States Senator Charles A. Towns of New York has not yet been engaged by the state of Nebraska to present the bank guaranty case to the United States supreme court, notwithstanding reports to that ef-

Senator Towne wants the job, though He has written to Mr. Bryan and to Governor Shallenberger regarding the matter and Mr. Bryan is anxious to employ the New York corporation attorney to represent the state. But up to this time there has been nothing definite done regarding the matter. Governor Shallenberger would like also to employ Senator Towne, but he is not so sure about the state agreeing or what would be considered a reasonable fee

Speaker Pool, who published the report of the engagement of Senator Towns, said he did not get his information from the governor, but had read it in a Washingdispatch, so it is presumed here that Senator Towne himself gave out the in-

"Senator Towne has not been employed, said the governor, "though he is very anxious to represent the atate in the case, and he has written to me and to Mr. Bryan regarding it. Mr. Bryan is vary favorable o the proposition to employ him and I believe it would be a good thing. Senator Towne believes the case is of great importance and he is anxious to take part

The bank guaranty law was enacted by the recent legislature following a promise on the part of Mr. Bryan and other demo eratic candidates that they would enact a law which would guarantee the deposits of bank patrons. The law was passed and it losses were to be paid. The deposits amounted to some $65,000,000. The levy would raise not to exceed $650,000 a year.

The law was declared unconstitutional by the federal court and preparations are now being made to appeal it. C. O. Whedon employment to help the attorney general.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Dec. 11 .- (Spe cial.)-The first week of the December term of the district court ended Saturday the week being taken up with the criminal cases. The first case was that of state against Frank Boyer, charged with a criminal assault upon a woman from Lexington Neb. Fifteen minutes after the case was given to the jury they rendered a verdict of acquittal. The next case was that of state against Charles Wallingford, charged with cattle stealing. This case consumed nearly three days' time in its trial and at the close the court instructed the jury to render a verdict of not guilty. the evidence merely going to show Wallingford an accessory to the crime and he was charged as a principal. There are a number of other cases wherein Charles Wallingford and Lee Johnson are charged with stealing, but these will not be tried until the next term of court. Monday morning the court and jury will begin the trial of civil suits, which will probably take up the week.

Sunkist Flour is different from ordinary flour

Sunkist is made from plump, sweet wheat. But not all the flour made from this wheat is Sunkist. Only the best part of the flour-the very cream-is packed in Sunkist sacks. The rest—the part that is poorer in nutritive elements—goes into jute sacks and is exported. That is why Sunkist Flour is so superior to most flours—why each sack makes four to six more loaves,—and better bread, too.
