FARM IMPLEMENTS TO RISE

Prices Will Advance Because Materials Are Scarce

SO ASSERTS OHIO TRADESMAN

W. S. Thomas of Springfield says that the nation will not see an improvement in the price of farm implements until the winter of 1910. He says that the price of materials is so high that the manufacturers will not be able to produce them at a profit.

There was never a time when it was harder to get materials for the manufacture of implements than at the present time. The price of iron and steel is so high that the manufacturers will not be able to produce them at a profit. The price of lumber is also so high that the manufacturers will not be able to produce them at a profit.

The price of farm implements will rise in the winter of 1910. This is because the price of materials is so high that the manufacturers will not be able to produce them at a profit.

Christmas Week of Mail.—The Christmas mail rush is beginning to manifest itself and package weathers have been established in the main for the accommodation of the public. The post-office authorities ask that those contemplating sending Christmas packages get them in early in order to avoid the usual congestion of the day or two preceding Christmas.

George Hartman at Rest.—The funeral of the late Oscar Hartman, a pioneer Omaha resident, whose death occurred Saturday night after an extended illness, was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services were conducted at the home, 1502 Locust street, by Rev. Adolph Beck, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran Immanuel church. Interment was made in Forest Lawn cemetery. The funeral cortege was a large one. Mr. Hartman having had a large acquaintance, especially among the Finnish and Swedish residents of the city.

Other Charges for Barger and Coleman.—Jesse Barger, alleged accomplice of Clifford E. Coleman in recent holdups, to which Coleman has confessed, implicating Barger, was arraigned in police court, charged with another information, the robbery of Albert Freeman at the point of a revolver in the night of November 11, when Freeman was relieved of $2,000. As in the other cases against him, Barger waived examination and was held for trial in district court, bail being fixed in the sum of $200. There are several other charges likely to be preferred against Coleman and Barger.

Owner Plans in Trouble.—Creditors of the owner of the Omaha Union and poultry club of Talmadge, McCoy & Co. of Omaha have filed a petition in the United States district court asking that the firm be declared bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are the Northern Order company, J. T. Meier's Dry Goods company, Sealright Over system, W. E. Hoyt & Sons, W. W. Ballard and James Hall, whose aggregate claims amount to $12,823. The petition claims that Talmadge, McCoy & Co. committed an act of bankruptcy of preferring other creditors to the payment of certain claims in the partition of the interests of the partnership. Judge H. Jones of Omaha has been appointed receiver of the concern on the basis of the petitioning creditors.

HERE'S ONE ON DICK GROTT

THAT IS REALLY THE TRUTH

Dusky Belles of Darktown Chime Merely—Out His Name and Have Him Goosing.

Dick Grotts of Building Inspector Wilhelm's staff, came mighty near getting into deep trouble when he went to the new site bought for the Ben Bleumit company to order the removal of the colored women now occupying houses on the site. One of the houses is the old Randall Brown home, and the two residences have been abandoned to the present residents for a long time.

"Come in, honey man," was the salutation one ponderous woman gave Grotts when he knocked on the door. "Come right in, baby," she continued, placing a chair. "No, thank you," murmured Grotts, blushing like an idiot. "I just came to serve notice that you must get out. These houses are going to be torn down."

"Daddy, honey, we can't get out later than this deep snow, an' you jest know we can't," said the unfashioned fat woman.

"But you must," insisted the handsome understudy for the city building inspector. "We have got to clear this property at once."

"Now, honey, yo' all wouldn't want to—"

"Oh, you Dick," sang out another dusky charmer from the house next door. "What for yo' don't come to see me first?"

"Who the black spickery are you?" answered Grotts, frowning at the liberty taken with his baptismal name. "Why, yo' all sho' know me, Mr. Dick," retorted the taunting one. "Don't yo' 'member me? Why, I've known yo' all since many a long day."

"Well, I don't know you," shouted Mr. Dick, and I don't want to know you. But you just take this paper, and let me tell you it means get out, and do it fast, too, or we'll bust you out."

Then Grotts hastened to serve his papers, seeing other fearless-faced colored ladies gathering. When he got to the corner of the street he easily spotted the source of the knowledge apparently possessed by the character woman who had tried to get him. There stood two of his friends who had got ahead of him and posted the woman he was to visit, on official business.

He will secure the part of the equipment at once. Station No. 14, Twenty-second and Ames avenue and station No. 15 is at Twenty-first and Lake streets.

The two station houses were completed ready for service about two years ago, but have not been opened on account of the deficiency of the equipment. The equipment at once. Station No. 14, Twenty-second and Ames avenue and station No. 15 is at Twenty-first and Lake streets.

CHANG YING TANG GOES THROUGH OMAHA

New Chinese Minister to Washington Delayed by Bad Weather on Way East.

Chang Yin Tang, the Chinese minister to the United States who established country-wide attention Sunday when he left $20 for the railroad call boys and bell boys in San Francisco, did not have the opportunity of flinging party goods up in Omaha.

The Chinese minister passed through the city during the small hours of Wednesday morning in a special train enroute to Washington. He was accompanied by his wife and had a hundred prominent Chinese, including the official members of his party from the orient and notable men from the Pacific slope.

Chang's special left San Francisco Sunday as a second section of the Los Angeles Limited. According to schedule the train was due to reach Omaha before midnight, but at Omaha the limited was reported three hours behind time, owing to the three winter.

Charles Brockman, traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific railroad, left Omaha Sunday to meet the train at Omaha. The special is made up of one dynamo and baggage car, one ordinary baggage coach, two Pullman sleeping cars, a dining and a combination parlor and observation car.

From Omaha the train was routed to Chicago over the Northwestern line and is in charge of Special Chinese Agent Henry King of the Windy City. The party will continue on to Washington over the Pennsylvania line.

CHINESE POPULATION HERE

Subject Draws to Omaha Immigration District and Inspector for the Present.

G. S. Merrill of St. Louis, assistant immigration inspector, is in Omaha looking over the field for this district in the matter of prospective increase of the Chinese population of Omaha. The Nebraska district has been recently transferred from the Colorado district to the St. Louis division, and all business pertaining to the Nebraska district will be controlled from St. Louis hereafter instead of from Denver, Kansas and Oklahoma have also been transferred to the St. Louis division. A few years ago these districts were under the jurisdiction of the Nebraska officers, with headquarters in Omaha, but were subsequently changed to the Colorado district, with headquarters at Denver.

Charles Peterson, a member of fire company at engine house No. 1, was accepted by President Reagan.

James H. Garfield, former secretary of the Interior, will speak upon "Law and the Public Welfare" at the meeting in Omaha Christmas week of the Nebraska State Bar association. Mr. Garfield is a lawyer as well as a reformer and his address is expected to be vigorous.

The official program for the meeting which is the tenth annual, has been sent out by President Francis A. Reagan. It will extend over Tuesday and Wednesday, December 15 and 16, and the Commercial club rooms will be headquarters. The assembly room on the second floor of the same building will be used for the official gathering.

President Reagan will give his address Tuesday afternoon, Justice C. B. Latta of the state supreme court will be heard next morning and Mr. Garfield that afternoon. The annual dinner will take place in the evening of Wednesday at the Home. The Omaha Bar association will give a smoker at the Commercial club Tuesday night.

CO-OPERATIVE GRAIN AND STOCK MEN PLAN THEIR MEETING

Will Hold Their Convention in Lincoln Two Days of Next Month.

The board of directors of the Farmers Co-operative Grain and Live Stock Association held a meeting at the Paxton Tuesday morning to arrange the program for the meeting to be held in Lincoln, January 20 and 21. There are 20 members of this association in Nebraska.

"We are seven years old as an organization," said G. G. Smith of Kearney, president, "and are beginning to talk. We have had a lot of work to do and organizing has helped us out a lot. We have asked the railroad to keep out of the grain business and we have succeeded pretty well."

The association expects to get James J. Hill of the Great Northern to address the meeting at Lincoln, and members of the board held a conference with L. W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, during his visit in Omaha's Corn exposition last week.

Governor Shallenberger and ex-Congressman F. J. Hall of the First district will be among those who will address the association meeting at Lincoln.

BELLEVUE PUPILS AGAINST COMBINE

Student Body of College Unanimously Adopts Resolution Against Hastings Merger.

The Bellevue college student body is heartily opposed to any merger of Bellevue and Hastings colleges. The students of the local institutions were on record at a mass meeting, the purpose of calling when was to make clear this hostility to the merger. The following resolution to the trustees was unanimously adopted:

"First—We are unanimously opposed to such a union.

"Second—Those graduating this year will be immediately deprived of their alma mater.

"Third—Many of those expecting to graduate after this year will be forced to leave school and in many cases will never finish their education.

"Fourth—We deplore the loss of traditions, memories and the spirit of Bellevue, which has been almost a part of our being and which would inevitably be destroyed by the proposed union.

"Fifth—Our president, Dr. Steiner, holds the respect, admiration and love of every student in the college. Steiner would lose to us and also the loss of members of our faculty to whom we are equally attached and for whose removal it for us, otherwise, we would be opposed to it.

"Sixth—Finally, we are fully aware that the merger can take place in some way or means out of the willing of Bellevue and Hastings but the death of Bellevue, under a clear God, for Hastings and the University of Omaha. The spirit of Bellevue and Hastings cannot be united and merged in the University of Omaha and Bellevue are not the same.
