Paulhan is the idol of the crowd tonight. He made his great record shortly after losing the speed record of the course to Labo Glenn H. Curtiss.

The Frenchman, using an engine that had 15,500 constantly in the limelight all the after- qualifying flight, but came down after an noon. He had circled the course again and 450 again, skidded and dipped and swung corners in daring fashion that made his circle of the field by Curties with Harmon wife shiver.

Conditions Are Ident.

The sun was low toward the sea and the shadows had begun to gather when he made his decision to go higher in the air than any mun in a beavier than air nachine ever had attempted. The wind barely stirred. Cortland E.

Bishop, president of the Aero Club of Kansas America, stood in front of the judge's stand enthusiastic over the beautiful scene that stretched out before him. "I never saw such perfect weather for aviation," he remarked, "We ought to have the altitude record broken today." A minute later Paulhan rose in the air, He bent low his gray-capped head and Curtiss Sets Course Record. At 2 o'clock things began to happen. The balloons and the dirigibles driven by Knabenschue and Beachey crowded over the course. Two Curtiss machines were dragged to the white-marked starting place.

A band played walts music and the official starters and markers took their places, Then the silent Curtiss stepped from his tent and the megaphone announced that he would try for the speed roord of the course. Clad immaculately, with a golfing cap pulled low over his eyes, he took a sent and gave the signal.
