Candidates Begin to File for Municipal Offices.

JERRY HOWARD MAKES SPEECH

Cells Why He Shoud Be Elected Mayor of the Downtrodden-Swifts Dislike Damage Finding.

After two years of rumination over the political game, local politicians of South Omaha are beginning to arise from the tall grass and listen for the breath of public favor.

Candidates for the municipal election have begun to file. At the head of the list is Jeremiah Howard, who filed for the office of mayor. Jerry became indignant when he was asked on what ticket he intended to run. "Phwat but th' one on which I waz elicted before, to be snure," he said. He was put down a democrat.

Frank N. Good has filed as democratic candidate for city clerk. He is employed in the office of County Attorney James English. He will be opposed for the nomina tion by Ed P. Roggen, who has also filed as a democrat.

John J. Gillin, the present city clerk, has filed for the office of treasurer on the democratic ticket. It is expected that he will have strong opposition for the nomination in the democratic ranks.

S. L. Winters has filed for th
